Marxist Models Of Literary Realism:

Marxist Models of Literary Realism George Bisztray, 1978      The A to Z of Marxism David Walker, Daniel Gray, 2009-08-13 Marxism one of the few philosophies that turned into an effective movement not so long ago was the official ideology in one form or another of much of humanity It was promulgated initially by the Soviet Union then imposed on much of Central and Eastern Europe later emerged in the People s Republic of China and gradually spread to other parts of Asia and even bits of Africa and Latin America Although declining in its initial popularity it still remains strong in several countries and is supported by numerous communist and other parties and countless individuals around the world The A to Z of Marxism covers the history of Marxism and all its thinkers and schools of thought in a comprehensive manner This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross reference dictionary entries on basic terms and concepts significant thinkers and doers and also the parties and countries that followed it      A Marxist Theory of Literary Tragedy Philip Makler, 1979      Historical Dictionary of Marxism Elliott Johnson, David Walker, Daniel Gray, 2014-09-09 The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Marxism covers of the basics of Karl Marx s thought the philosophical contributions of later Marxist theorists and the extensive real world political organizations and structures his work inspired that is the myriad political parties organizations countries and leaders who subscribed to Marxism as a creed This text includes a chronology an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities both thinkers and doers political parties and movements and major communist or ex communist countries This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Marxism      Realist film theory and cinema Ian Aitken, 2019-01-04 Realist film theory and cinema embraces studies of cinematic realism and 19th century tradition the realist film theories of Luk cs Grierson Bazin and Kracauer and the relationship of realist film theory to the general field of film theory and philosophy This is the first book to attempt a rigorous and systematic application of realist film theory to the analysis of particular films The book suggests new ways forward for a new series of studies in cinematic realism and for a new form of film theory based on realism It stresses the importance of the question of realism both in film studies and in contemporary life Aitken s work will be of interest to scholars and advanced students of film studies literary studies media studies cultural studies and philosophy      Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels (RLE Marxism) Cecil L. Eubanks, 2015-04-17 The project to publish the works of Marx and Engels continues and this book published in 1984 puts together a comprehensive bibliography of their works either written in or translated into English including books monographs articles chapters and doctoral dissertations together with the works of their interpreters The inclusion of the secondary literature makes this a particularly valuable bibliography and contributes greatly to the understanding of the thought of Marx and Engels      Lukácsian film theory and cinema Ian Aitken, 2021-06-15 Luk csian film theory and cinema explores Georg Luk cs writings on film The Hungarian Marxist critic

Georg Lukács is primarily known as a literary theorist but he also wrote extensively on the cinema. These writings have remained little known in the English speaking world because the great majority of them have never actually been translated into English until now. Aitken has gathered together the most important essays and the translations appear here often for the first time. This book thus makes a decisive contribution to understandings of Lukács within the field of film studies and in doing so also challenges many existing preconceptions concerning his theoretical position. For example, whilst Lukács literary theory is well known for its repudiation of naturalism, in his writings on film Lukács appears to advance a theory and practice of film that can best be described as naturalist. Lukácsian film theory and cinema is divided into two parts. In part one, Lukács writings on film are explored and placed within relevant historical and intellectual contexts, whilst part two consists of the essays themselves. This book will be of considerable interest to scholars and students working within the fields of film studies, literary studies, intellectual history, media and cultural studies. It is also intended to be the final volume in a trilogy of works on cinematic realism, which includes the author's earlier European film theory and cinema (2001) and Realist film theory and cinema (2006).

European Literature from Romanticism to Postmodernism Martin Travers, 2006-08-15. An anthology of key theoretical writings by the major representatives of the schools and movements of European literature. Each chapter in this book is devoted to one particular school of movement, from within a body of literature from romanticism, realism and modernism, through to the literature of political engagement of the 1920s and 1930s.

Marxism and African Literature Georg M. Gugelberger, 1986.

