Theological Dictionary of the Old Testament G. Johannes Botterweck, Helmer Ringgren, Heinz-Josef Fabry, 1974 Analyzes the meaning of Hebrew terms used in the Old Testament considering their occurrences in ancient Near Eastern texts
Animal Sacrifice and the Origins of Islam Brannon Wheeler, 2022-06-23 Islam is the only biblical religion that still practices animal sacrifice Indeed every year more than a million animals are shipped to Mecca from all over the world to be slaughtered during the Muslim Hajj This multi disciplinary volume is the first to examine the physical foundations of this practice and the significance of the ritual Brannon Wheeler uses both textual analysis and various types of material evidence to gain insight into the role of animal sacrifice in Islam He provides a thick description of the elaborate camel sacrifice performed by Muhammad which serves as the model for future Hajj sacrifices Wheeler integrates biblical and classical Arabic sources with evidence from zooarchaeology and the rock art of ancient Arabia to gain insight into an event that reportedly occurred 1400 years ago His book encourages a more nuanced and expansive conception of sacrifice in the history of religion
The Places Where Men Pray Together Paul Wheatley, 2001 What makes a city an economic political and cultural center In The Places Where Men Pray Together Paul Wheatley draws on two decades of astonishingly wide ranging research to demonstrate that Islamic cities are defined by function rather than form by what they do rather than what they are Focusing on the roles of cities during the first four centuries of Islamic expansion Wheatley explores interconnected cultural historical economic political and religious factors to provide the clearest and most extensively documented portrait of early Islamic urban centers available to date Building on the tenth century geographer al Maqdisi's writings on urban centers of the Islamic world buttressed by extensive comparative material from roadbooks topographies histories adab literatures and gazetteers of the time Wheatley identifies the main functions of different Islamic urban centers Chapters on each of the thirteen centers that al Maqdisi identified ranging from the Atlantic to the Indus and from the Caspian to the Sudan form the heart of this book In each case Wheatley shows how specific agglomeration and accessibility factors combined to make every city functionally distinct as a creator of effective space He also demonstrates that far from revolutionizing every aspect of life in these cities the adoption of Islam often affected the development of these cities less than previously existing local traditions The Places Where Men Pray Together is a monumental work that will speak to scholars and readers across a broad variety of disciplines from historians anthropologists and sociologists to religious historians archaeologists and geographers
The Qur'ân in Context Angelika

Neuwirth, Nicolai Sinai, Michael Marx, 2010 By addressing various aspects of the Qur'an's linguistic and historical context and offering close readings of selected passages in the light of Jewish Christian and ancient Arabic literature the volume seeks to stimulate a new interaction between literary and historical scholarship Arabs in the Early Islamic Empire Brian Ulrich, 2019-05-09 Examining a single broad tribal identity al-Azad from the immediate pre-Islamic period into the early Abbasid era this book notes the ways it was continually refashioned over that time It explores the ways in which the rise of the early Islamic empire influenced the peoples of the Arabian Peninsula who became a core part of it and examines the connections between the kinship societies and the developing state of the early caliphate This helps us to understand how what are often called tribal forms of social organisation identity conditioned its growth and helped shape what became its common elite culture Studying the relationship between tribe and state during the first two centuries of the caliphate author Brian Ulrich's focus is on understanding the survival and transformation of tribal identity until it became part of the literate high culture of the Abbasid caliphate and a component of a larger Arab ethnic identity He argues that from pre-Islamic Arabia to the caliphate greater continuity existed between tribal identity and social practice than is generally portrayed A Basic Bibliography for the Study of the Semitic Languages J. H. Hospers, 1973-01-01 Proceedings of the Seminar for Arabian Studies , 2004 Contains selected papers given at the 4th Seminars held 1970 The Copper Scroll - 3Q15: A Reevaluation Judah K. Lefkowitz, 2018-11-26 This volume deals with the Copper Scroll an almost two thousand year old cryptic proto-Mishnaic Hebrew Dead Sea document It is the largest known ancient text to have ever been recorded on metal The Introduction covers the nature and site of the discovery opening of the two brittle oxidized copper rolls deciphering the text controversy about genuineness of the content etc The in-depth study presents the primary major studies and offers a new reading translation and interpretation including alternatives as well as detailed studies of some unique aspects The analysis is based on Rabbinical Jewish sources originating largely in the same historical era This results into a more reliable interpretation of the Copper Scroll which probably originates from the Priestly leaders of Jerusalem and contains a list of the hidden treasures of the Second Temple before its destruction by the Romans The Arabs in Antiquity Jan Retso, 2013-07-04 The history of the Arabs in antiquity from their earliest appearance around 853 BC until the first century of Islam is described in this book It traces the mention of people called Arabs in all relevant ancient sources and suggests a new interpretation of their history It is suggested that the ancient Arabs were more a religious community than an ethnic group which would explain why the designation Arab could be easily adopted by the early Muslim tribes The Arabs of antiquity thus resemble the early Islamic Arabs more than is usually assumed both being united by common bonds of religious ideology and law Ancient and Medieval Ethiopian History to 1270 Sergew Hable Selassie, 1972 This scholarly book describes what is known about Ethiopia from primary secondary sources A Comparative Semitic Lexicon of the Phoenician and Punic Languages Richard S. Tomback, 2019-10-15 Pre-Islamic Yemen A. V. Korotaev, 1996 The Catholic Biblical

Quarterly Wendell Stephen Reilly, 1967 Includes various reports of the Association The Encyclopaedia of Islam Sir H. A. R. Gibb, 1960 From Al-Andalus to Khurasan Petra Sijpesteijn, 2007 The study of medieval Islamic history has been hindered by the lack of available evidence This is because of its inaccessibility to all but the most specialised scholars in the field Containing papers given at the Documents and the History of the Early Islamic Mediterranean World conference this title looks at the redressing of this problem Customary and Shari'ah Law in Arabian Society R.B. Serjeant, 2024-12-11

The society and legal systems of Southern Arabia both ancient and modern form the subject of this second collection of articles by Professor Serjeant His approach has been to make a detailed study of modern social structures and legal customs and to relate these to what we know of ancient society and law The traditional tribal society of the region he argues has preserved in its customary law and practice a very great deal that derives directly from the pre Islamic period whereas the shari ah the law of Islam though stemming from the same sources has often diverged significantly from it An understanding of the modern situation therefore is of immediate relevance to the interpretation of pre and early Islamic society Among the particular topics covered are the interplay between tribal affinities and religious authority marriage legislation and the Frankish chancre or syphilis and maritime customary law From an ethnographic viewpoint furthermore these studies record peoples and lifestyles that have been increasingly overwhelmed by contemporary events

Les soci t s et les syst mes juridiques de l Arabie du Sud moderne et ancienne sont le th me de ce recueil d articles par le professeur Serjeant Il aborde le sujet avec une tude des structures sociales modernes ainsi que du droit coutumier puis les rattache ce qui est connu de la soci t et du droit anciens La soci t tribale traditionnelle de la r gion affirme t il a conserv un grand nombre d us et coutumes trouvant des origines directes au cours de la p riode pre islamique alors que le droit de l Islam le shari ah bien qu issu des m mes sources s en loigne de fa on significative Le fait de comprendre la situation moderne a donc un rapport imm diat avec toute interpr tation de la soci t islamique ses d buts Parmi les th mes sp cifiques que couvre l auteur se trouvent le droit marital et le chancre franc syphilitique le droit
