Moving Mountains Coping With Change In Mountain Communities:

Moving Mountains Sara Neustadt, 1987 Examines how mountain dwellers of seven different communities from the Himalayas to the Rockies deal with threats to their way of life and livelihood Land Is Kin Dana Lloyd, 2023-11-16

Responding to Vine Deloria Jr's call for all people to become involved in the struggle to protect Indigenous sacred sites Dana Lloyd's Land Is Kin proposes a rethinking of sacred sites and a rethinking of even land itself Deloria suggested using the principle of religious freedom but this principle has failed Indigenous peoples for decades Lloyd argues that religious freedom fails Indigenous claimants because settler law creates a tension between two competing rights one party's religious freedom and another party's property rights In this contest the right of property will always win Through an analysis of the 1988 US Supreme Court case Lyng v Northwest Indian Cemetery Protective Association which she interprets as a case about sovereignty and the meaning of land Lloyd proposes a multilayered understanding of land and the different roles it can simultaneously play Rejecting the binary logic of sacred religion versus secular property Lloyd uses the legal dispute over the High Country an area of the Six Rivers National Forest in Northern California sacred to the Yurok Karuk and Tolowa Indigenous nations to show that there are at least five different but not equally valid ways to understand land in the Lyng case home property sacred site wilderness and kin To protect the High Country the Yurok filed a religious freedom lawsuit but then proceeded to describe the land as their home in court They lobbied for protecting the High Country through a wilderness designation even as they continued to argue that they had been managing it for centuries They have purchased large parcels of ancestral land and also declare the land their kin a relationship that ostensibly excludes the possibility of ownership Land Is Kin demonstrates the complexity of land in contemporary religious political and legal discourse By drawing on Indigenous perspectives on the land as kin Lloyd points toward a framework that shifts sovereignty away from binary oppositions between property and sacred site between the federal government and Native nations toward seeing the land itself as sovereign Moving Mountains Thomas Nisbett, 2025-01-28 Environmental stewardship and wilderness protection are core values in outdoor programs and require a participant to tell why natural resources are important to them and to the future of our country Today environmental curriculum and nature based lessons are taught in elementary and secondary schools Beyond the intellectual learning in classrooms experience in the wilderness and field research in nature is essential The mountains particularly have much to teach us Mountains are sacred places to people of all races cultures religions throughout the world Mountains and glaciers are also a barometer of climate change and a bellwether of environmental trends Mountains resemble leading indicators in the economic and political battle over climate change Altering our destructive trajectory will be like moving mountains and it will save them Climbing, 1987 High Mountain Challenge Linda Buchanan Allen, 1989 Chronicles an expedition the author made to Island Peak in Nepal and outlines the skills equipment and techniques used in mountain climbing The Alpine Journal, 1988 Asian Environment

Moving Mountains Penny Loeb,2021-12-14 Deep in the heart of the southern West Virginia coalfields one of the most important environmental and social empowerment battles in the nation has been waged for the past decade Fought by a heroic woman struggling to save her tiny community through a landmark lawsuit this battle which led all the way to the halls of Congress has implications for environmentally conscious people across the world The story begins with Patricia Bragg in the tiny community of Pie When a deep mine drained her neighbors wells Bragg heeded her grandmother s admonition to fight for what you believe in and led the battle to save their drinking water Though she and her friends quickly convinced state mining officials to force the coal company to provide new wells Bragg s fight had only just begun Soon large scale mining began on the mountains behind her beloved hollow Fearing what the blasting off of mountaintops would do to the humble homes below she joined a lawsuit being pursued by attorney Joe Lovett the first case he had ever handled In the case against the U S Army Corps of Engineers Bragg v Robertson federal judge Charles Haden II shocked the coal industry by granting victory to Joe Lovett and Patricia Bragg and temporarily halting the practice of mountaintop removal While Lovett battled in court Bragg sought other ways to protect the resources and safety of coalfield communities all the while recognizing that coal mining was the lifeblood of her community even of her own family her husband is a disabled miner The years of Bragg v Robertson bitterly divided the coalfields and left many bewildered by the legal wrangling One of the state s largest mines shut down because of the case leaving hardworking miners out of work at least temporarily Despite hurtful words from members of her church Patricia Bragg battled on making the two hour trek to the legislature in Charleston over and over to ask for better controls on mine blasting There Bragg and her friends won support from delegate Arley Johnson himself a survivor of one of the coalfield s greatest disasters Award winning investigative journalist Penny Loeb spent nine years following the twists and turns of this remarkable story giving voice both to citizens like Patricia Bragg and to those in the coal industry Intertwined with court and statehouse battles is Patricia Bragg s own quiet triumph of graduating from college summa cum laude in her late thirtie and moving her family out of welfare and into prosperity and freedom from mining interests Bragg s remarkable personal triumph and the victories won in Pie and other coalfield communities will surprise and inspire readers Ecology Chronicle Malcolm Hadley,1991 Globalization and Marginalization in
