Marooned The Strange But True Adventures Of Alexander Selkirk The Real Robinson Crusoe:

Marooned Robert Kraske,2005 Marooned on a South Pacific island Alexander Selkirk survived in complete solitude for more than four years After his rescue in 1709 he became the real life model for Daniel Defoe s novel Robinson Crusoe

Selkirk's Island Diana Souhami,2014-12-23 Winner of the Whitbread Biography Award The true story of the shipwrecked Scottish buccaneer who inspired Daniel Defoe s novel This action filled biography follows Alexander Selkirk an eighteenth century Scottish buccaneer who sailed the South Seas plundering for gold But an ill fated expedition in 1703 led to shipwreck on remote Juan Fern ndez Island off the coast of Chile Selkirk the ship s master was accused of inciting mutiny and abandoned on the uninhabited island with nothing but his clothing his pistol a knife and a Bible Each day he searched the sea for a ship that would rescue him and prayed for help that seemed never to come In solitude and silence Selkirk gradually learned to adapt He killed seals and goats for food and used their skin for clothing He learned how to build a house forage for food create stores plant seeds light a fire and tame cats Then one day a ship with wooden sails appeared on the horizon The crew was greeted by a bearded savage incoherent and fierce Selkirk had been marooned for four years and four months Now he was about to return to the world of men The story of a verdant mysterious archipelago and its famous castaway is both a parable about nature and a remarkable account of the survival of a man cut off from civilization

Marooned Robert Kraske,2005-10-17 In 1704 Alexander Selkirk was voyaging across the South Pacific when after arguing with the ship s captain he was put ashore alone on an uninhabited island Equipped with little more than a musket and his wits Selkirk not only survived in complete solitude for more than four years but to came to be quite comfortable and happy After being rescued by a British privateer in 1709 he took a leading role in several dramatic captures of merchant ships Although he returned to civilization a rich man he couldn t find a place in society and always longed to return to the paradise of his island Selkirk s well documented adventures so inspired Daniel Defoe that they became the basis for his perennial classic Robinson Crusoe In an account that is every bit as fascinating as Defoe s novel Robert Kraske provides vivid descriptions of Selkirk s days on the island and aboard ship including details of the violent bloody and legally sanctioned pirating that went on in the early 18th century Author s note glossary bibliography index

History of Oceanic Islands Tod F. Stuessy, 2020-07-01 The Juan Fernandez Archipelago is located in the Pacific Ocean west of Chile at 33 S latitude Robinson Crusoe Island is 667 km from the continent and approximately four million years old Alejandro Selkirk Island is an additional 181 km west and only one million years old The natural impacts of subsidence and erosion have shaped the landscapes of these islands resulting in progressive changes to their subtropical vegetation The older island has undergone more substantial changes due to both natural causes and human impacts After the discovery of Robinson Crusoe Island in 1574 people began cutting down forests for lumber to construct boats and homes for firewood and to make room for pastures Domesticated plants and animals were introduced some of which have since become feral or invasive causing damage to the local vegetation The wealth of historical records on these activities provides a detailed chronicle of how human beings use their environment for survival in a new ecosystem This book offers an excellent case study on the impacts that people can have on the resources of an oceanic island Gentle Reads Deanna J.
