Contemporary Sex Offender Risk Management, Volume II Hazel Kemshall, Kieran McCartan, 2017-11-25 This book, the second of two volumes edited by Kemshall and McCartan, focuses on responses to sexual offending and how risk is used by policy makers, stakeholders, academics, and practitioners to both construct and respond to unknown and known sex offenders within the contexts of criminal justice, health, and social policy. The chapters provide an oversight of contemporary policies, practices, and debates within the area to help both professionals and researchers. The collection focuses on emerging areas: crime linkage, predictive policing, sexual offending across borders, desistance, and public health approaches, as well as more traditional topics: multi-agency working, risk assessment, sex offender policies, and treatment. The authors examine how professionals can use multi-agency approaches to prevent sexual violence and assessing the impact of desistance on framing sex offender management. A bold and engaging volume, this edited collection will be of great importance to scholars and practitioners working to reframe traditional approaches to sex offender management in a contemporary fashion.

and their social ecologies Ultimately it utilises the three elements of the framework namely broken and ruptured connectivities supportive and sustaining connectivities and new connectivities to argue the case for developing the field of transitional justice in new social ecological directions and to explore what this might conceptually and practically entail The book will particularly appeal to anyone with an interest in or curiosity about resilience and to scholars researchers and policy makers working on CRSV and or transitional justice The fact that resilience has received surprisingly little attention within existing literature on either CRSV or transitional justice accentuates the significance of this research and the originality of its conceptual and empirical contributions The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
