Marsh Mission Capturing The Vanishing Wetlands:

Marsh Mission Rhea Gary, 2005 Nature photographer Lockwood and painter Gary joined forces for this photographic and oil painting chronicle of the endangered Louisiana coastal wetlands which are quickly disappearing at a rate of a football field size area every 38 minutes Wetlands William J. Mitsch, James G. Gosselink, 2007-08-24 This new Fourth Edition maintains the authoritative quality of its predecessors while offering such revisions as Refocused coverage on the three main parts of the book 1 An introduction to the extent definitions and general features of wetlands of the world 2 Wetland science and 3 Wetland management New chapter on climate change and wetlands that introduces the student to the roles that wetlands have in climate change and impact that climate change has on wetlands Increased international coverage including wetlands of Mexico and Central America the Congolian Swamp and Sine Saloum Delta of Africa the Western Siberian Lowlands the Mesopotamian Marshland restoration in Iraq and the wetland parks of Asia such as Xixi National Wetland Park in eastern China and Gandau Nature Park in Taipei Taiwan This expanded coverage is illustrated with over 50 wetland photographs from around the world Several hundred new references for further reading up to date data and the latest research findings Over 35 new info boxes and sidebars provide essential background information to concepts being presented and case studies of wetland restoration and treatment in practice Walking to New Orleans Robert R. N. Ross, Deanne E. B. Ross, 2008-09-22 Two and a half years after the devastation of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita New Orleans and south Louisiana continue to struggle in an unsettled gumbo of environmental social and rebuilding chaos Citizens await the fruition of four successive recovery and reconstruction planning processes and the realization of essential infrastructure repairs Repopulation in Orleans Parish has slowed considerably the parish remains at best two thirds of its former size thousands of former residents who wish to return face barriers of many kinds Heroic efforts at rebuilding have occurred through the efforts of individual neighborhood associations and voluntary associations who have attempted to address serious losses in affordable housing and health care services Walking to New Orleans traces how a dominant but paradoxical model of the relation between the human and natural worlds in Western culture has informed many environmental and engineering dilemmas and has contributed to the history of social inequities and injustice that anteceded the disasters of the hurricanes and subsequent flooding It proposes a model for collaborative recovery that links principles of ethics and engineering in which citizens become active ongoing participants in the process of the reconstruction and redesign of their unique locus of habitation Equally important it gives voice to the citizens and associations who are desperately working to rebuild their homes and lives both in urban New Orleans and in the villages of coastal Louisiana Facing Catastrophe Robert R. M. Verchick, 2012-04-02 As Hurricane Katrina vividly revealed disaster policy in the United States is broken and needs reform What can we learn from past disasters storms floods earthquakes tsunamis landslides and wildfires about preparing for and responding to future catastrophes How can these lessons be applied in a future threatened by climate change In this bold contribution to environmental law Robert Verchick argues for a new perspective on disaster law that is based on the principles of environmental protection His prescription boils down to three simple commands Go Green Be Fair and Keep Safe Going green means minimizing exposure to hazards by preserving natural buffers and integrating those buffers into artificial systems like levees or seawalls Being fair means looking after public health safety and the environment without increasing personal and social vulnerabilities Keeping safe means a more cautionary approach when confronting disaster risks Verchick argues that government must assume a stronger regulatory role in managing natural infrastructure distributional fairness and public risk He proposes changes to the federal statutes governing environmental impact assessments wetlands development air emissions and flood control among others Making a strong case for more transparent governmental decision making Verchick offers a new vision of disaster law for the next generation The Louisiana Coast Gay M. Gomez, 2008-10-09 Hurricane Katrina gave the nation an urgent reminder of the extent and value of Louisiana's wetlands when daily discussions of subsidence and sedimentation revealed how much ordinary coastal processes affect humanity and vice versa Now with a native Louisiana naturalist as a guide readers can learn how best to enjoy appreciate and protect this vanishing landscape Part natural history and part field guide The Louisiana Coast takes readers across one of only three major chenier plains in the world to the Atchafalaya Basin the largest river basin swamp on the continent and through the network of bayous natural levees cypress swamps marshes and barrier islands of the Deltaic Plain Color photographs illustrate chapters on vegetation wildlife and the rich human culture that defines Louisiana With the intimate knowledge of one whose life has been shaped by this remarkable environment author Gay M Gomez leads visitors to nature trails wildlife refuges Audubon sanctuaries and parks A visitor's guide at the end of the book features destinations open to the public for wildlife watching photography and even hunting fishing crabbing and cast netting Everyone who lives in or visits Louisiana and anyone interested in the conservation ecology natural history and geography of the region will appreciate Gomez's exploration of the land its people its resources and its vulnerabilities The Louisiana Coast will encourage readers to share the author's love for this vital distinct and beautiful place Expressions of Place John R. Kemp, 2016-09-27 Expressions of Place embarks on a journey across the rural and urban landscapes of Louisiana via the talents of thirty seven artists located all around the state Many are acclaimed professionals whose paintings are included in major private and public collections regionally and nationally Others have found their followings closer to home All however strive to express impressions of the land with artistic styles that range from traditional to the symbolic and almost totally abstract Such a variety of interpretation becomes possible in a landscape that changes from dark cypress shrouded bayous trembling earth grassy prairies the gritty streets of inner city New Orleans to vast wind swept coastal marshes and the piney hills of north and central Louisiana Rather than stand as an encyclopedia catalog or history of the visual arts in Louisiana Kemp's book is instead a celebration of the state's evocative landscape in the work of accomplished contemporary artists It includes an introductory essay which places these creators and their works in historical context Expressions of Place provides readers with individual essays and biographical sketches in which the artists in their own words give insight as to what they paint how they paint where they paint and why they are drawn to the Louisiana landscape Particularly inspiring the artists discuss their interpretations of that landscape directly with the viewing audience Expressions of Place remains as much about the landscape of the artists imaginations as it is about the land itself With each painting they have created visual poetry of a land and environment that has become a defining part of their lives
