poetically tenable and distinctive The case for The Seasons as an important work of art depends upon its effectiveness as a moving vision of human experience and Professor Cohen believes that many critics have not felt this effectiveness because they have misconceived Thomson's vision and misunderstood his idiom His study aims to persuade them to return to the poem and to examine it within the context of an Augustan tradition Professor Cohen shows that Thomson's great achievement is to have fashioned a conception which by bringing nature to the forefront of his poem became a new poetic way of defining human experience Thomson was not the first nature poet in English but he was the first to provide an effective idiom in which science orthodox religion natural description and classical allusions blended to describe the glory baseness and uncertainty of man's earthly environment holding forth the hope of heavenly love and wisdom This study shows that Thomson found a personal idiom by means of which he created an artistic vision It will appeal to those with an interest in English literature and in philosophy

The Ladies' Repository ,1852 The idea of this women's magazine originated with Samuel Williams a Cincinnati Methodist who thought that Christian women needed a magazine less worldly than Godey's Lady's Book and Snowden's Lady's Companion. Written largely by ministers this exceptionally well printed little magazine contained well written essays of a moral character plenty of poetry articles on historical and scientific matters and book reviews. Among western writers were Alice Cary who contributed over a hundred sketches and poems her sister Phoebe Cary Otway Curry Moncure D Conway and Joshua R Giddings and New England contributors included Mrs Lydia Sigourney Hannah F Gould and Julia C R Dorr. By 1851 each issue published a piece of music and two steel plates usually landscapes or portraits. When Davis E Clark took over the editorship in 1853 the magazine became brighter and attained a circulation of 40 000. Unlike his predecessors Clark included fictional pieces and made the Repository a magazine for the whole family. After the war it began to decline and in 1876 was replaced by the National Repository. The Ladies Repository was an excellent representative of the Methodist mind and heart. Its essays sketches and poems its good steel engravings and its moral tone gave it a charm all its own.
