Political And Strategic Issues In The Persianarabian Gulf:

Political and Strategic Issues in the Persian-Arabian Gulf Sayed Hassan Amin, 1984 Arab Regional Organizations, 1992-01-01 Over the past four decades the Arab nations have exercised an enormous political and economic influence on world events Much of that impact has been exerted not through the direct actions of individual governments but collectively or indirectly through pan Arab organizations economic associations such as OPEC or through international agencies including the United Nations and the International Monetary Fund Arab Regional Organizations is a fully annotated bibliographic guide to the functions infrastructures and effectiveness of Arab organizational activity The organizations covered in this volume have grown in importance in lockstep with developments in the Middle East This is particularly so in the areas of economics and energy where there has been the establishment of national control over the oil industry and a consequent economic boom Institutions such as the Gulf Cooperation Council have also become vital to the continued political stability of the member states and to the strategic importance of the region as illustrated by the Iran Iraq war and the Persian Gulf War The book also takes note of the special economic importance of organizations such as the Kuwait Saudi and Abu Dhabi Funds These perform a major role among developing nations because of their project aid and technical assistance programs Arab Regional Organizations covers a variety of subjects but concentrates on economics energy politics and development subjects A lengthy introductory section is designed to provide readers with the background of each organization and to direct them to other sources of information A supplementary section deals with the effects of the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait and the Gulf War Researchers librarians economists political scientists and Middle East specialists will find this volume an invaluable guide to the literature of the region

The USSR and Iraq Oles M. Smolansky, 1991 In The USSR and Iraq the first major study of Soviet Iraqi relations Oles M Smolansky examines the history of the relationship between these two countries during the past twenty years and attempts to dispel the misconception that the Soviet Union has enjoyed undue influence over Iraq Drawing on ten years of research in Western Arab and Soviet sources Smolansky analyzes the complex issues at the center of Soviet Iraqi relations from 1968 through 1988 including the nationalization of the oil industry the Kurdish question the Iraqi Communist Party the affairs of the Persian Arabian Gulf and ultimately the war between Iraq and Iran Smolansky concludes that Iraq has never been under the dominant influence of Moscow nor has it even been a loyal Soviet ally In fact Iraq has managed to reap major benefits from the relationship without losing its autonomy or sacrificing its major interests The author discusses the Soviet Union and Iraq within the larger framework of the nature of influence relationships between great and small powers

The Centrality of Iraq in the Iranian Strategic Mentality Rasanah, 2020-03-18 The Centrality of Iraq in the Iranian Strategic Mentality written by Firas Elias provides readers with a comprehensive insight into the Iranian strategy in Iraq and the region Researchers often when analyzing Iranian geopolitics do not offer a comprehensive description of this complicated variable unlike Elias who provides throughout this book a richly detailed analysis and description of the dimensions and geopolitical variables which play an integral role in shaping Iran's strategy in post 2003 Iraq. The book is divided into four chapters. The first chapter provides an overview of the approaches shaping Iran's strategy through addressing four main topics: the basic approach to understanding Iran's strategy, its intellectual and theoretical principles, its main goals, and its key tools. The second chapter defines Iran's significance in the Iranian strategy through analyzing Iranian hegemony and expansion, Iraq's geostrategic position in the Iranian perception, Iran's penetration of post 2003 Iraq, and the dimensions and goals of Iranian strategy in Iraq. The third chapter reviews the Iranian strategic output in Iraq through analyzing the main variables affecting the Iranian strategy in Iraq as follows: variables related to the internal environment in Iran and Iraq, and variables related to the regional and international environment. Finally, the fourth chapter forecasts the future of the Iranian strategy in Iraq through reviewing potential scenarios. The book was published by the International Institute for Iranian Studies, Rasaneh, in 2018 and written by Firas Elias, a political science and national studies researcher.
