

She is Gone

*You can shed tears that she is gone,
or you can smile because she has lived.
You can close your eyes and pray that she will come back, or you can open your eyes and see all that she has left. Your heart can be empty because you can't see her, or you can be full of the love that you shared. You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday, or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.
You can remember her and only that she is gone, or you can cherish her memory and let it live on. You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back, or you can do what she would want :*

Smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

Readings For Older Women:

Readings for Older Women Meg Bowman, 1992 Readings in Unemployment United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Unemployment Problems, 1960 Readings in Renaissance Women's Drama S. P. Cerasano, Marion Wynne-Davies, 2002-01-31 Readings in Renaissance Women's Drama is the most complete sourcebook for the study of this growing area of inquiry. It brings together for the first time a collection of the key critical commentaries and historical essays both classic and contemporary on Renaissance women's drama. Specifically designed to provide a comprehensive overview for students, teachers and scholars, this collection combines this century's key critical essays on drama by early modern women by early critics such as Virginia Woolf and T. S. Eliot, specially commissioned new essays by some of today's important feminist critics, a preface and introduction explaining this selection and contexts of the materials, a bibliography of secondary sources. Playwrights covered include Joanna Lumley, Elizabeth Cary, Mary Sidney, Mary Wroth and the Cavendish sisters.

Women and Ageing Margaret O'Neill, Michaela Schrage-Früh, 2020-12-17 This edited collection considers the ways older women's life narratives redefine culturally imposed conceptions of what it means to grow older. Drawing on research from age studies as well as social and cultural gerontology, the contributors explore the subjective accounts and diverse voices of older women. In doing so, they examine the tensions between older women's social identities versus their individual narratives. In their chapters, the contributors acknowledge, explore and contextualise women's experiences of growing older, thus counterbalancing the often one-sided negative representations of ageing perpetuated by dominant cultural discourse. They focus on diverse forms of life writing, including memoirs and auto biography, digital and visual forms of life narrative as well as autoethnographic accounts. As the chapters in this collection demonstrate, life writing by and about older women often necessitates opening out literary forms and modes of critique, searching for narrative and performative strategies and creating spaces in which to inscribe subjective experiences. Relationships, intergenerational connections and visual and material cues are often integral to these analyses, which assert the richness of older women's life narratives. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Life Writing. Classic and Contemporary Readings in

Parts Two and Four, Sociological Theories and Sociological Research, include a number of readings from the founding theorists and investigators, including Auguste Comte, Emile Durkheim, Karl Marx, Max Weber and Charles Booth, and also include more recent theoretical writing and Wolburg, Eric E.
