Marxism-Leninism and Theory of International Relations V. Kubáľková, A. A. Cruickshank, 1980 Marxism-Leninism and the Theory of International Relations V. Kubalkova, A. Cruickshank, 2015-10-14 Refuting the assumption that orthodox Marxist theory contains anything of relevance on international relations this book originally published in 1980 clarifies reconstructs and summarizes the theories of international relations of Marx and Engels Lenin Stalin and the Soviet leadership of the 1970s These are subjected to a comparative analysis and their relative integrity is examined both against one another and against selected Western theories Marxist Leninist models of international relations are fully explored enabling the reader to appreciate the essence and evolution of fundamental Soviet concepts as such as proletarian socialist internationalism peaceful co existence national liberation movement and détente

The Soviet Theory of International Relations Margot Light, 1988 The Soviet Concept of 'Limited Sovereignty' from Lenin to Gorbachev Robert A. Jones, 2016-07-27 The book examines the origins development and contemporary significance of the Soviet doctrine of limited sovereignty Brezhnev Doctrine with particular reference to the Doctrine's implications for the Soviet Union's relations with Eastern Europe The author identifies and considers the multiple functions served by the Soviet Union's essentially dualistic or bi axial approach to sovereignty which embraces notions derived from both general international law and from Soviet Marxist Leninist doctrine The book also includes a comparative analysis of the US Monroe Doctrine The author argues that although in the Gorbachev era of new thinking the Soviet doctrine of sovereignty may be developing a third axis Western predictions of the imminent or actual demise of the Brezhnev Doctrine are premature

Traditions of International Ethics Terry Nardin, David R. Mapel, 1992 This is the first comprehensive study of how different ethical traditions deal with the central moral problems of international affairs Using the organizing concept of a tradition it shows that ethics offers many different languages for moral debate rather than a set of unified doctrines Each chapter describes the central concepts premises vocabulary and history of a particular tradition and explains how that tradition has dealt with a set of recurring ethical issues in international relations Such issues include national self determination the use of force in armed intervention or nuclear deterrence and global distributive justice

Oppen,2022-09-21 One of the most contentious theatres of the global conflict between capitalism and communism was Southeast Asia From the 1920s until the end of the Cold War the region was racked by international and internal wars that claimed the lives of millions and fundamentally altered societies in the region for generations Most of the 11 countries that compose Southeast Asia were host to the development of sizable communist parties that actively and sometimes violently contested for political power These parties were the object of fierce repression by European colonial powers post independence governments and the United States Southeast Asia communist parties were also the object of a great deal of analysis both during and after these conflicts This book brings together a host of expert scholars many of whom are either Southeast Asia based or from the countries under analysis to present the most expansive and comprehensive study to date on ideological and practical experiments with Marxism Leninism in Southeast Asia The bulk of this edited volume presents the contents of these revolutionary ideologies on their own terms and their transformations in praxis by using primary source materials that are free of the preconceptions and distortions of counterinsurgent narratives A unifying strength of this work is its focus on using primary sources in the original languages of the insurgents themselves