The Marxist Theory Of Art Dave Laing, 2019-07-11. This book is intended as a structured presentation of the major ideas of the most important trends of thought in the Marxist theory of art and is constructed as a map of the field of Marxist aesthetics.

Modern Literary Theory, a Comparative Introduction Ann Jefferson, David Robey, 1982. The aim of this book is to provide within the compass of a single volume an introduction to the major developments in this field that have taken place during the twentieth century in Europe and North America. The authors explain the assumptions of these theories concerning the nature of literature and criticism, showing how they relate to one another and linking them to the general issues raised by all critical practice. In succeeding chapters, the book considers individual theorists and schools, focusing in turn on Russian Formalism, modern linguistics, post-structuralism, modern psychoanalytic criticism and Marxist theories. For readers who wish to pursue further their study of particular theories, selected bibliographies are provided at the end of each chapter.

From publisher's description: Modernity in East-West Literary Criticism Yoshinobu Hakutani, 2001. This collection of eleven essays concerns the movement of modernity in East-West literary criticism. Most of the contributions address particular cross-cultural relationships, such as W.B. Yeats's interest in the Noh play, Ezra Pound's imagism and the influence of Zen aesthetics on Western poetry. The Western writers discussed range from Americans including Emerson, Thoreau, Faulkner, Wright and Snyder to Europeans such as Marcel Proust. The Eastern writers include Bashō, Tanizaki, Lao Tzu, Wan Wei, Tagore and Yone Noguchi.

