Angkor Wat - A Transcultural History of Heritage Michael Falser, 2019-12-16 This book unravels the formation of the modern concept of cultural heritage by charting its colonial postcolonial nationalist and global trajectories By bringing to light many unresearched dimensions of the twelfth century Cambodian temple of Angkor Wat during its modern history the study argues for a conceptual connected history that unfolded within the transcultural interstices of European and Asian projects With more than 1 400 black and white and colour illustrations of historic photographs architectural plans and samples of public media the monograph discusses the multiple lives of Angkor Wat over a 150 year long period from the 1860s to the 2010s Volume 1 Angkor in France reconceptualises the Orientalist French colonial discovery of the temple in the nineteenth century and brings to light the manifold strategies at play in its physical representations as plaster cast substitutes in museums and as hybrid pavilions in universal and colonial exhibitions in Marseille and Paris from 1867 to 1937 Volume 2 Angkor in Cambodia covers for the first time in this depth the various on site restoration efforts inside the Archaeological Park of Angkor from 1907 until 1970 and the temple's gradual canonisation as a symbol of national identity during Cambodia's troublesome decolonisation 1953-89 from independence to Khmer Rouge terror and Vietnamese occupation and finally as a global icon of UNESCO World Heritage since 1992 until today Congratulations to our author Michael Falser who received the prestigious 2021 ICAS Book Prize in the Ground Breaking Subject Matter category

Portraiture in Early India Vincent Lefèvre,2011-07-12 In the study of Indian art prior to the Mughal period portraiture has so far been much neglected when its existence has not simply been denied This book is an attempt to reassess this issue by showing that portraits have existed in great number in early India since probably the first artistic achievements Through a close scrutiny of sculpted and more rarely painted images brought together with textual and epigraphical references it aims at highlighting the specificities of Indian portraiture its relationship with divine images and consequently at understanding the development of Indian imagery It questions also the social and religious implications related to this issue The Rough Guide to Cambodia Beverley Palmer, Steven Martin, 2008 With accounts of all attractions from the atmospheric temples of Angkor and Phnom Penh to the resort of Sihanoukville and the jungle clad hills of Rattanakiri this guide includes a background on Cambodian history religion and cultural life The Mekong Milton E. Osborne, 2000 A compelling lively narrative history of the peoples and cultures of the great river of Southeast Asia The Mekong spans two thousand years from the dawn of civilization on the Mekong Delta to the political and environmental challenges the region faces today Beginning with the rise of ancient seafaring civilizations at Oc Eco and moving on to the glory of the Cambodian empire in the first millennium through European colonization and the struggle for independence in the twentieth century Osborne traces the history of the region that comprises the modern nations of Vietnam Cambodia Laos Thailand Malaysia Burma and China Vibrant insightful and eminently readable The Mekong is a rousing history of a dynamic region that has fascinated readers the world over A Heritage of Ruins William R. Chapman, 2013-07-31 The ancient ruins of Southeast Asia have long sparked curiosity and romance in the world s imagination They appear in accounts of nineteenth century French explorers as props for Indiana Jones adventures and more recently as the scene of Lady Lara Croft s fantastical battle with the forces of evil They have been featured in National Geographic magazine and serve as backdrops for popular television travel and reality shows Now William Chapman s expansive new study explores the varied roles these monumental remains have played in the histories of Southeast Asia s modern nations Based on more than fifteen years of travel research and visits to hundreds of ancient sites A Heritage of Ruins shows the close connection between ruins conservation and both colonialism and nation building It also demonstrates the profound impact of European derived ideas of historic and aesthetic significance on ancient ruins and how these continue to color the management and presentation of sites in Southeast Asia today Angkor Pagan Bagan Borobudur and Ayutthaya lie at the center of this cultural and architectural tour but less visited sites including Laos s stunning Vat Phu the small temple platforms of Malaysia s Lembah Bujang Valley the candi of the Dieng Plateau in Java and the ruins of Mingun in Burma and Wiang Kum Kam near Chiang Mai in northern Thailand are also discussed All share a relative isolation from modern urban centers of population sitting in park like settings serving as objects of tourism and as lynchpins for local and even national economies Chapman argues that these sites also remain important to surrounding residents both as a means of income and as continuing sources of spiritual meaning He examines the complexities of heritage efforts in the context of present day expectations by focusing on the roles of both outside and indigenous experts in conservation and management and on attempts by local populations to reclaim their patrimony and play a larger role in protection and interpretation Tracing the history of interventions aimed at halting time's decay Chapman provides a chronicle of conservation efforts over a century and a half highlighting the significant part foreign expertise has played in the region and the ways that national programs have in recent years begun to break from earlier models The book ends with suggestions for how Southeast Asian managers and officials might best protect their incomparable heritage of art and architecture and how this legacy might be preserved for future generations

Early Interactions Between South and Southeast Asia Pierre-Yves Manguin,A. Mani,Geoff Wade,2011 This book takes stock of the results of some two decades of intensive archaeological research carried out on both sides of the Bay of Bengal in combination with renewed approaches to textual sources and to art history To improve our understanding of the trans cultural process commonly referred to as Indianisation it brings together specialists of both India and Southeast Asia in a fertile inter disciplinary confrontation Most of the essays reappraise the millennium long historiographic no man s land during which exchanges between the two shores of the Bay of Bengal led among other processes to the Indianisation of those parts of the region that straddled the main routes of exchange Some essays follow up these processes into better known classical times or even into modern times showing that the localisation process of Indian themes has long remained at work allowing local societies to produce their own social space and express their own ethos Champa and the Archaeology of Mỹ Sơn (Vietnam) Andrew David Hardy, Mauro Cucarzi, Patrizia Zolese, 2009 The kings of ancient Champa a civilization located in the central region of today s Vietnam started building sacred temples in a circular valley more than 1500 years ago The monuments now known by the Vietnamese name Mỹ Sơn were discovered by nineteenth century colonial soldiers and first studied by the French architect Henri Parmentier Bombed during the Vietnam War the ruins of the brick towers decorated with exquisite carvings and sculptures were designated as a UNESCO World Cultural Heritage site in 1999 An Italian team has worked at the site for the last ten years doing archaeological research and restoration work in cooperation with Vietnamese specialists This book is the first published volume based on their efforts The opening section consists of historical anthropological and architectural studies of the civilization of Champa The remainder of the book presents an unusually intimate and extensively illustrated portrait of the archaeologists research and restoration work at Mỹ Sơn While this book is important for specialists and students of the history and archaeology of Champa and Southeast Asia it also tells a fascinating story that will appeal to general readers and visitors to this exceptional archaeological site Immersive Analytics Kim Marriott, Falk Schreiber, Tim Dwyer, Karsten Klein, Nathalie Henry Riche, Takayuki Itoh, Wolfgang Stuerzlinger, Bruce H.
