Saarc Relevance In New World Order:

SAARC Farhat Ehsas, 2003-01-01 Today in the new world order perhaps a small organisation like SAARC should hold no great significance. It is a tiny body with only seven members but this does not lessen its importance. In fact its strategic geographical location provides it with a special status and it becomes an entity in itself. In letter and spirit SAARC is a cultural, economic and commercial association, apolitical in nature. Still its political importance and meaningfulness is quite obvious and is recognised by the whole world including big power. This study evaluates SAARC as a living and developing organisation and efforts have been made to cover all the aspects in an objective manner. This adds to its worth as a comprehensive and exhaustive work on the subject. SAARC and South Asian Economic Union Dr. Surander Singh, 2022-01-15 SAARC and South Asian Economic Union The idea of the economic union came into existence of the European countries of the post world war II period. In South Asia efforts for regional Economic cooperation started with the emergence of SAARC in the 1980s. The end of the cold war and the process of globalization and liberalization in 1990s have provided new opportunities for further regional cooperation in the region. Though host relations between India and Pakistan and other disputes among the member states always created hurdles in this process. It is important for South Asian countries to manage the bilateral relations and other confiding issues in the region for the establishment of economic union like the pattern of European Union. The present work has been divided into five chapters. The first chapter deals with the origin of SAARC South Asia. The second chapter explains the basic areas of cooperation for regional economic integration. The third chapter maintains the role of SAARC in the growth of trade in South Asia. The fourth chapter deals with basic problems and prospects in the context of economic integration. The last chapter concludes the work with future perspectives. The South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) Lawrence Saez, 2012-05-23 The South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC is an international organization comprised of the eight countries in South Asia. This work aims to examine the institutional structure, objectives and effectiveness of the SAARC in its role as South Asia's leading regional institution. Drawing on original research it offers a fresh and accessible account of SAARC, arguing that South Asia forms a unique regional security complex that enables certain forms of regional cooperation and bars cooperation on other issue areas. The text provides a comprehensive introduction to the SAARC describing the historical developments that lead to its formation and examining key issues such as The inner workings of Regional Centres and their success in implementing the decisions reached at SAARC summits. How SAARC has sought to address critical new security challenges such as health pandemics, terrorism, energy security, South Asia's economic cooperation and the South Asia Free Trade Agreement (SAFTA). Challenges that expansion pose to the organization particularly China's suggestion to expand beyond the traditional borders of South Asia. The work aims to evaluate what scope there is for formal institutions like SAARC to provide a permanent regional security architecture within which South Asian countries can effectively address important issues and will be of great interest to all students and scholars of Asian security studies and institutions in general and students and scholars of international relations in South Asia in particular South Asia in the New World Order Shahid Javed Burki, 2011-03-24

Rapid changes have taken place in the structure of the global economy and this book looks at how South Asia can take advantage of these changes. The author argues that the developing global economy will be more complex than originally thought that instead of a bipolar model with two countries the US and China at the centre it will be multipolar with eight centres of economic activity including India. The book goes on to suggest that in the context of such a model there should be regional cooperation between India and its immediate neighbouring countries for South Asia to advance as an economic region. It argues that South Asia will need to look at its history and that changes in attitudes particularly in India and Pakistan are necessary. The possible benefits to the region in terms of increases in the rates of economic growth if the regional approach is adopted are discussed. The book presents a useful contribution to studies in South Asia as well as Asian Economics.

Demand for New International Economic Order Sandeep Chauhan, 1997. The emergence of the Demand for New International Economic Order as a result of growing discontent among the Third World countries due to global inequalities has been traced through recent history till present. The book also discusses the effect of the collapse of the Soviet Union and the economic manifestation of Communist Cooperation and the emergence of New Regional Economic Blocs like EU, NAFTA, SAPTA, APEC etc.

Supranationalism in the New World Order Paul Close, Emiko Ohki-Close, 1999-03-25. Supranationalism in the New World Order argues that in the post Cold War distribution of global power and configuration of global players the European Union is just one among a growing number of regional regimes that are acquiring prominent roles in the process of global governance to some extent through the operation of differentiated zones of geo political management. The EU is currently the most advanced and influential example of a regional regime by virtue of having the novel European Community at its core, the EC uniquely being constructed around supranational institutions, decision making and laws. But the EU's uniqueness is unlikely to last. The evident competitive advantages of supranational regional regimes in conjunction with the realism generally adopted by the various global players is conducive to the consolidation and proliferation of SRRs in a manner consistent with the neo functionalist perspective on the progress of the EU. Other prospective SRRs include the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, the East Asian Economic Caucus, the South Asian Society for Regional Cooperation, the North American Free Trade Area and the Andean Community. It is argued that the emerging character of the global system will increasingly depend on SRRs, the relationships among such organizations and accordingly the doctrine of supranationalism. The book offers a distinctive way of representing the global system, global processes and global developments with the help of a set of freshly articulated concepts. The result is a novel but highly contentious treatise.
