Knowledge Michael G. Harvey, 2013-11-06 Skepticism Relativism and Religious Knowledge examines the challenges of skepticism and relativism to religious knowledge after the demise of classical foundationalism Whereas skepticism doubts our capacity to know truth relativism doubts whether we can find a sufficiently objective perspective to adjudicate strong disagreement about truth Thus relativism involves skepticism about rationality rather than truth In developing a critique of responses to these challenges by Karl Barth and Reformed epistemology Michael G Harvey develops a Kierkegaardian perspective on religious knowledge informed by Wittgenstein's philosophy This perspective is based on a hermeneutical model of rationality that appeals to what we hold in common rather than private and parochial foundations in order to settle disagreement Although doubt is necessary to produce more truth preserving beliefs we must scrutinize our doubts as well as beliefs in order to prevent the belief forming mechanism of doubt from degenerating into a general mood of skepticism about rationality and truth More fundamentally we must realize that skepticism and relativism are rooted in attitudes of alienation Whereas epistemology aims at a non alienated view of the world Christianity aims at a non alienated way of living through faith that enables both our beliefs and lives to correspond with the truth Books in Print ,1982 The Life of an

Airborne Ranger Michael B. Kitz-Miller, 2018-09-21 Book Two Take Care of Your Men part of the trilogy continues with Jack and Mary Clarke's careers flourishing Jack's training continues at the infantry school air assault school and in reestablishing his jump status His mentor Lt Gen Frank Stafford is now commander of Eighth Airborne Corps and invites Jack for a special assignment to research small unit tactics in the two airborne divisions at Fort Bragg Jack uncovers an old boy network that has led to substandard basic military skills With one unit scheduled for deployment to Vietnam there is great concern making their readiness a priority First Lieutenant Donovan leaves for his third tour in Vietnam as a company commander where he commands two successful operations against VC rocket launcher sites receiving numerous commendations for valor He is now the most highly decorated soldier in the military but he again clashes with Orin Jensen's incompetence Returning from Vietnam as acting battalion commander Mary Clarke surprises Jack with a planned trip to Austria Their love of opera and classical music fills their evenings in Salzburg and Vienna Jack has also discovered his wife's independent wealth having inherited a substantial sum from an aunt and uncle unable to have their own children Money will never be a problem for the Donovans whose family has been enlarged with a Welsh terrier named Patton Jack now a battalion commander with the Seventy Fifth Airborne Rangers plans and commands a major field training exercise at Fort Benning Using high altitude qualified parachutists which includes himself he outsmarts a larger force to win the exercise Daring maneuvers against the Tenth Mountain Division allow Jack's rangers to win yet another FTX at Fort Drum and new promotions Mary Clarke with a new PhD from the University of Maryland fills large lecture halls at NC State University She is one of few professors on campus that give failing grades to students that are not up to the mark even while students line up for her classes which includes graduate level courses on the romantic novels and their many moral characters of Ayn Rand and Victor Hugo

Sense and Subjectivity Philip Dwyer, 2023-11-27 The aim of this study is to show how the philosophies of Merleau Ponty and the later Wittgenstein serve to establish in very similar ways 1 that subjects persons and what is subject dependent or in short subjectivity must be categorically distinguished from objects and what is subject independent or in short objectivity and 2 that the sense of the world as perceived including linguistic sense is a matter of the appearance of things and is therefore perception dependent and as such is in the category of subjectivity not objectivity The first claim is established not only by a study of the content of the arguments of the two philosophers but also by a study of the form of their arguments the kind of fallacy detection they deploy against their opponents exploits a logic dictated by the subject matter In the course of examining a wide range of issues in meta physics epistemology and the philosophies of mind language and mathematics the Gestalt Philosophy of Wittgenstein and Merleau Ponty can be seen to constitute a new sort of anti realism
