Medical Times and Gazette, 1859 A Cultural History of Furniture in the Middle Ages and Renaissance Erin J.

Campbell, Stephanie Miller, 2022-02-24 The Middle Ages were marked by dramatic social, economic, political, and religious changes. Diverse regional and local conditions and varied social classes, including peasant, artisan, merchant, clergy, nobility, and rulers, resulted in differing needs for furniture. The social settings for furniture included official and private residences, both grand and humble, churches and monasteries, and civic institutions, including places of governance and learning, such as municipal halls, guild halls, and colleges. This volume of A Cultural History of Furniture explores how furniture contributed to the social fabric within these varied spaces. The chronological range of this volume extends from the fall of the Roman Empire through to the early Renaissance, a period which exhibited a wide array of types, styles, and motifs, including Byzantine, Romanesque, Gothic, and Renaissance. Rural and regional styles of furniture are also considered, as well as techniques of furniture manufacture. Drawing upon a wealth of visual and textual sources, this volume presents essays that examine key characteristics of the furniture of the period, on the themes of design and motifs, makers, making, and materials, types and uses, the domestic setting, the public setting, exhibition and display, furniture and architecture, visual representations, and verbal representations. Specifications and Drawings of Patents Issued from the United States Patent Office United States Patent Office, 1903

The Propeller under the Bed Eileen A. Bjorkman, 2017-04-04 On July 25, 2010, Arnold Ebner flew across the country in a plane he designed and built himself, setting an aviation world record for aircraft of its class. He was eighty-two at the time, and the flight represented the culmination of a dream he'd cultivated since his childhood. In the 1930s, Eileen Bjorkman herself a pilot and aeronautical engineer, frames her father's journey from teenage airplane enthusiast to Air Force pilot and Boeing engineer in the context of the rise, near extermination, and ongoing interest in homebuilt aircraft in the United States. She gives us a glimpse into life growing up in a flying family with two pilots for parents, a family plane named Charlie, and quite literally, a propeller under her parents' bed. From early airplane designs serialized in magazines to the annual Oshkosh Fly-In, where you can see experimental aircraft on display, Bjorkman offers a personal take on the history of building something in your garage that you can actually and legally fly, as well as how the homebuilt aircraft movement has contributed to aviation and innovation in America.
