Marsden Of Maoriland Pioneer Peacemaker:

Marsden of Maoriland, Pioneer and Peacemaker, Etc. [With Plates, Including Portraits.]. Alfred Hamish Reed, Samuel MARSDEN, 1938 Marsden of Maoriland Alfred Hamish Reed, Bp. Herbert William Williams, 1938 The World, The Flesh and the Devil Andrew Sharp, 2016-10-24 New Zealanders know Samuel Marsden as the founder of the CMS missions that brought Christianity and perhaps sheep to New Zealand Australians know him as the flogging parson who established large landholdings and was dismissed from his position as magistrate for exceeding his jurisdiction English readers know of Marsden for his key role in the history of missions and empire In this major biography spanning research and the subject's life across England New South Wales and New Zealand Andrew Sharp tells the story of Marsden's life from the inside Sharp focuses on revealing to modern readers the powerful evangelical lens through which Marsden understood the world By diving deeply into key moments the voyage out the disputes with Macquarie the founding of missions Sharp gets us to reimagine the world as Marsden saw it always under threat from the Prince of Darkness in need of a bold reprover of vice a world written in the words of the King James Bible Andrew Sharp takes us back into the nineteenth century world and an evangelical mind to reveal the past as truly a foreign country Creating Religious Childhoods in Anglo-World and British Colonial Contexts, 1800-1950 Hugh Morrison, Mary Clare Martin, 2017-01-20 Drawing on examples from British world expressions of Christianity this collection further greater understanding of religion as a critical element of modern children's and young people's history It builds on emerging scholarship that challenges the view that religion had a solely negative impact on nineteenth and twentieth century children or that secularization is the only lens to apply to childhood and religion Putting forth the argument that religion was an abiding influence among British world children throughout the nineteenth and most of the twentieth centuries this volume places religion at the center of analysis and discussion At the same time it positions the religious factor within a broader social and cultural framework The essays focus on the historical contexts in which religion was formative for children in various British settings denoted as Anglo or colonial during the nineteenth and early to mid twentieth centuries These contexts include mission fields churches families Sunday schools camps schools and youth movements Together they are treated as sites in which religion contributed to identity formation albeit in different ways relating to such factors as gender race disability and denomination The contributors develop this subject for childhoods that were experienced largely but not exclusively outside the metropole in a diversity of geographical settings By extending the geographic range even within the British world it provides a more rounded perspective on children's global engagement with religion Saints and Stirrers Geoff Troughton, 2018-05-15 New Zealanders while generally peaceable and tolerant people have seldom shied away from war Even in the current era Anzac Day is a major event here and the haka performed by our national rugby team is one of our most recognisable cultural exports But throughout New Zealand's history there have also been frequent efforts to oppose war and promote peace and these have often drawn upon traditions within the Christian faith New Zealand Christians were not uniformly or impeccably peaceable pacifists were usually either a minority in the more established churches or members of smaller denominations that were firmly anti war such as the Quakers It took strong convictions and a good deal of bravery to question war in the face of majority opinion Those saints who pushed for peace were invariably stirrers This book focuses on Christian peacemaking and opposition to war in the period from the nineteenth century until the end of the Second World War It provides critical insights into New Zealand Christianity as well as peace activism politics and New Zealand society more generally

Biography Catalogue of the Library of the Royal Commonwealth Society Royal Commonwealth Society. Library, Donald Herbert Simpson, 1961 Books and Boots Ian Dougherty, 2005 Remembered by many as an eccentric folk hero who walked the length of New Zealand at the age of 85 and from Sydney to Melbourne at the age of 89 Alf A H Reed was a pioneering publisher prolific author and selfless benefactor

Leaving school at the age of 12 he transcended his working roots in New Zealand's Northland gumfields to found the publishing firm of A H A W Reed He and his wife Belle were devout Christians and the firm's first publications were for Sunday schools But he was also a shrewd businessman and with his nephew Clif A W Reed published a growing range of books on New Zealand's landscape and lifestyle After his official retirement in 1940 he wrote prodigiously including books about his long distance walks When he was at home he devoted time and funds to building up a collection of rare manuscripts and books at the Dunedin Public Library BOOK JACKET
