Translations on Sub-Saharan Africa United States. Joint Publications Research Service, 1977 Southern African Liberation Movements and the Global Cold War 'East' Lena Dallywater, Chris Saunders, Helder Adegas Fonseca, 2019-06-17 In the global context of the Cold War the relationship between liberation movements and Eastern European states obviously changed and transformed Similarly forms of material aid and ideological encouragement underwent changes over time The articles assembled in this volume argue that the traditional Cold War geography of bi polar competition with the United States is not sufficient to fully grasp these transformations The question of which side of the ideological divide was more successful or lucky in impacting actors and societies in the global south is still relevant yet the Cold War perspective falls short in unfolding the complex geographies of connections and the multipolarity of actions and transactions that exists until today Acknowledging the complexities of liberation movements in globalization processes the papers thus argue that activities need to be understood in their local context including personal agendas and internal conflicts rather than relying primarily on the traditional frame of Cold War competition They point to the agency of individual activists in both Africa and Eastern Europe and the lessons practices and languages that were derived from their often contradictory encounters In Southern African Liberation Movements authors from South Africa Portugal Austria and Germany ask What role did actors in both Southern Africa and Eastern Europe play What can we learn by looking at biographies in a time of increasing racial and international conflict And which creative solutions need to be found to combine efforts of actors from various ideological camps Building on archival sources from various regions in different languages case studies presented in the edition try to encounter the lack of a coherent state of the art They aim at combining the sometimes scarce sources with qualitative interviews to give answers to the many open questions regarding Southern African liberation movements and their connections to the East

The Challenges Of Southsouth Cooperation Breda Pavlic, Raul R Uranga, Boris Cizelj, Marjan Svetlicic, 2019-07-11 The process of economic cooperation among developing countries has come a long way since the early 1960s Alongside the movement from the establishment of regional and subregional integration and cooperation groupings to the elaboration of concepts and approaches for global and interregional cooperation such as for example the scheme for a global system of trade preferences among developing countries there has been an extension of the scope of cooperation originally focused on trade to other areas including monetary and financial matters production marketing and so on Today the process of economic cooperation among developing countries occupies an important place in the economic strategies and policies of developing countries and in recent years with the marked deterioration in the world economic situation and the weakening of international cooperation for development it has acquired even greater importance and urgency Indeed in view of the prospects for the world economy for the coming years it has become an imperative if the developing countries are going to be able to env i sage the transformation of their economies and the g rowth ra tes th ey need Cinemas of the Mozambican Revolution Ros Gray,2020 As one of the first cultural acts after independence in 1975 Frelimo s new socialist government of Mozambique set up a National Institute of Cinema the INC In a country with little experience of cinema the INC was tasked to deliver to the people an image of the people A unique culture of revolutionary cinema emerged building on films made during the armed struggle Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union, and Africa Chris Saunders,Helder Adegar Fonseca,Lena Dallywater,2023-04-27 It is now widely recognised that a Cold War perspective falls short in unfolding the complex geographies of connections and the multipolarity of actions and transactions that were shaped through the movement of individuals and ideas from Africa to the East and from the East to Africa in the decades in which African countries moved to independence Adopting an interdisciplinary transregional perspective this volume casts new light on aspects of the role of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union in the decolonisation of Africa Taking further themes explored in a collection of essays published by the editors in 2019 the twelve case studies by authors from South Africa Czech Republic Portugal Russia Hungary Italy Canada Serbia and Germany draw on new sources to explore the history of the ties that existed between African liberation movements and the socialist bloc some of which continue to influence relationships today Chapters contribute to three relevant main themes that resonate in a number of scholarly fields of inquiry ranging from Global Studies Transregional Studies Cold War Studies Global History to African Studies Eastern European Russian and Slavic Studies Reconsiderations Resources and Reverberations Drawing upon newly opened archives and combining transregional perspectives with sources in different languages chapters explicitly point out the shortcomings of past research and debates in the respective field They highlight new avenues which have been developing and which need to be further developed Reconsiderations Selected case studies address the resources of those being active and involved in decolonisation processes be it in East North West and South They reveal Which resources both material and intellectual are the actors drawing upon On the other hand From which resources are individuals on one side or the other reciprocally or intermittently intentionally kept away Resources Finally the third theme puts an emphasis on the historicity of the processes depicted Studies point to the gaps and dead ends of international support the paths that peter out but also to repercussions and reverberations up until today Reverberations Taken these three themes together the individual chapters contribute to the overall question of Which general historical narratives about the second half of the 20th century are changing based on these new research findings The Principles of Non-alignment Hans Köchler,1982 Distances Between Ports ,1968 Distances Between Ports United States.
