

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a landscape. In the foreground, there is a calm body of water reflecting the sky and the land. The shoreline is composed of large, flat, grey rocks. Beyond the rocks, a grassy hill rises, covered in a mix of green and brown vegetation. Several trees are scattered across the hill; some are bare with thin, dark branches, while others have dense, reddish-brown foliage. In the distance, more hills are visible under a sky filled with large, white and grey clouds. The overall mood is serene yet dramatic.

Potts, 2018-09-19 This book examines how the Irish environmental movement which began gaining momentum in the 1970s has influenced and been addressed by contemporary Irish writers artists and musicians It examines Irish environmental writing music and art within their cultural contexts considers how postcolonial ecocriticism might usefully be applied to Ireland and analyzes the rhetoric of Irish environmental protests It places the Irish environmental movement within the broader contexts of Irish national and postcolonial discourses focusing on the following protests the M3 Motorway the Burren campaign the Carnsore Point anti nuclear protest Shell to Sea the turf debate and the animal rights movement Space, Place and Religious Landscapes Darrelyn Gunzburg, Bernadette Brady, 2020-10-01 Exploring sacred mountains around the world this book examines whether bonding and reverence to a mountain is intrinsic to the mountain constructed by people or a mutual encounter Chapters explore mountains in England Scotland Wales Italy Ireland the Himalaya Japan Greece USA Asia and South America and embrace the union of sky landscape and people to examine the religious dynamics between human and non human entities This book takes as its starting point the fact that mountains physically mediate between land and sky and act as metaphors for bridges from one realm to another recognising that mountains are relational and that landscapes form personal and group cosmologies The book fuses ideas of space place and material religion with cultural environmentalism and takes an interconnected approach to material religio landscapes In this way it fills the gap between lived religious traditions personal reflection phenomenology historical context environmental philosophy myths and performativity In defining material religion as active engagement with mountain forming and humanshaping landscapes the research and ideas presented here provide theories that are widely applicable to other forms of material religion Nature and the Environment in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Matthew Kelly,2019-11-05 The environmental humanities are one of the most exciting and rapidly expanding areas of interdisciplinary study and this collection of essays is a pioneering attempt to apply these approaches to the study of nineteenth century Ireland By bringing together historians geographers and literary scholars the volume offers new and original insights into familiar topics Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedroli,Anne van Doorn,Geert de Blust,2014-12-22 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology A History of Settlement in Ireland Terry Barry,2012-11-12 A History of Settlement in Ireland provides a stimulating and thought provoking overview of the settlement history of Ireland from prehistory to the present day Particular attention is paid to the issues of settlement change and distribution within the contexts of environment demography culture The collection goes further by setting the agenda for future research in this rapidly expanding area of academic interest This volume will be essential reading for all those with an interest in the archaeology history and social geography of Ireland A New History of Ireland Volume VII J. R. Hill,2003-12-04 A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to the present day Volume VII covers a period of major significance in Ireland's history. It outlines the division of Ireland and the eventual establishment of the Irish Republic. It provides comprehensive coverage of political developments north and south as well as offering chapters on the economy, literature in English and Irish, the Irish language, the visual arts, emigration and immigration, and the history of women. The contributors to this volume, all specialists in their field, provide the most comprehensive treatment of these developments of any single volume survey of twentieth-century Ireland.

Landscape, Memory and History Pamela J. Stewart, Andrew Strathern, 2003-05-20. How do people perceive the land around them and how is that perception changed by history? This book explores this question from an anthropological angle, assessing the connections between place, space, identity, nationalism, history, and memory in a variety of different settings around the world. Taking historical change and memory as key themes, it is a broad study that will appeal to a readership across the social sciences. Contributors from North America, Australia, New Zealand, Taiwan, and Europe explore a wide variety of case studies that includes seascapes in Jamaica, the Solomon Islands, the forests of Madagascar, Aboriginal and European notions of landscape in Australia, place and identity in 19th-century maps, and the bogs of Ireland. Contemporary concerns over changing landscapes in Papua New Guinea and representations of landscape and history in the poetry of the Scottish Borders.

Samuel Beckett and Catastrophe Michiko Tsushima, Yoshiki Tajiri, Mariko Hori Tanaka, 2022-12-16. Samuel Beckett and Catastrophe is a groundbreaking collection of original essays that explore the relation between Samuel Beckett and catastrophe in terms of war, the Holocaust, nuclear disasters, and ecological crisis. Responding to the post-catastrophic situations in the twentieth century, Beckett created characters who often seem to have been through an unknown catastrophe. Although the importance of catastrophe in Beckett has been noted sporadically, there has been no substantial attempt to discuss his aesthetics and work in relation to it. This collection will therefore serve as the first sustained study to explore the theme of catastrophe in Beckett and will be a highly significant contribution to Beckett studies.
