Newafricanleaders Contributions of Africans in Birmingham from 1950 Frederick Ebot Ashu, 2012-09-12

NewAfricanLeaders interprets the heritage and history of the African community in Birmingham United Kingdom exploring both individual and collective achievements and contributions to the recent history of the city Ebot Ashu researches the stories of Africans in Birmingham and provides in this volume a unique record of why they or their parents came to the United Kingdom their experiences when they arrived their subsequent experience of settlement and integration as well as their achievements and contributions within their adopted society It focuses on the entire African Diaspora in Birmingham and beyond The content of this anthology is strongly international in that while it may publish empirical research and scholarship undertaken in specific local contexts it considers issues and themes of interest that transcend any single geographic setting The anthology therefore offers an impressive collection of archival material and learning resources for this and future generations and also serves as a testament to the increasingly diverse heritage that UK society has drawn from many different ethnic and linguistic groups cultures and religions In this regard this volume will be of interest to students at school and university to their teachers and to academics as well as practitioners and policy makers in social science

African Women in Towns Kenneth Little, 1974-02-28 This 1973 book analyses the changing position of women in an urban context in sub Saharan Africa In spite of the fact that women at the time of publication were often important leaders of opinion and in these countries the proportion of women in professional work was at least as large as in Britain few researchers and even fewer television and newspaper reporters paid them sufficient attention As the new role of women in Africa was peculiarly a phenomenon of the city Professor Little s book uses the concept of urbanization in order to analyse the radical changes taking place He shows how certain women s movements were growing out of the African woman s desire for a new relationship with the man This leads him to consider the part played by women in the political arena and women s position not only in monogamous marriage but also in extra marital and sexual relationships

Gender, Separatist Politics, and Embodied Nationalism in Cameroon Jacqueline-Bethel Tchouta Mougoué, 2019-10-14 Gender Separatist Politics and Embodied Nationalism in Cameroon illuminates how issues of ideal womanhood shaped the Anglophone Cameroonian nationalist movement in the first decade of independence in Cameroon a west central African country Drawing upon history political science gender studies and feminist epistemologies the book examines how formally educated women sought to protect the cultural values and the self determination of the Anglophone Cameroonian state as Francophone Cameroon prepared to dismantle the federal republic The book defines and uses the concept of embodied nationalism to illustrate the political importance of women s everyday behavior the clothes they wore the foods they cooked whether they gossiped and their deference to their husbands The result in this fascinating approach reveals that West Cameroon which included English speaking areas was a progressive and autonomous nation The author s sources include oral interviews and archival records such as women s newspaper advice columns Cameroon s first cooking book and the first novel published by an Anglophone Cameroonian woman

The Interwar World Andrew Denning,Heidi J.S. Tworek,2023-08-29 The Interwar World collects an international group of over 50 contributors to discuss analyze and interpret this crucial period in twentieth century history A comprehensive understanding of the interwar era has been limited by Euro American approaches and strict adherence to the temporal limits of the world wars The volume s contributors challenge the era s accepted temporal and geographic framings by privileging global processes and interactions Each contribution takes a global thematic approach integrating world regions into a shared narrative Three central questions frame the chapters First when was the interwar Viewed globally the years 1918 and 1939 are arbitrary limits and the volume explicitly engages with the artificiality of the temporal framework while closely examining the specific dynamics of the 1920s and 1930s Second where was the interwar Contributors use global history methodologies and training in varied world regions to decenter Euro American frameworks engaging directly with the usefulness of the interwar as both an era and an analytical category Third how global was the interwar Authors trace accelerating connections in areas such as public health and mass culture counterbalanced by processes of economic protectionism exclusive nationalism and limits to migration By approaching the era thematically the volume disaggregates and interrogates the meaning of the global in this era As a comprehensive guide this volume offers overviews of key themes of the interwar period for undergraduates while offering up to date historiographical insights for postgraduates and scholars interested in this pivotal period in global history

