The Obasinjom Warrior Fru Doh, 2014-07-17 On March 8 2007 one of Cameroons foremost scholars died in a ghastly traffic accident barely hours after launching his most forthright and acerbic collection of poems Disgrace Autobiographical Narcissus Dr Bate Besong was a social activist a critic troubadour and playwright an avant garde steeped in the tradition of the absurd who fought against the corrupt system of governance that transmuted Cameroonians into a comatose and apathetic citizenry neutered by fear engendered by the workings of an existing Gestapo For the first time Emmanuel Fru Doh has gone beyond an analysis of Besongs plays into giving an in depth appraisal of his poems which have for a long time held back critics because of their opacity Doh examines each of Besongs plays and collections of poems in separate sections and succeeds in setting Besongs work in perspective mindful of their concerns and the nations history as informed by a succinct political vision and an already established technique modified only by genre The Obasinjom Warrior which amounts to a brief look at the scholars life and a detailed study of his works is a befitting tribute to a true patriot and scholar who died fighting the forces of evil in positions of power which have transformed his native Cameroon into a province of hell This is a careful detailed and authoritative study of one of the most significant literary figures ever to emerge from Cameroon War in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2008 This issue of African Literature Today is devoted to studies of how African writers as historical witnesses have handled the recreation of war as a cataclysmic phenomenon in various locations on the continent The theoretical question is whether the fictionalized representation demonstrated equitable balance between socio political messages lessons of war and the sanctity of art aesthetics Contributors have explored the subject from a variety of perspectives panoramic regional national and through comparative studies Was has enriched contemporary African literature but at what price to human lives peace and the environment Publisher s description Teaching African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2011 Focuses on theoretical and pedagogical approaches to the teaching of African literature on both sides of the Atlantic and beyond The publication of Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart in 1958 drew universal attention not only to contemporary African creative imagination but also established the art of the modern African novel In 1986 Wole Soyinka became the first African to win the Nobel Prize for Literature and opened the gate for other African writers By the close of the 20th century African literature had gained world wide acceptance and legitimacy in the academy and featured on the literature curriculum of schools and colleges across the globe This special issue of African Literature Today examines the diverse experiences of teachers of African literature across regional racial cultural and national boundaries It explores such issues as student responses productive pedagogical innovations the impact of modern technology case studies of online teaching teaching criticism of African literature and teaching African literature in an age of multiculturalism It is intended as an invaluable teacher s handbook and essential student companion for the effective study of African literature Fiction of Imperialism Philip Darby, 1998-05-31 This book examines a range of fiction and criticism as it pertains to colonialism the

North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics The Fiction of Imperialism attempts to promote dialogue between international relations and postcolonialism It addresses the value of fiction to an understanding of the imperial relationship between the West and Asia and Africa A wide range of fiction and criticism is examined as it pertains to colonialism in North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics The book begins by contrasting the treatment of cross cultural relations in political studies and literary texts It then examines the personal as a metaphor for the political in fiction depicting the imperial connection between Britain and India This is paired with an analysis of African literary texts which takes as its theme the relationship between culture and politics The concluding chapters approach literature from the outside considering its apparent silence on economics and realpolitik and assessing the utility of postcolonial reconceptualization

Renewal of interest in imperialism and literary texts about imperialism Examines a range of fiction and criticism as it pertains to colonialism the North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics First volume in a new series which deals with the differences between culture and politics as well as in ways of seeing and the sources that can be drawn on

Being and Becoming African as a Permanent Work in Progress B. Nyamnjoh, U. Nwosu, 2021-06-09 This book is a timely addition to debates and explorations on the epistemological relevance of African proverbs especially with growing calls for the decolonisation of African curricula The editors and contributors have chosen to reflect on the diverse ways of being and becoming African as a permanent work in progress by drawing inspiration from Chinua Achebe's harnessing of the effectualness of oratory especially his use of proverbs in his works The book recognises and celebrates the fact that Achebe's proverbial Igbo imaginations of being and becoming African are compelling because they are instructive about the lives stories struggles and aspirations of the rainbow of people that make up Africa as a veritable global arena of productive circulations entanglements and compositeness of being The contributions foray into how claims to and practices of being and becoming African are steeped in histories of mobilities and a myriad of encounters shaped by and inspiring of the competing and complementary logics of personhood and power that Africans have sought and seek to capture in their repertoires of proverbs The task of documenting African proverbs and rendering them accessible in the form of a common hard currency with fascinating epistemological possibilities remains a challenge yearning for financial scholarly social and political attention The book is an important contribution to John Mbiti's clarion call for an active and sustained interest in African proverbs

Speculative & Science Fiction Ernest N. Emenyonu, Chimalum Nwankwo, Louisa Uchum Egbunike, 2021 Over the past two decades there has been a resurgence in the writing of African and African diaspora speculative and science fiction writing Discussions around the rise of science fiction and fantasy have led to a push back by writers and scholars who have suggested that this is not a new phenomenon in African literature This collection focuses on the need to recalibrate ways of reading and categorising this genre of African writing through critical examinations both of classics such as Kofi Awoonor's Woman of the Aeroplanes 1988 and Ngũgĩ's Thiongo's oeuvre as well as more recent fiction from writers including Nnedi Okorafor, Namwali Serpell and Masande Ntshanga.
