searches of the rights and bodies of old and young I feel the need to throw yet another book to the barricade The Genres of Thomson's The Seasons Sandro Jung, Kwinten Van De Walle, 2018-09-01 Critics since the eighteenth century have puzzled over the form of James Thomson's composite long poem The Seasons 1730 1744 1746 its generically hybrid make up and its relationship to established genres both Classical and modern The textual condition of the work is complicated by the fact that it started as a stand alone poem Winter 1726 but was subsequently expanded as part of a revision process that lasted almost two decades through the addition of three further seasons poems Transforming from primarily devotional poem to georgic account of the role of man's laboring role in the creation the meaning of The Seasons shifted with each addition of new material Each revision introduced diverse subject matter while existing material was reorganized and occasionally moved from one season installment to another The Genres of Thomson's The Seasons is the first collection of essays exclusively devoted to the study of the work s formal heterogeneity polyvocality and polygeneric character All contributions examine the different modes descriptive reflective pastoral hymnal amatory epic georgic dramatic discourses political sentimental scientific and kinds that cooperate to make up the different installments and variants of The Seasons They probe the multifarious interactions between different genres and modes and how a renewed focus on the form of Thomson's long poem will result in an understanding of the processual character of The Seasons as a synthesizing simulacrum of various discourses and theories of composition The volume s essays map the generic anatomy of the poem in its different incarnations They shed light on the poet's conception of the descriptive long poem and his engaging with formal traditions that would have enabled contemporaneous readers to conceive of The Seasons as an assimilating and learned work to be read through both the works of the Classics and moderns Contributions revisit models explaining the structural complexity of The Seasons proposing others in their stead and consider Thomson as the author of a long poem in relation to other poets both English and in a transnational study Swedish The poem is furthermore contextualized in terms of sexuality and animal studies The 5th Season: New year ku (books 1 & 2 of 4) Robin D. Gill, 2007 In this book the first of a series Robin D Gill author of the highly acclaimed Rise Ye Sea Slugs and Cherry Blossom Epiphany the largest single theme anthologies of poetry ever published explores the traditional Japanese New Year through 2 000 translated haiku mostly 17 20c The New Year R H Blyth once wrote is a season by itself That was nowhere so plain as in the world of haiku where saijiki large collections called of ku illustrating hundreds if not thousands of briefly explained seasonal themes generally comprised five volumes one for each season Yet the great doyen of haiku gave this fifth season considered the first season when it came at the head of the Spring rather than in mid winter only a tenth of the pages he gave to each of the other four seasons 20 vs 200 Was Blyth Zen enthusiast not enamored with ritual Or was he loath to translate the New Year with its many cultural idiosyncrasies most common to the Sinosphere but not to the West because he did not want to have to explain the haiku It is hard to say but with these poems for the re creation of the world Robin D Gill aka keigu respect foolishness or respect fool rushes in where even

Understanding Literature,1989 Presents twenty three oral interpetations of short stories poems nonfiction epic poetry and drama mostly from English and American literature Includes works by Saki O Henry Toni Cade Bambara Lewis Carroll William Shakespeare Homer and others Primarily geared for classroom learning The Higher Self in Christopher Brennan's Poems Katherine Barnes,2006-09-01 In 1914 a remarkable poetic work appeared in Sydney Australia written in the form of a Symbolist livre compos by one of Stephane Mallarm s earliest admirers Christopher Brennan The book simply titled Poems shows that Brennan was exploring pressing religious issues of his time He melded Western esoteric currents such as alchemy and Rosicrucianism with Romantic literature and philosophy and French Symbolist theory This book argues that the focus of Poems is the notion of a higher self It is the first major study of Brennan's work in this broad religious philosophical and literary context Its argument is supported by evidence from Brennan's own library and the holdings of the Sydney library in which he worked Poetics of Luxury in the Nineteenth Century Betsy Winakur Tontiplaphol, 2016-04-22 Beginning with John Keats and tracing a line of influence through Alfred Lord Tennyson and Gerard Manley Hopkins Betsy Tontiplaphol draws on established narratives of the nineteenth century s social and literary developments to describe the relationship between poetics and luxury in an age when imperial trade and domestic consumerism reached a fevered pitch The luscious poem as Tontiplaphol defines it is a subset of the luxurious a category that suggests richness in combination with enclosure