the ATLAS 2016 20 and iAtlantic 2019 23 projects this second volume Research Topic explores recent findings and themes emerging as the marine research and management communities embrace assessments of ecosystem time series connectivity biogeography and function at ocean basin scale Research and policy development at this scale has been driven by the realization that multiple interacting stressors created by climate change and anthropogenic impacts are rapidly altering marine ecosystems at the same time as governments seek to promote increased economic output from the marine environment This broad context sets the considerable challenge and opportunity for marine science industry management and policy to shape the frameworks through which this sustainable economic Blue Growth can be achieved Studies built upon new discoveries from poorly understood deep ocean ecosystems e.g coral sponge vent chemosynthetic fauna are highlighting the opportunities for the scientific community to create a new evidence base for long term management For example advances in deep sea exploration technology oceanographic data availability modeling resolution and a better understanding of larval biology and dispersal are fostering more interdisciplinary partnerships between physicists and biologists to model ecosystem connectivity These connectivity analyses can now be ground truthed by population genetic approaches built on datasets developed from next generation sequencing technologies e g RADseq RADTag 2bRAD fostering new understanding of marine ecosystem connectivity Recent Publications in Natural History ,1990 Quill & Quire ,1990 Defenders ,1990 The First Global Integrated Marine Assessment United Nations,2017-04-17 The World Ocean Assessment or to give its full title The First Global Integrated Marine Assessment is the outcome of the first cycle of the United Nations Regular Process for Global Reporting and Assessment of the State of the Marine Environment including Socioeconomic Aspects The Assessment provides vital scientifically grounded bases for the consideration of ocean issues including climate change by governments intergovernmental agencies non governmental agencies and all other stakeholders and policymakers involved in ocean affairs Together with future assessments and related initiatives it will support the implementation of the recently adopted 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development particularly its ocean related goals Moreover it will also form an important reference text for marine science courses BBC Wildlife ,1998 Encyclopedia of Marine Mammals Bernd Würsig,J.G.M.
