Love Is All Around Paula Bernstein, 2020-09-01 A fun and inspirational homage to The Mary Tyler Moore Show now 50 years after its debut with life lessons on how Mary Richards serves as an icon and inspiration for generations of women to make it after all When the character of Mary Richards walked into the WJM News Room in the fall of 1970 one of the most beloved shows in television history was born The Mary Tyler Moore Show would win 29 Emmys over its 7 year run and would later be lauded as one of the most influential TV shows of all time Not only that but Mary Richards would become an icon and inspiration for future generations of women for example Oprah Winfrey Andrea Mitchell and Tina Fey have all credited Mary with inspiring their careers Now entertainment writer Paula Bernstein writes this charming celebration of this groundbreaking show offering not only fun trivia and history but also the lessons we've gleaned including Make the Most of a Small Space Mary's adorable nook in a Victorian home became TV's most famous bachelorette pad and with Mary's M on the wall inspired thousands of women to adopt their own first initial as home decor Get Along with Everyone at Work Lou Grant was grumpy Ted Baxter a blowhard and Murray an all around nice guy Mary worked with all her colleagues with grace and style And at the time Mary's position as Associate Producer at WJM was glass shattering You Can Have the Town Take it How Mary's famous hat throw was an inspiration to independent working women everywhere And many more Something

Ain't Kosher Here Vincent Brook, 2003 In this humorous work Brook explores the cultural significance of the recent unprecedented explosion in Jewish sitcoms Horrible White People Taylor Nygaard, Jorie Lagerwey, 2020-11-24 Examines the bleak television comedies that illustrate the obsession of the white left with its own anxiety and suffering At the same time that right wing political figures like Donald Trump were elected and reactionary socio economic policies like Brexit were voted into law representations of bleakly comic white fragility spread across television screens American and British programming that featured the abjection of young middle class liberal white people such as Broad City Casual You're the Worst Catastrophe Fleabag and Transparent proliferated to wide popular acclaim in the 2010s Taylor Nygaard and Jorie Lagerwey track how these shows of the white left obsessed with its own anxiety and suffering are complicit in the rise and maintenance of the far right particularly in the mobilization representation and sustenance of structural white supremacy on television Nygaard and Lagerwey examine a cycle of dark television comedies the focus of which are horrible white people by putting them in conversation with similar upmarket comedies from creators and casts of color like Insecure Atlanta Dear White People and Master of None Through their analysis they demonstrate the ways these non white centric shows negotiate prestige TV's dominant aesthetics of whiteness and push back against the centering of white suffering in a time of cultural crisis Through the lens of media analysis and feminist cultural studies Nygaard and Lagerwey's book opens up new ways of looking at contemporary television consumption and the political cultural and social repercussions of these horrible white people shows both on and off screen Love Wars Mary Irwin, 2025-02-06 This is the first dedicated overview of the international television romantic comedy genre Mary Irwin builds on the critical work on cinematic romantic comedy to offer a dedicated critical analysis of the romantic comedy on the small screen Drawing on series from the 1960s to the present day Irwin presents five themed chapters around the theme of romantic love from searching for it and finding it to the love wars of the book's title to finding love later in life and in places you didn't expect Chapters explore the genre's key recurrent themes evolving attitudes to love relationships sex class and money feminism and post feminism changes in the nuclear family dramatised through contrasting romantic relationships and shifting discourses of masculinity situating them within the specific socio historic and cultural context in which the series are set Throughout Irwin underscores the centrality of women their friendships and their personal and professional lives and experiences to the television romantic comedy genre demonstrating that it is prominence of female characters and their interests and concerns which have most significantly affected the genre's thematic focus Crucially this thematic approach allows for explorations both of similarities in representations to be found in series decades apart and the way in which such representations ebb and flow across time Additionally the international nature of the comedies selected also makes possible comparison beyond national boundaries

Into the Inferno Bill Ibelle, 2025-06-15 Into the Inferno is more than just another war story It's an intriguing tale of best friends one fighting at 25 000 feet above German flak guns and the other in the steaming jungles of the Pacific and of the unforgettable girl they left behind A page turner to the very end Travis L Ayres author of The Bomber Boys The temperature was 40 degrees below zero when fighter planes screamed out of the clouds puncturing the fuselage with a spray of machinegun fire and sending the bomber beside them into a death spin This was followed by intense flak as a hundred cannons on the ground tried to blow them out of the sky When they finally made it back to the base another enemy awaited them homesickness crushing boredom relentless cold and more mud than they could imagine Bert Ibelle was a 19 year old freshman at Dartmouth College when he enlisted in the Army Air Corps to fly dozens of bomber missions over Nazi occupied Europe and win the Purple Heart His buddy Fran Brighenti served as an infantry marksman on the opposite side of the globe slogging through the steaming jungles of the Philippine and the fiery hell of Okinawa Their wars couldn't have been more different nor could their approach to life While the ever exuberant Fran was a ladies man Bert only had eyes for Red the girl back home who was in love with another young man This is their story one that combines terror humor friendship and a son's search for his elusive father

Tripping the Prom Queen Susan Shapiro Barash, 2007-03-06 Tripping the Prom Queen is a groundbreaking investigation into the dark secret of female friendship rivalry Susan Shapiro Barash has exploded the myth that women help one another are supportive of one another and want each other to succeed Based on interviews with women across a broad social spectrum she has discovered that the competition between women is more vicious precisely because it is covert She tells us Why women can't and won't admit to rivalry How women are trained from an early age to compete with one another In which areas women most heatedly compete How rivalry is different among women than among men The differences between competition envy and jealousy When competition is healthy and when it isn't Why women find it irresistible to trip the prom queen Useful strategies to stop the competition and forge a new kind of relationship with other women Whether you've tripped the prom queen or been tripped yourself you will discover an engrossing exploration of this female phenomenon as well as a beacon of hope for better more fulfilling relationships

Closures Grace Lavery, 2024-01-26 From The Mary Tyler Moore Show to Arrested Development to BoJack Horseman the American sitcom revolves around crises that must be resolved by episode's end with a new crisis to come next week In Closures Grace Lavery reconsiders the genre's seven decade history as an endless cycle of crisis and closure that formally and representationally frames heterosexuality as constantly on the verge of both collapse and reconstitution She shows that even the normiest family based sitcoms rely on queer characters like Alice The Brady Bunch and Steve Urkel Family Matters who highlight how the family is perpetually incomplete and unstable Analyzing the genre's techniques and devices such as the laugh track and the cringe pan Lavery also charts the shift to friend group and workplace sitcoms like Friends and The Office which she contends reflect a weakening of social ties in ways that place characters in an unending state of becoming With this capacious yet svelte queer and trans theorization of the sitcom Lavery demonstrates that the family ties that bind the genre's normative heterosexuality are far more tenuous than we have been led to believe
