

Comparative Education

- The scholarly study of education across different national contexts.
- Akin to other comparative scholarly disciplines, such as the comparative study of politics, or the comparative study of business, or the comparative study of culture.
- Purpose understanding the relationship between education and social institutions, with understanding the goals societies or groups assign to educational institutions, with the methods used to achieve those goals, with the ways to organize, finance or manage educational institutions.
- Because education is not only a scholarly field of study, but principally a profession, comparative education inevitably has a practical side. Interest in impact.

Smart, 2012-12-06      Comparative and Decolonial Studies in Philosophy of Education David G. Hebert, 2023-03-18 This book introduces the educational philosophies of notable African and Asian thinkers who tend to be little recognized in Europe and North America It offers specific resources for diversification of higher education curricula The book expands the philosophy of education in clear language to include ideas of major non western educational thinkers who are little discussed in previous publications It includes critical analysis of non western concepts and consideration of their relevance to schools worldwide The book features discussions of how the work of Tagore and postcolonial thinkers offers diverse visions that increasingly inspire a decolonizing approach to education This book offers a unique emphasis on how a decolonized philosophy of education can especially enable a rethinking of approaches to education in arts and humanities subjects      Comparative Research on Education Manfred Niessen, Jules Peschar, 2013-10-22 Comparative Research on Education Overview Strategy and Applications in Eastern and Western Europe is a two part book that first gives an overview and an appraisal of the comparative research on education Then the book presents examples of the type of investigation that is defined as comparative research on education Comparative research studies in Western as well as in Eastern Europe are covered in both parts of the book This book will be useful to students of comparative education as it presents pertinent examples of how empirical methods can be employed in dealing with central problems in education      Returns to Investment in Education: A Global Update ,      Research of Vs Research for Education Policy Richard Desjardins, 2009-02-01 As national governments reform their educational systems to meet the challenges of living in a globalised world the agenda setting power of transnational organizations like the OECD and the EU have become more transparent in the last decade The phenomenon of globalization has a number of implications for education policy making processes and not least it has had an impact on who conducts policy studies and how This book brings together a variety of contributions which explore recent political economic changes affecting education policy making processes including the ascension of neo liberalism and the transnationalization of education policy making as well as the tension between research of policy and research for policy Working from different perspectives the authors help to provide a better understanding of these two important sets of issues which the field of education must contend with today      Policy Borrowing and Reform in Education Laura M. Portnoi, 2016-09-29 This book addresses the intersections of globalization policy borrowing and educational reform Drawing upon multiple disciplines it provides a comprehensive overview of globalization s history processes theories and trends both generally and in education specifically The book includes an in depth discussion of policy borrowing emphasizing its political nature to provide an understanding of globalization s impact on education Portnoi interrogates the dominance of the Global North and the influence of the global governance organizations that serve as the core of the aid and development regime Using a critical perspective Portnoi emphasizes the manner in which local agents intervene to mediate the forces of globalization The book provides a comprehensive foundation for students and scholars of comparative education and associated disciplines including social foundations educational policy teacher education higher education globalization studies sociology of education and policy studies

The Routledge Handbook on the Middle East Economy Hassan Hakimian, 2021-07-08 This Handbook captures the salient features of Middle Eastern economies and critically examines the public policy responses required to address the challenges and opportunities across the region Bringing together wide ranging perspectives from carefully selected and renowned subject specialists the collection fills a gap in this relatively young and growing academic field Combining discussion of theory and empirical evidence the book maps out the evolution of Middle East economics as a field within area studies and applied development economics Presented in six thematic sections the book enables the reader to gain a comprehensive understanding of the region's main economic themes and issues Growth and development in comparative perspectives Labour force and human development Natural resources resource curse and trade Poverty inequality and social policy Institutions and transition to democracy Corruption conflict and refugees Providing an overview of the principal economic problems policies and performances relating to the countries in the Middle East and North Africa region this collection will be a key resource for upper level undergraduates graduates and scholars with an interest in Middle East economics applied development economics development studies and area studies

