Searching For Krisztina:

Plays from Romania: Dramaturgies of Subversion Mihaela Panainte, Matéi Visniec, György Dragomán, András Visky, Giuvlipen Theatre Company, 2021-09-23

Plays from Romania Dramaturgies of Subversion reflects the diversity of dramatic writing exploring the past and present of Romania and takes stock thirty years after the collapse of communism. In addition to plays originally written in Romanian the collection includes work by German, Hungarian and Roma authors born and/or working in Romania and brings together plays written during the communist period and its aftermath. The plays included in the collection, edited and translated by Jozefina Komporaly and fully published for the first time in English, demonstrate broad variety in terms of form and content ranging from family dramas to allegories and absurdist experiments to modular texts rooted in open dramaturgy and are the work of both individual playwrights and the results of collective creation. These works share a preoccupation with critically reflecting urgent concerns rooted in Romanian realities and are notable dramaturgical experiments that push the boundaries of the genre. In addition, these plays also seek novel ways to examine universal experiences of the human condition such as love, loss, abuse, betrayal, grief, violence, manipulation and despair. This unique anthology celebrates the renewed vitality and variety of writing for the stage after 1990 and endeavours to place Romanian theatre in a forward-looking transnational context.

Lowlands (Niederungen) by Herta Müller adapted for the stage by Mihaela Panainte (German). This stage adaptation is based on a volume of short stories by Herta Müller written in German in 1982 and focuses on the perspective of a child narrator by way of a series of episodes that centre on mundane aspects of daily life in a remote village against the backdrop of the oppressive atmosphere of mid-twentieth-century Romania.

The Spectator Sentenced to Death (Spectatorul condamnat la moarte) by Matéi Visniec (Romanian). This play is a bitter parody of the Stalinist justice system which totally disregards the fundamental question whether the accused is actually guilty or not.

The Passport (Kalucsni) by György Dragomán (Hungarian). This play is set pre-1989 in a typical small town in the Transylvanian province of Romania in which the lives of the various social classes and the fate of the persecuted and that of those who persecute are closely intertwined.

The Man Who Had His Inner Evil Removed (Omul din care a fost extras răul) by Matéi Visniec (Romanian). This topical play is a sharp reflection on the voluntary servitude in which we place ourselves often unawares in conditions of our contemporary consumer culture and a fierce critique of increasingly dominant tendencies to abandon moral criteria in political life.

Stories of the Body (Artemisia, Eva, Lina, Teresa) by András Visky (Hungarian). The cycle Stories of the Body comprises four plays based on real-life stories as experienced by remarkable women, including Mother Teresa and Italian Renaissance painter Artemisia Gentileschi, and are connected to various cities including Budapest, Cluj, Kolozsvár, Kolkata and Rome from the 17th to the 21st century.

Sexodrom by Giuvlipen Theatre Company, Mihaela Drăgan, Antonella Lerca, Duda Nicoleta, Ghita Zita (Moldovan), Bety Pisica, Oana Rusu, Raj Alexandru, Udrea based on a concept by Bogdan Georgescu (Roma). This is a work of collective creation by members of the Roma Theatre company Giuvlipen aiming to bring to public attention taboo subjects to enhance the visibility of Roma performers and to experiment with new forms of theatre making in a Romanian context Making Contact Evander L. Fragoso, 2025-06-21 Making Contact Novella A psychotic killer is on the loose His victims are exclusively women and each murder is committed twelve hours from the last While the police struggle to pinpoint the next target and take down the killer before he strikes again the F B I has sent in a walking taboo to assist with the hunt In a world scarred by the aftermath of thinking machines that suddenly turned on their creators the federal agent sent to help crack the case is a new Ai unit that will test the detectives on the job and their willingness to look past the bias formed from the incident years ago Will the killer who leaves his victims covered in satanic symbols be apprehended before twelve hours have run up or will another woman lose her life to the elusive serial killer

Embers Sandor Marai, 2003-12-16 Originally published in 1942 and now rediscovered to international acclaim this taut and exquisitely structured novel by the Hungarian master Sandor Marai conjures the melancholy glamour of a decaying empire and the disillusioned wisdom of its last heirs In a secluded woodland castle an old General prepares to receive a rare visitor a man who was once his closest friend but who he has not seen in forty one years Over the ensuing hours host and guest will fight a duel of words and silences accusations and evasions They will exhume the memory of their friendship and that of the General s beautiful long dead wife And they will return to the time the three of them last sat together following a hunt in the nearby forest a hunt in which no game was taken but during which something was lost forever Embers is a classic of modern European literature a work whose poignant evocation of the past also seems like a prophetic glimpse into the moral abyss of the present Unsolved Child Murders Emily G. Thompson, 2017-11-20 An estimated 800 000 children are reported missing each year in the United States Only one in 10 000 are found dead Yet unsolved child murders are almost a daily occurrence of nearly 52 000 juvenile homicides between 1980 and 2008 more than 20 percent remain open Drawing on FBI reports police and court records and interviews with victims families this book provides details and evidence for 18 unsolved cases from 1956 to 1998 Searching for Krisztina Lane Stevenson, 2004 Twelve men disappear in Sarasota

Florida without a trace No clues found no motives Police in a panic cannot solve this mystery A Czech professor from Charles University at Prague Czech Republic finally breaks the mystery In Search of Paradise Li Zhang, 2012-09-15 A new revolution in homeownership and living has been sweeping the booming cities of China This time the main actors on the social stage are not peasants migrants or working class proletariats but middle class professionals and entrepreneurs in search of a private paradise in a society now dominated by consumerism No longer seeking happiness and fulfillment through collective sacrifice and socialist ideals they hope to find material comfort and social distinction in newly constructed gated communities This quest for the good life is profoundly transforming the physical and social landscapes of urban China Li Zhang who is from Kunming the capital of Yunnan province turns a keen ethnographic eye on her hometown She combines her analysis of larger political and social issues with fine grained details about the profound spatial cultural and political effects of the shift in the way Chinese urban residents live their lives and think about themselves In Search of Paradise is a deeply informed account of how the rise of private homeownership is reconfiguring urban space class subjects gender selfhood and ways of life in the reform era New seemingly individualistic lifestyles mark a dramatic move away from yearning for a social utopia under Maoist socialism Yet the privatization of property and urban living have engendered a simultaneous movement of public engagement among homeowners as they confront the encroaching power of the developers This double movement of privatized living and public sphere activism Zhang finds is a distinctive feature of the cultural politics of the middle classes in contemporary China Theoretically sophisticated and highly accessible Zhang s account will appeal not only to those interested in China but also to anyone interested in spatial politics middle class culture and postsocialist governing in a globalizing world