Marxism and Totality

Martin Jay, 1984 Totality has been an abiding concern from the first generation of Western Marxists most notably Lukács, Korsch, Gramsci and Bloch through the second exemplified by the Frankfurt School, Lefebvre, Goldmann, Sartre, Merleau-Ponty and Della Volpe up to the most recent typified by Althusser, Colletti and Habermas. Yet no consensus has been reached concerning the term's multiple meanings: expressive, decentered, longitudinal, latitudinal, normative or its implications for other theoretical and practical matters. By closely following the adventures of this troublesome but central concept, Marxism Totality offers an unconventional account of the history of Western Marxism. Realism and theories in England (1692-1919) Walter F. Greiner, Fritz Kemmler, 1997 Bertolt Brecht's Dramatic Theory John J. White, 2004 In concert with his work as a politically charged playwright and dramaturge, Bertolt Brecht concerned himself extensively with the theory of drama. He was convinced that the Aristotelian ideal of audience catharsis through identification with a hero and the resultant experience of terror and pity worked against his goal of bettering society. He did not want his audiences to feel but to think and his main theoretical thrusts, Verfremdungseffekte (de-familiarization effects) and epic theater among others, were conceived in pursuit of this goal. This is the first detailed study in English of Brecht's writings on the theater to take account of works first made available in the recent German edition of his collected works. It offers in-depth analyses of Brecht's canonical essays on the theater from 1930 to the late 1940s and early GDR years. Close readings of the individual essays are supplemented by surveys of the changing connotations within Brecht's dramaturgical oeuvre of key theoretical terms including epic and anti-Aristotelian theater, de-familiarization, historicization and dialectical theater. Brecht's distinct contribution to the theorizing of acting and audience response is examined in detail and each theoretical essay and concept is placed in the context of the aesthetic debates of the time, subjected to a critical assessment and considered in light of subsequent scholarly thinking. In many cases, the playwright's theoretical discourse is shown to employ methods of epic presentation and techniques of de-familiarization that are corollaries of the dramatic techniques for which his plays are justly famous. John J. White is Professor of German and Comparative Literature at King's College London. Post-Marxist Theory Philip Goldstein, 2012-02-01 Poststructuralist Marxism or post-Marxism is a theoretical viewpoint that elaborates and revises the work of Louis Althusser and Michel Foucault. Unlike traditional Marxism which emphasizes the priority of class struggle and the common humanity of oppressed groups, post-Marxism reveals the sexual, racial, class and ethnic divisions of modern Western society. This book surveys the different versions of post-Marxist theory: the economic theory of Stephen Resnick and Richard Wolff; the historical methodology of Michel Foucault; the political theory of Ernesto Laclau and Chantal Mouffe; the feminism of Judith Butler; the materialist philosophy of Pierre Macherey and the cultural studies of Tony Bennett and John Frow. Providing a coherent framework for these otherwise quite divergent theorists, Philip Goldstein outlines the history of Marxist philosophical or theoretical views and explains how they all count as post-Marxist. Realism's Others Eva Aldea, Geoffrey Baker, 2010-07-12 For at least a century, scholarship on realist narrative and occasional polemics against realist narrative have assumed that realism promotes the values of sameness against those of otherness and that it does so by use of a narrative mode that excludes certain epistemologies ideologies and ways of thinking However the truth is more complex than that as the essays in this volume all demonstrate Realism s Others examines the various strategies by which realist narratives create the idea of difference whether that difference is registered in terms of class ethnicity epistemology nationality or gender The authors in this collection examine in detail not just the fact of otherness in some canonical realist and canonical magical realist and postmodern novels but the actual means by which that otherness is established by the text These essays suggest that neither realist narrative nor narratives positioned as anti realist take otherness for granted rather the texts discussed here actively create difference and this creation of difference often occasions severe difficulties for the novels representational schema How does one represent different types of knowledge other aesthetic modes or other spaces for example in texts whose epistemology has long been seen as secular and empirical whose aesthetic mode has always been approached as pure descriptive mimesis and whose settings are largely domestic These essays all begin with a certain collision of nationalities of classes of representational matrices of religions and go on to chart the challenges that this collision presents to our ideas or stereotypes of realism or to the possibilities of writing against and beyond realism This question motivates examination of key realist or social realist texts in some of these essays by Honor de Balzac George Eliot Franz Grillparzer Theodor Storm Gottfried Keller Theodor Fontane Wilhelm Raabe Mar a Amparo Ruiz de Burton Henry James William Dean Howells Charles Chesnutt Theodore Dreiser H T Tsiang Alan Sillitoe and Richard Yates However it is no less central a question in certain non realist texts which engage realist aims to a surprising degree often to debate them openly some of these essays discuss in this light fantastic magical realist and postmodern works by Abram Tertz Paul Auster Alejo Carpentier Toni Morrison Gabriel Garc a M rquez Salman Rushdie and A S Byatt Realism becomes more than an aesthetic aim or narrative mode It becomes rather a value evoked and discussed by all of the works analyzed here in order to reveal its impact on fiction s treatment of ethnicity nationality ideology space gender and social class

Compass - Comparative Literature in Africa Maduka, Chidi T., Ekpo, Denis, 2016-03-07 This is a commemorative volume devoted to the late Professor Willfried F Feuser a literary icon and a comparatist of no mean repute Though German by origin Professor Feuser showed great concern to the Africanist agenda of self realisation and therefore devoted the greatest part of his productive academic life to the cultural revival and socio economic emancipation of Africa and the Diaspora through his scholarly publications This book contains 20 essays on a wide range of issues in literary criticism

Marxism and 20th-Century English-Canadian Novels John Z. Ming Chen, Yuhua Ji, 2015-06-09 This monograph is the first academic work to apply a neo Marxist approach to 20th century Canadian social realist novels pursuing a refreshingly neo Marxist approach to such issues as Bakhtinian notions of the novelistic form and dialogism as applied to Canadian socio political novels influenced by various socialisms socialist feminist concerns economic and sexual politics and the genre of social realism In so doing it demonstrates that Marxist socialism is as relevant today as it was in the 1930s just as social realist novels continue to thrive as a critique of capitalism Readers will find valuable insights into the social significance formal innovations moral sensitivity aesthetic enrichment and ideological complexity of Canadian social realist novels