and intimacy For Keats Tontiplaphol suggests the psychological virtues of luscious experience generated a new poetics one that combined his Romantic predecessors sense of the ameliorative power of poetry with his own revaluation of space both physical and prosodic Her approach blends cultural context with close attention to the formal and affective qualities of poetry as she describes the efforts of Keats and his equally though differently anxious Victorian inheritors to develop textual spaces as luscious as the ones their language describes For all three poets that effort entailed rediscovering and reinterpreting the list or catalogue and each chapter's textual and formal analyses are offered in counterpoint to careful examination of the century s luscious materialities Her book is at once a study of influence a socio historical critique and a form focused assessment of three century defining voices Language of the Senses Kerry McSweeney, 1998 In this stimulating and original analysis of some of the most important nineteenth century poems in English Kerry McSweeney offers an alternative to non referential and New Historicist critical methods The Bookman .1925 That Wonderful Composite Called Author Christian Schwermann, Raji C. Steineck, 2014-09-03 Did East Asian literatures ranging from bronze inscriptions to zazen treatises lack a concept of authorship before their integration into classical modernity The answer depends on how one defines the term author Starting out with a critical review of recent theories of authorship this edited volume distinguishes various author functions which can be distributed among several individuals and need not be integrated into a single source of textual meaning Chinese Japanese and Korean literary traditions cover the whole spectrum from weak composite to strong individual forms and concepts of authorship Divisions on this scale can be equated with gradual differences in the range of self articulation Contributors are Roland Altenburger Alexander Beecroft Marion Eggert Simone M ller Christian Schwermann and Raji Steineck Arabian Satire Ḥmēdān al-Shwē'ir,2020-04-07 Satirical verse on society and its hypocrisies A master of satire known for his ribald humor self deprecation and invective verse hij the poet m d n al Shw ir was an acerbic critic of his society and its morals Living in the Najd region of the Arabian Peninsula m d n wrote in an idiom widely referred to as Naba here a mix of Najd vernacular and archaic vocabulary and images dating to the origins of Arabic poetry In Arabian Satire m d n is mostly concerned with worldly matters and addresses these in different guises as the patriarch at the helm of the family boat and its unruly crew as a picaresque anti hero who revels in taking potshots at the established order its hypocrisy and its failings as a peasant who labors over his palm trees often to no avail and with no guarantee of success and as a poet recording in verse how he thinks things ought to be The poems in Arabian Satire reveal a plucky headstrong yet intensely socially committed figure representative of the traditional Najd ethos who infuses his verse with proverbs maxims and words of wisdom expressed plainly and conversationally m d n is widely quoted by historians of the Gulf region and in anthologies of popular sayings This is the first full translation of this remarkable poet An English only A Season of Flames William Anderson, 2000-09-26 The author was born in Chicago Illinois spent his childhood in the farmlands west of the city and moved to Laguna Beach California in in 1970 during his service in the U S Navy when he began writing A SEASON OF FLAMES is his story about the 1993 firestorm which destroyed over four hundred homes in the seaside art colony dramatically affecting residents tourists and the homeless alike Many lost all of their possessions and many more gave more than they ever had before Folk-taxonomies in Early English Earl R. Anderson, 2003 A folk taxonomy is a semantic field that represents the particular way in which a language imposes structure and order upon the myriad impressions of human experience and perception Thus for example the experience of color in modem English is structured around an inventory of twelve basic color terms but languages vary in the number of basic color terms used from thirteen or fourteen terms to as few as two or three Anthropological linguists have been interested in the comparative study of folk taxonomies across contemporary languages and in their studies they have sometimes proposed evolutionary models for the development and elaboration of these taxonomies The evolutionary models have implications for historical linguistics but there have been very few studies of the historical development of a folk taxonomy within a language or within a language family Folk Taxonomies in Early English undertakes this task for English and to some extent for the Germanic and Indo European language families The semantic fields studied are basic color terms seasons of the year geometric shapes the five senses the folk psychology of mind and soul and basic plant and animal life forms Anderson's emphasis is on folk taxonomies in Old and Middle English and also on the implications of semantic analysis for our reading of early English literary texts
