Fruit for the Soul Dennis Ngien, 2015-12-01 Given a life spent in scholarship and controversy, it is easy to forget how much energy Martin Luther devoted to helping the common person understand and take comfort from God's word. This commitment extended to even the most challenging of biblical texts, and nowhere is this more apparent than Luther's work on the Lament Psalms. Difficult to understand and perhaps even more difficult to implement in life and devotion, the Lament Psalms played a key role in Luther's thought. More importantly, the Lament Psalms were for Luther an essential part of the Christian's understanding of the life of faith. In this volume, Dennis Ngien helps contemporary readers engage Luther's commentary on the Lament Psalms. What Luther intended for the education and encouragement of everyday Christians, Ngien unpacks and illuminates for life in the twenty-first century. Introduced and commended by Robert Kolb, the volume will be appreciated by teacher and student alike.

Luther and Calvin on Secular Authority John Calvin, Martin Luther, 1991-09-27 Martin Luther and John Calvin were the principal magisterial Reformers of the sixteenth century; they sought to enlist the cooperation of rulers in the work of reforming the Church. However, neither regarded the relationship between Reformed Christians and the secular authorities as comfortable or unproblematic The two pieces translated here Luther's On Secular Authority and Calvin's On Civil Government constitute their most sustained attempts to find the proper balance between these two commitments Despite their mutual respect there were wide divergences between them Luther's On Secular Authority would later be cited en bloc in favour of religious toleration whereas Calvin envisaged secular authority as an agency for the compulsory establishment of the external conditions of Christian virtue and the suppression of dissent The introduction glossary chronology and bibliography contained in this volume locate the texts in the broader context of the theology and political thinking of their authors *The Precious and Sacred Writings of Martin Luther, the Hero of the Reformation, the Greatest of the Teuton Church Fathers, and the Father of Protestant Church Literature. Just Policing, Not War Gerald Schlabach, 2007 2008 Catholic Press Association Honorable Mention For decades the Catholic Church and historical peace churches such as the Mennonites have come together in ecumenical discussions about war and peace The dividing point has always been between pacifism the view held by Mennonites and other peace churches and the just war theory that dominates Catholic thinking on the issue Given the transformation of global relations over this period increased interdependency and communication as well as the fall of the Soviet Union emerging nationalism movements and the slow development of international courts the time is right to rethink the Christian response to war Gerald Schlabach has proposed just policing theory as a way to narrow the gap between just war and pacifist traditions If the world can address problems of violence through a police model instead of a conventional military model there may be a role for Christians from all traditions In this volume Schlabach presents his theory and has invited a number of scholars representing Catholic Mennonite and other traditions to respond to the theory and address a number of key questions What do we mean by policing Can policing solve conflicts beyond one s own borders How does just policing theory address terrorism Is international policing possible and what would it look like Is just policing a Christian solution that meets the criteria of both traditions This important volume offers a fresh and meaningful discussion to help Christians of all traditions navigate the difficult questions of how to live in these times of violence and war Biblical Counsel ,1993
