Seasons Of A Farm Family:

Enriching the Hoosier Farm Family Frederick Whitford, Neil Harmeyer, David M. Hovde, 2016 Imagine Indiana farms at the turn of the last century What comes from the land sustains us Our farms and families depend on it Having a good or bad year can mean the difference between prosperity and your family going hungry Farmers knew how to provide Throughout the 1800s parents had passed their best knowledge on to their sons and daughters who in turn taught their children tried and true methods for managing a farm methods that provided consistency in a world of droughts disease and fluctuating markets Before they abandoned a hundred years of proven practices or adopted new technology they would have to be convinced that it was in their best interest Enter county extension agents Indiana county extension agents took up their posts in 1912 at a crucial juncture in the advancement of agriculture The systematic introduction of hybrid seed corn tractors lime certified seed cow testing associations farm bureaus commercial fertilizers balanced livestock diets soybeans and 4 H clubs were all yet to come Many of the most significant agricultural innovations of the 1900s which are commonplace today were still being developed in the laboratories and experimental fields of land grant colleges like Purdue University Compiled from original county agent records discovered in Purdue University's Virginia Kelly Karnes Archives and Special Collections Research Center Enriching the Hoosier Farm Family includes hundreds of rare never before published photographs and anecdotal information about how county agents overcame their constituents reluctance to change They visited farmers on their farms day after day year after year They got to know them personally They built trust in communities and little by little were able to share new information Gradually their practical applications of new methodologies for solving old problems and for managing and increasing productivity introduced farmers and their families to exciting new frontiers of agriculture

Division of Farm Management and Costs, Samuel Weis Mendum, Orlin James Scoville, 1944 Seasons of Hunger Stephen Devereux, Bapu Vaitla, Samuel Hauenstein Swan, 2008-09-20 Every year millions of the rural poor suffer from predictable and preventable seasonal hunger This hunger is less dramatic but no less damaging than the starvation associated with famines wars and natural disasters Seasons of Hunger explores why the world does not react to a crisis that we know will continue year after year Seasonal hunger is caused by annual cycles of shrinking food stocks rising prices and lack of income This hidden hunger pushes millions of children to the brink of starvation every year permanently stunting their physical and cognitive development weakening their immune systems and opening the door for killer diseases Action Against Hunger argue that ending seasonal hunger could save millions of young lives and is key to achieving the Millennium Development Goals This book documents seasonal hunger in four countries India Malawi Mali and Myanmar including personal stories and country wide data which shows the magnitude of the problem The authors also find encouraging examples of interventions designed to address

seasonality initiatives led by governments donors and NGOs and poor people themselves and propose a package of advocacy messages that could contribute to the global eradication of seasonal hunger This book will be a valuable resource for journalists policy makers NGO members and students of development studies Ownership of Rural Land in the Southeast Roger Wallace Strohbehn,1964 Education Manual United States.
