GREX OF MONTE CARLO E. PHILLIPS. OPPENHEIM, 2018 Mr. Grex of Monte Carlo Edward Phillips Oppenheim, 2020-11-29 The eyes of the man who had looked in upon a scene inordinately fantastically brilliant underwent after those first few moments of comparative indifference a curious transformation He was contemplating one of the sights of the world Crowded around the two roulette tables promenading or lounging on the heavily cushioned divans against the wall he took note of a conglomeration of people representing perhaps every grade of society every nationality of importance yet with a curious common likeness by reason of their tribute paid to fashion He glanced unmoved at a beautiful Englishwoman who was a duchess but looked otherwise at an equally beautiful Frenchwoman who looked like a duchess but was otherwise On every side of him were women gowned by the great artists of the day women like flowers all perfume and softness and colour His eyes passed them over almost carelessly A little tired with many weeks travel in countries where the luxuries of life were few his senses were dulled to the magnificence of the scene his pulses as yet had not responded to its charm and wonder And then the change came He saw a woman standing almost exactly opposite to him at the nearest roulette table and he gave a noticeable start For a moment his pale expressionless face was transformed his secret was at any one's mercy That however was the affair of an instant only He was used to shocks and he survived this one He moved a little on one side from his prominent place in the centre of the wide flung doorway He stood by one of the divans and watched

Mr. Grex of Monte Carlo (Classic Reprint) E. Phillips Oppenheim, 2017-09-17 Excerpt from Mr Grex of Monte Carlo Violet here The man murmured under his breath Violet There was tragedy in the whisper a gleam of something like tragedy too in the look which passed between the man and the woman a few moments later With her hands full of plaques which she had just won she raised her eyes at last from the board The smile upon her lips was the delighted smile of a girl And then as she was in the act of sweeping her winnings into her gold bag she saw the man opposite The smile seemed to die from her lips it appeared indeed to pass with all else of expression from her face The plaques dropped one by one through her fingers into the satchel Her eyes remained fixed upon him as though she were looking upon a ghost The seconds seemed drawn out into a grim hiatus of time The croupier's voice the muttered imprecation of a loser by her side the necessity of making some slight movement in order to allow the passage of an arm from some one in search of change some such tri e at last brought her back from the shadows Her expression became at once more normal She did not remove her eyes but she very slightly inclined her head towards the man He in return bowed very gravely and without a smile The table in front of her was cleared now People were beginning to consider their next coup The voice of the croupier with his parrot like cry travelled down the board About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
