Magical Reels A History Of Cinema In Latin America:

Magical Reels John King, 2000-09-17 On Latin American cinema Magical Reels John King, 1990 The most comprehensive analysis of the subject to have appeared in English Magical Reels charts the development of Latin American film industries in a world increasingly dominated by the advanced technology and massive distribution budgets of the North American mainstream John King sets up a historical framework to unfold the overlapping histories of cinema in the continent the itinerant film makers of the silent era who projected their films in cafes and village halls the inventive use of vernacular music and local comedy in early sound pictures the golden age of 1940s Mexican cinema and the new cinema oppositional cinema made with an idea in the head and a camera in the hand of the late 1950s and beyond A country by country account of this new wave allows detailed discussion of for instance Peronist cinema in Argentina 1960s revolutionary film making in Cuba state sponsored cinema in 1970s Brazil and Venezuela and the struggle for democratization in Chile in the 1980s

Magical Reels John King, 1990 The Cinema of Latin America Alberto Elena, Marina Díaz López, 2004-03-24 The Cinema of Latin America is the first volume in the new 24 Frames series of studies of national and regional cinema In taking an explicitly text centered approach the books in this series offer a unique way of considering the particular concerns styles and modes of representation of numerous national cinemas around the world This volume focuses on the vibrant practices that make up Latin American cinema a historically important regional cinema and one that is increasingly returning to popular and academic appreciation Through 24 individual concise and insightful essays that each consider one significant film or documentary the editors of this volume have compiled a unique introduction to the cinematic output of countries as diverse as Brazil Argentina Cuba Mexico Bolivia Chile and Venezuela The work of directors such as Luis Buñuel Thomas Guitierrez Alea Walter Salles and Alfonso Arau is discussed and the collection includes in depth studies of seminal works as such Los Olvidados The Hour of the Furnaces Like Water For Chocolate Foreign Land and Amoros Perros Political Documentary Cinema in Latin America Antonio Traverso, Kristi Wilson, 2016-01-08 The chapters in this book show the important role that political documentary cinema has played in Latin America since the 1950s Political documentary cinema in Latin America has a long history of tracing social injustice and suffering depicting political unrest intervening in periods of crisis and upheaval and reflecting upon questions about ideology cultural identity genocide and traumatic memory This collection bears witness to the region's film culture's diversity discussing documentaries about workers strikes riots and military coups against elected governments crime poverty homelessness prostitution children's work and violence against women urban development progress under development capitalism and neoliberalism exile diaspora and border cultures trauma and post memory The chapters focus on documentaries made in Argentina Brazil Chile Cuba Mexico and Venezuela as well as on the work of Latino and diasporic Latin American political documentarians The contributors to the anthology reflect the cultural and linguistic diversity of current Latin American film scholarship with some writing in Spanish and

Portuguese from Argentina and Brazil with their original works especially translated and others writing in English from Australia Europe and the USA This book was originally published as a special issue of Social Identities Pop Culture in Latin America and the Caribbean Elizabeth Gackstetter Nichols, Timothy R. Robbins Ph.D., 2015-07-28 This insightful book introduces the most important trends people events and products of popular culture in Latin America and the Caribbean In recent times Latin American influences have permeated American culture through music movies television and literature This sweeping volume serves as a ready reference guide to pop culture in Central America South America and the Caribbean focusing on Mexico Brazil Venezuela Argentina Haiti Cuba the Dominican Republic Jamaica and Costa Rica among other areas The work encourages hands on engagement with the popular culture in these places making such suggestions as Brazilian films to rent or where to find Venezuelan music on the Internet To start the book covers various perspectives and issues of these regions including the influence of the United States how the idea of machismo reflects on the portrayal of women in these societies and the representation of Latino Caribo cultures in film and other mediums Entries cover key trends people events and products from the beginning of the 20th century to the present day Each section gives detailed information and profound insights into some of the more academic and often controversial debates on the subject while the inclusion of the Internet social media and video games make the book timely and relevant Writing National Cinema Jeffrey Middents, 2009 A study of Peruvian Cinema and the role of criticism in forming a national cinematic vision

Magic(al) Realism Maggie Ann Bowers, 2004 Bestselling novels by Angela Carter Salman Rushdie Gabriel Garcia Marquez and a multitude of others have enchanted us by blurring the lines between reality and fantasy Their genre of writing has been variously defined as magic magical or marvellous realism and is quickly becoming a core area of literary studies This guide offers a first step for those wishing to consider this area in greater depth by exploring the many definitions and terms used in relation to the genre tracing the origins of the movement in painting and fiction offering an historical overview of the contexts for magic al realism providing analysis of key works of magic al realist fiction film and art This is an essential guide for those interested in or studying one of today s most popular genres Film Policy Albert Moran, 1996 Film Policy is the first comprehensive overview of the workings of the international film industry The authors examine film cultures and film policy across the world explaining why Hollywood cinema dominates the global film market and the effects of the rise of television and video on the international industry In a series of case studies drawn from North America Europe Latin America Asia and Australia the authors explore the relationship between Hollywood cinema product and national film cultures and trace the development of international and national film policies looking at issues of financing regulation protectionism and censorship The Rise of Spanish-Language Filmmaking Lisa Jarvinen, 2012-06-05 Silent film was universally understood and could be exported anywhere But when talkies arrived the industry began experimenting with dubbing subtitling and dual track productions in more than one language Where language fractured the European film market for

Spanish speaking countries and communities it created new opportunities In The Rise of Spanish Language Filmmaking Lisa Jarvinen focuses specifically on how Hollywood lost ground in the lucrative international Spanish speaking audience between 1929 and 1939 Hollywood studios initially trained cadres of Spanish speaking film professionals created networks among them and demonstrated the viability of a broadly conceived transnational Spanish speaking film market in an attempt to forestall the competition from other national film industries By the late 1930s these efforts led to unintended consequences and helped to foster the growth of remarkably robust film industries in Mexico Spain and Argentina Using studio records Jarvinen examines the lasting effects of the transition to sound on both Hollywood practices and cultural politics in the Spanish speaking world She shows through case studies based on archival research in the United States Spain and Mexico how language as a key marker of cultural identity led to new expectations from audiences and new possibilities for film producers
