divine creation by means of sexual reproduction She situates in cultural and historical context the emergence of Jewish cosmological models for conceptualizing both human and divine bodies and the interactions between them arguing that all these sources position the body and its senses as the locus of culture and the means of reproducing it Segol explores the rituals acting on these models attending especially to their inherent erotic power and ties these to contemporary Western sex magic showing that such rituals have a continuing life Asking questions about its cosmology myths and rituals Segol poses even larger questions about the history of kabbalah the changing conceptions of the human relation to the divine and even the nature of religious innovation itself This groundbreaking book will appeal to students and scholars of Jewish studies religion sexuality and magic A Study of Bagobo Ceremonial, Magic and Myth Laura Estelle Watson Benedict,1916
