Information Circular ,1945 Information Circular United States. Bureau of Mines,1944 Animal-friendly methods for rodent behavioral testing in neuroscience research Raffaele d'Isa,Stefania Fasano,Riccardo Brambilla,2024-07-03

Rodent behavioral testing has been used to study brain functions since the 1890s and has become a gold standard model in modern neuroscience Up to the 1950s most behavioral tests on laboratory rodent models were based on punishments and rewards Both approaches can lead to a certain degree of animal pain or suffering Punishments involved the employment of painful stimuli typically electric shocks Passive avoidance and fear conditioning tests among the most widely used behavioral paradigms used to evaluate learning and memory in rodents can be performed using only a single brief shock Other tests such as the active avoidance might require up to tens or hundreds of shocks strongly challenging the psychological welfare of the model animals On the other hand tests based on rewards which apparently may seem more ethical actually still induce suffering in the animals as food rewards are almost always associated with a food restriction protocol in order to motivate food seeking behavior Rodents are starved for days before starting the test and kept under food restriction for the whole duration of the test The distress during the testing session is only a minimal part compared to the stress lived outside of the testing session which is prolonged and continuous Analogously liquid rewards commonly rely on a previous water restriction protocol to use thirst as motivation Animal stress is not only an ethical issue per se but also an important factor potentially impacting on the reliability and reproducibility of experimental results Specifications and Drawings of Patents Issued from the United States Patent Office United States. Patent Office,1909 TRON Project 1990 Ken Sakamura,2012-12-06 I wish to extend my warm greetings to you all on behalf of the TRON Association on this occasion of the Seventh International TRON Project Symposium The TRON Project was proposed by Dr Ken Sakamura of the University of Tokyo with the aim of designing a new comprehensive computer architecture that is open to worldwide use Already more than six years have passed since the project was put in motion The TRON Association is now made up of over 140 companies and organizations including 25 overseas firms or their affiliates A basic goal of TRON Project activities is to offer the world a human oriented computer culture that will lead to a richer and more fulfilling life for people throughout the world It is our desire to bring to reality a new order in the world of computers based on design concepts that consider the needs of human beings first of all and to enable people to enjoy the full benefits of these computers in their daily life Thanks to the efforts of Association members in recent months a number of TRON specification 32 bit microprocessors have been made available ITRON specification products are continuing to appear and we are now seeing commercial implementations of BTRON specifications as well The CTRON subproject mean while is promoting standardization through validation testing and a portability experiment and products are being marketed by sev eral firms This is truly a year in which the TRON Project has reached the practical implementation stage The South African Mining and Engineering Journal ,1920 Insect Witness Chen Shimuren,2019-12-09 Forensic insect scholar Shen Yuan visited his girlfriend and learned that she had been killed on Bird Island Although his girlfriend s parents identified her on the spot and DNA evidence confirmed that her girlfriend was murdered insects removed from the body were tested to infer that his girlfriend shouldn t have been killed at the time of the murder In order to uncover the truth of the matter Criminal Police Ding Wei launched an investigation This is the first domestic and foreign comprehensive novel using insect breaking technology Insects live over four seasons of spring summer autumn and winter involving dozens of species of flies United States Courts of Appeals Reports United States. Courts of Appeals,Samuel Appleton Blatchford,1898 United States Courts of Appeals Reports ,1898 Wireless Communication in Underground Mines L. K. Bandyopadhyay,S. K. Chaulya,P. K. Mishra,2009-08-29 Wireless communication has emerged as an independent discipline in the past decades Everything from cellular voice telephony to wireless data transmission using wireless sensor networks has profoundly impacted the safety production and productivity of industries and our lifestyle as well After a decade of exponential growth the wireless industry is one of the largest industries in the world Therefore it would be an injustice if the wireless communication is not explored for mining industry Underground mines which are characterized by their tough working conditions and hazardous environments require fool proof mine wide communication systems for smooth functioning of mine workings and ensuring better safety Proper and re able communication systems not only save the machine breakdown time but also help in immediate passing of messages from the vicinity of underground working area to the surface for day to day normal mining operations as well as for speedy rescue operations in case of disaster Therefore a reliable and effective commu cation system is an essential requisite for safe working and maintaining requisite production and productivity of underground mines Most of the existing systems generally available in underground mines are based on line wired communication principle hence these are unable to withstand in the disaster conditions and dif cult to deploy in inaccessible places Therefore wireless communication is an indispe able reliable and convenient system and essential in case of day to day normal duty or disaster situations Principles of Spinning Ashok R. Khare,2021-08-26 Principles of Spinning Fibres and Blow Room Cotton Processing begins by giving basic information about the various types of fibres natural or artificial used as raw materials in textile manufacture for fibre to yarn conversion This information includes essential and desirable fibre characteristics along with material on cotton growing The book offers a brief description of conventional methods of blow room machinery including shortcomings and aspects of automation Many day to day examples that a spinner should know are presented and the problems solved with an aim to give the reader an idea of how to use the various technical parameters in acquiring the required working data The book focuses on blow room sequence of machines and its functioning Key features Discussion of the role of electronics in management of various controls Review of a practical perspective of modern techniques used in processing cotton through the blow room An exclusive chapter on modern blow room concept Solved examples and exercises This book is aimed at senior undergraduates and graduate students in textile engineering staple fibre processing and the spinning of staple fibres Losing It Jess Hill, 2025-03-17 What will it take to stop gendered violence What went wrong Australian governments promised to end violence against women and children in a single generation Instead it is escalating men have been murdering women at an increased rate coercive control and sexual violence are becoming more complex and severe and we see a marked rise in youth on youth sexual assault Why In Losing It Jess Hill investigates Australia's National Plan to End Violence Against Women and Children to find out what's working and what's not and what we can do to turn things around This compassionate groundbreaking essay lifts the lid on a national crisis Each time a woman or child was murdered I felt a gnawing sense of urgency If it's everybody's responsibility to prevent violence where does the buck stop Jess Hill Losing It Mining and Scientific Press ,1911 Elements of Mechanics Mansfield Merriman, 1905 Iron & Coal Trades Review ,1908 Vol 115 includes Diamond jubilee issue 1867 1927 The Coal Industry ,1920
