Mozambique And Tanzania:

Mozambique and Tanzania Frances Moore Lappé, Adele Beccar-Varela, 1980 Underdevelopment and the Transition to Socialism James H. Mittelman, 2013-09-24 Underdevelopment and the Transition to Socialism Mozambique and Tanzania evaluates the promise and problems of socialism in the Third World by considering the political economies of Mozambique and Tanzania The aim is to provide a basic account for Marxists and non Marxists alike interested in alternative strategies of development in the Third World It offers a materialist political economy approach that should be useful to an interdisciplinary group of scholars and practitioners The book is organized into four parts Part I maps out purposes and procedures Part II on Mozambique is a factually grounded analysis of an initial conjuncture in the transition to socialism the capture of state power by workers and peasants Part III on Tanzania focuses on another vital step on the way to socialism the nationalization of leading financial institutions and the attempt to place them under the aegis of the immediate producers Part IV knits together the main strands of the foregoing analysis and ties them to the broad themes discussed at the beginning of this book Mozambique and Tanzania Frances Moore Lappé, Adele Negro Beccar-Varela, 1980

Mozambique's Cabo Delgado Conflict Marko Svicevic, Martha M. Bradley, 2024-04-02 This book uses a multidisciplinary approach to examine the ongoing conflict in Mozambique's Cabo Delgado province which has killed thousands and displaced a million people since 2017 The book investigates how the conflict developed the regional and international responses and its wider implications From a broad range of African perspectives the book addresses issues related to the conflict including international humanitarian law regional security and terrorism Part I assesses the regional security concerns of the conflict the success of cross border counter terrorism operations and their implications for the southern African region Part II focuses on the conflict in relation to international humanitarian law It discusses the Islamic State's presence in the region the trajectory and issues pertaining to sexual and gender based violence and the relationship between the conflict and the environment Finally Part III examines regional and continental responses to the conflict from the military intervention by the Southern African Development Community and Rwanda to the perceived inaction of the African Union The first comprehensive analysis of the conflict in Cabo Delgado this book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners of international humanitarian law security African politics war and conflict studies terrorism and human rights

Beyond Capitalism Vs. Socialism in Kenya and Tanzania Joel D. Barkan, 1994 Explores how Tanzania and Kenya often regarded as paradigms of capitalist and socialist development in Africa have responded to the challenges they face such as population growth mounting external debt and structural adjustment by modifying their original approach to development

Beyond Capitalism versus Socialism in Kenya and Tanzania Joel D. Barkan, 1994 Translations on Sub-Saharan Africa United States. Joint Publications Research Service, 1977 Milestones in Green Transition and Climate Compatible Development in Eastern and Southern Africa Mukuna, Truphena E., Shisanya, Christopher A., 2016-07-25 It is widely recognised that climate change poses significant serious threats to sustained economic growth and agricultural development poverty reduction food security and political stability globally Nowhere are these challenges more marked than in Africa where two thirds of all available land is classified either as desert or dry land in relation to which the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC 2013 has classified the continent as the most vulnerable to climate change variability This anthology is a product of a call from OSSREA to collate evidence based researches in a book in a bid to assess how far countries in eastern and southern Africa are implementing the UNFCCC Rio 20 Agenda 21 and other global and Africa wide decisions concerning the need to address climate change This will contribute to post 2015 development agenda for sustainable development goals SDGs in which climate change and disaster risk reduction will be priority areas of focus The book will serve as a valuable tool for experts advisers and policymakers in pursuing effective green growth policies and practices and achieving climate compatible development and in doing so inspire readers to choose a more sustainable pathway for humanity It will also help in looking at climate change as both a challenge and opportunity for development Further this book aims at stimulating more research in climate compatible development and climate financing which have put most countries at crossroads

Displaced Mozambicans in Postcolonial Tanzania Joanna T. Tague, 2018-12-21 This book is the first study of displaced Mozambican men women and children from refugees and asylum seekers to liberation leaders students and migrant workers during the war for independence from Portugal 1964 1974 Throughout the war two distinct communities of Mozambicans emerged On the one hand a minority of students and liberation leaders congregated in Dar es Salaam and on the other the majority of Mozambicans who settled in refugee camps Joanna T. Tague attends to both these groups by juxtaposing the experiences of the two Using a diverse range of archival materials and oral interviews she argues that during decolonization the displaced acted as their own agents and strategized their own trajectories in exile Compelling scholars to reconsider how governments aid agencies local citizens and the displaced themselves defined debated and reconstituted what it meant to be a refugee in Africa during decolonization this book ultimately shows how the state of being a refugee could be generative and productive rather than simply debilitating and destructive Displaced Mozambicans in Postcolonial Tanzania will be invaluable for students and scholars of African and world contemporary history

The Skills Balancing Act in Sub-Saharan Africa Omar Arias, David K. Evans, Indhira Santos, 2019-01-31 Despite strong recent economic growth Sub Saharan Africa has levels of economic transformation poverty reduction and skill development far below those of other regions Smart investments in developing skills aligned with the policy goals of productivity growth inclusion and adaptability can help to accelerate the region s economic transformation in the 21st century Sub Saharan Africa s growing working age population presents a major opportunity to increase shared prosperity Countries in the region have invested heavily in building skills public expenditure on education increased sevenfold over the past 30 years and more children are in school today than ever before Yet systems for building skills in this population have fallen short and these shortcomings significantly impede economic prospects In half of the countries fewer than two in every three children complete primary school even fewer reach and complete higher levels of education Learning outcomes have been persistently poor leading to substantial gaps in basic cognitive skills literacy and numeracy among children young people and adults The literacy rate of the adult population is below 50 percent in many countries functional literacy and numeracy rates are even lower Systemwide change is required to achieve significant progress Multiple agencies at the central and local levels are involved in skills development strategies making skills everyone s problem but no one s responsibility Policies and reforms need to build capacity for evidence based policies and create incentives to align the behaviors of all stakeholders with the pursuit of national skills development goals The Skills Balancing Act in Sub Saharan Africa Investing in Skills for Productivity Inclusivity and Adaptability lays out evidence to inform the policy choices that countries will make in skill investments Each chapter addresses a set of specific questions drawing on original analysis and synthesis of existing studies to explore key areas How the skills appropriate to each stage of the life cycle are acquired and what market and institutional failures affect skills formation What systems are needed for individuals to access these skills including family investments private sector institutions schools and other public programs How those systems can be strengthened How the most vulnerable individuals those who fall outside the standard systems and have missed critical building blocks in skills acquisition can be supported Countries will face trade offs often stark ones that will have distributional impacts and a bearing on their development path Committed leaders reform coalitions and well coordinated policies are essential for taking on the skills balancing act in Sub Saharan Africa
