Mayntz, U. Schimank, P. Weingart, 2013-11-11 When the socialist regime in Central and Eastern Europe CEE was overthrown around the end of the eighties beginning of the nineties an overall transformation of whole societies started Not only the political and the economic systems of these countries but all societal sectors underwent deep changes These changes presented opportunities but they also spelled trouble On one hand getting rid of stifling political control and excessive bureaucratic regulation was something which most members of these societies desired On the other it became apparent very soon that the necessary and long hoped for rebuilding of the economy education health care the mass media and science too was strongly restricted by the scarcity of financial resources After a short period during which opportunities were energetically taken up in a spirit of hope came a long and still lasting time of growing troubles and despondency Only in a few of the CEE countries have some glimpses of hope become visible recently and it remains to be seen whether these signals are reliable Until now therefore the transformation dynamics of all societal sectors in all of the CEE countries have primarily been troublesome This is surely true for the post socialist research systems I The demise of the communist party's absolute rule over society has allowed researchers the public expression and the pursuit of goals whose common denominator has been a greater self regulation of scientific research according to its own criteria and logic Applied Strategic Marketing Karel Jan Alsem,2019-03-08 This book originally published in Dutch provides a uniquely practical approach to strategic marketing planning Combining a comprehensive overview of theory with practice each chapter takes the reader step by step through the strategic marketing process Beginning with identifying the value proposition it moves on to the situational analysis that underpins the corporate strategy and finally details the overall implementation and creation of a customer and brand values Applied Strategic Marketing equips the reader with the necessary tools and techniques to develop and deliver a thorough and effective marketing strategy With a broad range of international case studies that bring the theory to life this well renowned and updated translation is vital reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students of marketing management and strategic marketing It should also be of interest to marketing practitioners who want a clear overview to aid them in the planning process Fixing African Economies Lucie Colvin Phillips,Diery Seck,2004 The authors report on the link between research and public policy in a range of African countries seeking to effect more productive more equitable development strategies Marketing Research Naresh K.
