Seeing New Worlds:

Representing the New World J. Hart, 2001-09-15 Representing the New World argues for the importance of Spain in the New World as an example of France and England in their efforts to establish colonies and suggests that this example was ambivalent and contradictory as well as surprisingly persistent in the representations of Spain in French and English texts concerning the Americas

Russia and the New World Disorder Bobo Lo, 2015-08-17 The Russian annexation of Crimea was one of the great strategic shocks of the past twenty five years For many in the West Moscow's actions in early 2014 marked the end of illusions about cooperation and the return to geopolitical and ideological confrontation Russia for so long a peripheral presence had become the central actor in a new global drama In this groundbreaking book renowned scholar Bobo Lo analyzes the broader context of the crisis by examining the interplay between Russian foreign policy and an increasingly anarchic international environment He argues that Moscow's approach to regional and global affairs reflects the tension between two very different worlds the perceptual and the actual The Kremlin highlights the decline of the West a resurgent Russia and the emergence of a new multipolar order But this idealized view is contradicted by a world disorder that challenges core assumptions about the dominance of great powers and the utility of military might Its lesson is that only those states that embrace change will prosper in the twenty first century A Russia able to redefine itself as a modern power would exert a critical influence in many areas of international politics But a Russia that rests on an outdated sense of entitlement may end up instead as one of the principal casualties of global transformation

Christensen, 2022-03-03 Teaching in the southern African nation of Botswana in the early 1980s Richard Christensen faced a new world one endlessly fascinating and challenging Experiencing warm hospitality from many people sharing both joyful celebrations and painful struggles with students he and his family encountered a deeper sense of the true meaning of community Travel in apartheid South Africa and war weary Zimbabwe gave him a fuller understanding of the reality of oppression and how people of faith endured their plight and kept hope alive In this experience so surprising in many ways he came to a deepened realization of the genuine freedom of the gospel and the hope it affords us He saw that relationships are what save us that the salvation of God in Christ is not merely personal and individual but communal and that we are thus more dependent upon one another than we realize Learning to see the world with new eyes he discovered not only a more expansive vision of the church and the world but also a more honest and complete understanding of himself as a product of an affluent and segregated society The Art of God Christopher Irvine, 2005 Science and Empire in the Atlantic World James Delbourgo, Nicholas Dew, 2008-09-25 Science and Empire in the Atlantic World is the first book in the growing field of Atlantic Studies to examine the production of scientific knowledge in the Atlantic world from a comparative and international perspective Rather than focusing on a specific scientific field or single national context this collection captures the multiplicity of practices people languages and agendas that characterized the traffic in knowledge around the Atlantic world linking this knowledge to the social processes fundamental to colonialism such as travel trade ethnography and slavery
