A Theology of Preaching Richard Lischer, 2001-06-08 Richard Lischer s book is a stirring affirmation of preaching s importance as a major enterprise in its own right It is he writes a theological preface whose aim is to show how theology informs preaching and how preaching as a kerygmatic oral practical activity informs theology and brings it to its final form of expression Dr Lischer points to the historically negative results of preaching s exclusion from theology and then shows the benefits derived from the proper interaction of the two disciplines As he elaborates on this theme he explores the centrality of the Resurrection in both theology and preaching the relation of the law and the gospel and how preaching calls upon theology to recover its oral aural foundation For Lischer the act of preaching is an exercise of the preacher s imagination The real work of imagination is not inserting clever stories or esthetically pleasing images into the argument of the sermon It is knowing how to read texts in such a way that they will be allowed to function according to their original power and intent

In the literary philosophical artistic political economic commercial advertising field further texts images etc could be considered but to avoid an excessive increase in the pages of the book we have chosen not to do so An interrelated whole that always shows the same project aimed at the theft of the terrestrial human soul through the construction of a genetic crossing race between terrestrial humans and exodimensional exoterrestrial energetic parasites of various physical nature All covered under a self referring mystical apologetic symbolic religious metaphoric which reveals among other things the esoteric religious crucible represented syncretized over time by Christianity Catholicism Some artistic literary musical works are decoded by in their metaphorical symbolic content revealing concrete meanings other than the hermeneutic custom of which they were the object The esoteric turns out to be biological exoteric

An Outline of the Philosophical Anthropology Stanisław Kowalczyk,1991 What is the nature origin and destiny of man These questions are vital not only to the philosophy This book is an attempt to unite the classic thomistic philosophy with the phenomenological method The first part of the book contains methodological remarks connected with the transition from the phenomenology to the metaphysics of man The second part of the paper gives a phenomenological description of man his corporeity main attributes and activity external and internal The final part of anthropology is the metaphysics of man Human being is the substantial self the personal I a psycho somatic reality endowed with mental faculties The book discusses also the problems of death and immortality the relation between an individual person and social community

Marxism and Religion David McLellan,1987
Marxism, Christianity, and Islam Julian Roche,2024-02-20 Roger Garaudy was for many years at the centre of the French Communist Party but was eventually expelled for his liberal views In the Seventies he strove to bring Marxism and Christianity together to include all humanity in a project to set all people free What emerges from Garaudy s project is a very modern Marxism with its emphasis on the individual its ecological politics and in its insistence on religion as central to human emancipation Although Garaudy himself became frustrated by the failure of Marxism and converted to Islam eventually resulting in his work being discredited in the West it is certainly possible that Garaudy s project represents a good perhaps even the best starting point for Marxism in today s world
