Bank Robbery for Beginners Anthony Prince,2010-11-01 They were tagged Dumb and Dumber by the US media in a story that made headlines and jokes around the world Two Australian boys on a working holiday in the snowfields of the American Rocky Mountains decided to rob a bank Their plan was so hopelessly inept that although they escaped with over US 130 000 after threatening bank staff with a replica pistol the trail of clues they left ensured they were identified almost immediately Among the many things they did wrong was to rob a bank where they were regular customers staff instantly recognised them and their impossible to disguise Australian accents to tip a taxi driver 20 000 and then to photograph themselves holding up bundles of the stolen money all before attempting to buy one way tickets to Mexico in cash From the moment the alarm was raised it took the Vail Police department all of eight minutes to identify the two boys as the culprits

But what started as two young larrikins planning something stupid soon became deadly serious as both Anthony Prince and his partner Luke Carroll faced life imprisonment for armed robbery. Their youth, previous good behaviour and obvious remorse persuaded the US court to give them a reduced sentence but they were still to serve almost five years in some of America's most violent penitentiaries.

Living with Monsters Yasmine Musharbash, Ilana Gershon, 2023. For every generic type of monster—ghost, demon, vampire, dragon—there are countless locally specific manifestations with their own names, traits, and appearances. Such monsters populate all corners of the globe, haunting their humans wherever they live. Living with Monsters is a collection of fourteen short pieces of ethnographic fiction and a more academically inclined introduction and afterword, presenting a playful, spirited and engaging look at how people live with their respective monsters around the world. They focus on the nitty-gritty dos and don'ts of how to placate spirits in India, how to domesticate Georgian goblins, how to live with aliens, how to avoid being taken by Anito in Taiwan, while simultaneously illuminating the politics of monster-human relations. In this collection, anthropologists working in fieldsites as diverse as the urban Ghana, the rural US, remote Aboriginal Australia, and the internet present imaginative accounts that demonstrate how thinking with monsters encourages people to contemplate difference, to understand inequality, and to see the world from new angles. Combine monsters with experimental ethnography and the result is a volume that crackles with creative energy, flouts traditions of ethnographic writing, and pushes anthropology into new terrains.

Yasmine Musharbash is Senior Lecturer and Head of Discipline Anthropology at the School of Archaeology and Anthropology at the Australian National University. She conducts participant observation-based research with Warlpiri people in Central Australia, with a particular focus on relations among Warlpiri people on the one hand, and between them and non-Indigenous people, fauna, flora, the elements, and monsters on the other. She is the author of Yuendumu: Everyday Aboriginal Studies (Press, 2008) and of a number of co-edited volumes, including two about monsters that she co-edited with G.H. Presterudstuen: Monster Anthropology in Australasia and Beyond (Palgrave MacMillan, 2014) and Monster Anthropology: Ethnographic Explorations of Transforming Social Worlds through Monsters (Routledge, 2020).

Ilana Gershon is the Ruth N. Halls professor of anthropology at Indiana University and studies how people use new media to accomplish complicated social tasks, such as breaking up with lovers and hiring new employees. She has published books such as The Breakup (2010, Cornell University Press) and Down and Out in the New Economy (University of Chicago Press, 2017) and has edited two other volumes of ethnographic fiction on work and animals. She has been a fellow at Stanford's Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Notre Dame's Institute for Advanced Study and is currently a visiting professor at the University of Helsinki. She is presently writing a book on how working in person during a pandemic sheds light on the ways workplaces function as private governments.
