Seeing Anthropology Karl G. Heider, 1997 Accompanying videocassettes include short ethnographically accurate films on a wide range of culture types and world areas which contribute to the subject of the chapters Seeing Anthropology Karl G. Heider, 1997 Accompanying videocassettes include short ethnographically accurate films on a wide range of culture types and world areas which contribute to the subject of the chapters Seeing Anthropology Karl G. Heider, Herbert L. Ziegler, 2000-09 This is the only book video package for cultural anthropology This book truly incorporates films within the text This unique package allows the reader to view the films in class or at home Ethnographic Film Karl G. Heider, 2009-04-20 From reviews of the first edition Ethnographic Film can rightly be considered a film primer for anthropologists Choice This is an interesting and useful book about what it means to be ethnographic and how this might affect ethnographic filmmaking for the better It obviously belongs in all departments of anthropology and most ethnographic filmmakers will want to read it Ethnohistory Even before Robert Flaherty released Nanook of the North in 1922 anthropologists were producing films about the lifeways of native peoples for a public audience as well as for research and teaching Ethnographic Film 1976 was one of the first books to provide a comprehensive introduction to this field of visual anthropology and it quickly became the standard reference In this new edition Karl G Heider thoroughly updates Ethnographic Film to reflect developments in the field over the three decades since its publication focusing on the work of four seminal filmmakers Jean Rouch John Marshall Robert Gardner and Timothy Asch He begins with an introduction to ethnographic film and a history of the medium He then considers many attributes of ethnographic film including the crucial need to present whole acts whole bodies whole interactions and whole people to preserve the integrity of the cultural context Heider also discusses numerous aspects of making ethnographic films from ethics and finances to technical considerations such as film versus video and preserving the filmed record He concludes with a look at using ethnographic film in teaching

Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology H. Russell Bernard, Clarence C. Gravlee, 2014-07-08 The Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology now in its second edition maintains a strong benchmark for understanding the scope of contemporary anthropological field methods Avoiding divisive debates over science and humanism the contributors draw upon both traditions to explore fieldwork in practice The second edition also reflects major developments of the past decade including the rising prominence of mixed methods the emergence of new technologies and evolving views on ethnographic writing Spanning the chain of research from designing a project through methods of data collection and interpretive analysis the Handbook features new chapters on ethnography of online communities social survey research and network and geospatial analysis Considered discussion of ethics epistemology and the presentation of research results to diverse audiences round out the volume The result is an essential guide for all scholars professionals and advanced students who employ fieldwork A Companion to the Anthropology of American Indians Thomas Biolsi, 2008-04-15 This Companion is comprised of 27 original contributions by leading scholars in the field and summarizes the state of anthropological knowledge of Indian peoples as well as the history that got us to this point. Surveys the full range of American Indian anthropology from ecological and political economic questions to topics concerning religion, language, and expressive culture. Each chapter provides definitive coverage of its topic as well as situating ethnographic and ethnohistorical data into larger frameworks. Explores anthropology's contribution to knowledge, its historic and ongoing complicities with colonialism, and its political and ethical obligations toward the people studied.

Seeing Anthropology Karl G. Heider, 2004. Seeing Anthropology continues to be the only cultural anthropology text available that allows for easy integration of ethnographic films into the introductory cultural anthropology course. This text truly incorporates films within the text by blending textbook content with fourteen ethnographic film clips that are put in the hands of students. More flexible ordering options are available with the new edition. See New to this Edition section below. One reviewer says: "The greatest strengths of this text are its unique and skillful use of film clips to enhance student learning. I can think of no better way to extend student learning in anthropology than the use of films, and there is no one more qualified to select and present anthropological films than the author of this book."

The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther, 2022-11-08. How the classic mirror test served as a portal for scientists to explore questions of self-awareness. Since the late eighteenth century, scientists have placed subjects—humans, infants, animals, and robots—in front of mirrors in order to look for signs of self-recognition. Mirrors served as the possible means for answering the question: What makes us human? In The Mirror and the Mind, Katja Guenther traces the history of the mirror self-recognition test, exploring how researchers from a range of disciplines—psychoanalysis, psychiatry, developmental and animal psychology, cybernetics, anthropology, and neuroscience—came to read the peculiar behaviors elicited by mirrors. Investigating the ways mirrors could lead to both identification and misidentification, Guenther looks at how such experiments ultimately failed to determine human specificity. The mirror test was thrust into the limelight when Charles Darwin challenged the idea that language sets humans apart. Thereafter, the mirror, previously a recurrent if marginal scientific tool, became dominant in attempts to demarcate humans from other animals. But because researchers could not rely on language to determine what their nonspeaking subjects were experiencing, they had to come up with significant innovations, including notation strategies, testing protocols, and the linking of scientific theories across disciplines. From the robotic tortoises of Grey Walter and the mark test of Beulah Amsterdam and Gordon Gallup to anorexia research and mirror neurons, the mirror test offers a window into the emergence of such fields as biology, psychology, psychiatry, animal studies, cognitive science, and neuroscience. The Mirror and the Mind offers an intriguing history of experiments in self-awareness and the advancements of the human sciences across more than a century.

Selected Readings in the Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. Glazier, Charles A. Flowerday, 2003-12-30. Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion. Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e g bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level