Companion to Women's Historical Writing M. Spongberg,A. Curthoys,B. Caine,2016-04-30 This A Z reference work provides the first comprehensive reference guide to the wide range of historical writing with which women have been involved particularly since the Renaissance The Companion covers biographical writing travelogue and historical fictions broadening the concept of history to include the forms of writing with which women have historically engaged The focus is on women writing in English internationally but historical and historiographical traditions from beyond the English speaking world are also examined Brief biographies of individual writers are included Mission Studies, 1905 Symbolic Narratives/African Cinema June Givanni, 2019-07-25 In the conference Africa and the History of Cinematic Ideas held in London in 1995 film makers cultural theorists and critics gathered to debate a range of issues Views were exchanged on such topics as imperialism and the problems of distribution Feminism and Modernity in Anglophone African Women's Writing Dobrota Pucherová, 2022-07-29 This book re reads the last 60 years of Anglophone African women s writing from a transnational and trans historical feminist perspective rather than postcolonial from which these texts have been traditionally interpreted Such a comparative frame throws into relief patterns across time and space that make it possible to situate this writing as an integral part of women s literary history Revisiting this literature in a comparative context with Western women writers since the 18th century the author highlights how invocations of tradition have been used by patriarchy everywhere to subjugate women the similarities between women s struggles worldwide and the feminist imagination it produced The author argues that in the 21st century African feminism has undergone a major epistemic shift from a culturally exclusive to a relational feminism that conceptualizes African femininity through the risky opening of oneself to otherness transculturation and translation Like Western feminists in the 1960s contemporary African women writers are turning their attention to the female body as the prime site of women s oppression and freedom reframing feminism as a demand for universal human rights and actively shaping global discourses on gender modernity and democracy The book will be of interest to students and researchers of African literature but also feminist literary scholars and comparatists more generally Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024 tracing South Africa s past through approaches of comparative history transnational history and visual history in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender labor and class dynamics as well as regional historiographies The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal s origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's complex history over the past several centuries Africa Report, 1977 Burden or Benefit? Helen Gilbert, Chris Tiffin, 2008-03-12 Essays on philanthropy power and the continuing influence of the British Empire on humanitarian efforts in today's world In the name of benevolence philanthropy and humanitarian aid individuals groups and nations have sought to assist others and to redress forms of suffering and deprivation Yet the inherent imbalances of power between the giver and the recipient of this benevolence have called into question the motives and rationale for such assistance This volume examines the evolution of the ideas and practices of benevolence chiefly in the context of British imperialism from the late eighteenth century to the present The authors consider more than a dozen examples of practical and theoretical benevolence from the anti slavery movement of the late eighteenth century to such modern activities as refugee asylum in Europe opposition to female genital mutilation in Africa fundraising for charities and restoring the wetlands in post Saddam southern Iraq International Directory of Women's Development Organizations, 1977 The Black American in Books for Children Donnarae MacCann, Gloria Woodard, 1985-03 In the second edition of this highly praised anthology the authors have focused on those books with white supremacist content that have received special commendation and that can therefore be expected to have a major influence on children's educational environment Among the contributors are Haki Madhubuti Rudine Sims Julius Lester Eloise Greenfield Walter Dean Myers and Beryl Banfield Africa Special Report, 1976 Beneath the Surface Lynn M. Thomas, 2020-01-10 For more than a century skin lighteners have been a ubiquitous feature of global popular culture embraced by consumers even as they were fiercely opposed by medical professionals consumer health advocates and antiracist thinkers and activists In Beneath the Surface Lynn M Thomas constructs a transnational history of skin lighteners in South Africa and beyond Analyzing a wide range of archival popular culture and oral history sources Thomas traces the changing meanings of skin color from precolonial times to the postcolonial present From indigenous skin brightening practices and the rapid spread of lighteners in South African consumer culture during the 1940s and 1950s to the growth of a billion dollar global lightener industry Thomas shows how the use of skin lighteners and experiences of skin color have been shaped by slavery colonialism and segregation as well as by consumer capitalism visual media notions of beauty and protest politics In teasing out lighteners layered history Thomas theorizes skin as a site for antiracist struggle and lighteners as a technology of visibility that both challenges and entrenches racial and gender hierarchies Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976
