Mammals Peter G.H. Evans,Juan Antonio Raga,2012-12-06 Interest in marine mammals has increased dramatically in the last few decades as evidenced by the number of books scientific papers and conferences devoted to these animals Nowadays a conference on marine mammals can attract between one and two thousand scientists from around the world This upsurge of interest has resulted in a body of knowledge which in many cases has identified major conservation problems facing particular species At the same time this knowledge and the associated activities of environmental organisations have served to introduce marine mammals to a receptive public to the extent that they are now perceived by many as the living icons of biodiversity conservation Much of the impetus for the current interest in marine mammal conservation comes from Save the Whale campaigns started in the 1960s by environmental groups around the world in response to declining whale populations after over exploitation by humans This public pressure led to an international moratorium on whaling recommended in 1972 by the United Nations Conference on the Human Environment in Stockholm Sweden and eventually adopted by the International Whaling Commission ten years later This moratorium largely holds sway to this day and further protective measures have included the delimitation of extensive areas of the Indian Ocean 1979 and Southern Ocean 1994 as whale sanctuaries North American Fauna ,1959 Systematic account of the results of a survey made in 1936 and 1937 to aid supervision of the Aleutian Islands National Wildlife Refuge AB60374

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes.
