Economic Transition in Central Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States T. Mickiewicz, 2005-11-11 Fifteen years ago twenty seven countries in Europe and Central Asia embarked on their economic transition paths For some the outcome was a considerable success Several others are still struggling to shed the inheritance of the past and to correct more recent policy mistakes Why were post Communist recessions so long in some countries and growth disappointing Why was fiscal performance so different Was democracy a factor which facilitated reforms or rather slowed them down This book discusses these questions in the context of new empirical evidence including a critical examination of the main themes in the economics of transition literature

Bosworth, Gur Ofer, 2000-07-26 The still chaotic states of the former Soviet Union a growing China and the divergent nations of Eastern Europe are striving to radically transform their economies In their quest to become more integrated with the global economy they are making historic changes to move toward market based private enterprise systems In this book Barry P Bosworth and Gur Ofer provide a balanced assessment of the progress of integration among the

Underhill,1997-04-12 The author provides a clear portrait of the dramatic transformation of the global financial system in the late 20th century Drawing on work by a prestigious and interdisciplinary set of specialists this volume looks at the political economy of individual sectors of the financial services industry at regional market patterns such as the EU and NAFTA and at individual countries from the Asian NICs to Europe and the United States The book captures the complexity and dynamics of a sector with vital implications for the future of global economic development