Higher Education in the BRICS Countries Simon Schwartzman, Rómulo Pinheiro, Pundya Pillay, 2015-03-24 In spite of the increasing attention attributed to the rise in prominence of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa countries few studies have looked at the ways in which broader social expectations with respect to the role of higher education across the BRICS have changed or not in recent years Our point of departure is that contrary to the conventional wisdom focusing on functionalistic perspectives higher education systems are not just designed by governments to fulfill certain functions but have a tendency for evolving in a rather unpredictable fashion as a result of the complex interplay between a number of internal and external factors In reality national higher education systems develop and change according to a complex process that encompasses the expectations of governmental agencies markets the aspirations of the population for the benefits of education the specific institutional traditions and cultures of higher education institutions and increasingly so the interests and strategies of the private firms entering and offering services in the higher education market This basically means that it is of utmost importance to move away from conceiving of universities or higher education as single monolithic actors or sector One way of doing this is by investigating a selected number of distinct but nonetheless interrelated factors or drivers which taken together help determine the nature and scope of the social compact between higher education its core actors and institutions and society at large government industry local communities professional associations

Patent Intensity and Economic Growth Daniel Benoliel, 2017-12-14 Economic growth has traditionally been attributed to the increase in national production arising from technological innovation Using a panel of seventy nine countries bridging the North South divide Patent Intensity and Economic Growth is an important empirical study on the uncertain relationship between patents and economic growth It considers the impact of one size fits all patent policies on developing countries and their innovation based economic growth including those policies originating from the World Intellectual Property Organization the World Trade Organization and the World Health Organization as well as initiatives derived from the TRIPS Agreement and the Washington Consensus This book argues against patent harmonization across countries and provides an analytical framework for country group coalitioning on policy at UN level It will appeal to scholars and students of patent law national and international policy makers venture capitalist investors and research and development managers as well as researchers in intellectual property innovation and economic growth

Education in Africa Anne Goujon,Max Haller,Bernadette Müller Kmet,2017-01-06 The idea that developing all sectors of the educational palette is influential for socio economic development was adopted later in Sub Saharan Africa than in other world regions Most efforts went primarily into developing the first stages of education and rightly so for many children could not access education at all Today all African governments recognize the importance of higher education and increasingly invest in it They are facing two major interlinked challenges rapid population growth and decline in the quality of education Indeed despite fertility decline the region has been confronted with substantial population growth which will continue for many decades as such there is a necessity to increase investment in education This in a situation of limited resources has been at the expense of the quality and the burgeoning of private institutions of higher education The contributions here discuss the development quality and outcomes of higher education in Africa with a specific focus on relations between Africa and Europe Issues related to the mobility of African students and scholars are discussed in several national and international case studies

Achieving and Sustaining Universal Primary Education Nat J. Colletta,Margaret Sutton,1989      Trends of Economic Development in East Asia Wolfgang Klenner,2012-12-06 The economic success achieved in the last decade in East Asia has brought about a fundamental reorientation in the Western view of the region In order to contribute to a better understanding of present events and future developments in the area leading East Asia economists and men of experience in Asian business from Asia America and East and West Europe have written papers on their research or business fields for this volume The individual articles deal with problems common to the East Asian region and the Pacific area as well as with specific economic problems of Japan China and South Korea The volume is divided into four parts East Asia and the Pacific Basin includes articles on supra national issues for example on the international economic relations of Japan China Taiwan and Korea Japan includes articles on Japanese industrial and business structure technological policy exports and other issues China includes articles on structural change economic reforms fiscal policy agriculture and other issues Korea includes articles on economic and industrial policy restructuring protectionism and other issues The occasion of the publication of this volume is the 70th birthday of Willy Kraus who for many years has been actively concerned with the questions of development in the East Asian region      Investing in People ,2002      China's Education Aid to Africa Wei Ye,2023-05-31 China s rise as an aid provider in Africa has caught global attention with China s activity being viewed as the projection of soft power of a neo colonialist kind in an international relations context This book which focuses on China s education aid government scholarships training Confucius Institutes dispatched teachers etc reveals a much more complicated picture It outlines how the divide between the Chinese Ministry of Commerce and the Ministry of Education hinders China s soft power projection how much of China s aid is bound up with an education for economic growth outlook mirroring China s own recent experiences of economic development and how China s aid prioritized to reflect the commercial sector s interests is out of step with most international development aid which is dominated by education agendas and the campaigns of international organizations and traditional donors this leaves China easily exposed to the charge of neo colonialism This situation also reveals insufficient knowledge production of China and in South South Cooperation Substantial production of Southern knowledge should recognize the international development cooperation architecture as an open system by which both traditional donors and Southern countries transform      Marketizing Education and Health in Developing Countries Christopher Colclough,1997 This book draws on evidence from a large number of developing countries to assess the impact of market reforms on the provision of education and health services The contributors show that approaches that seek merely to pass more of their costs to consumers perform less well than is often claimed and that improved cost effectiveness of health and education systems requires far more than changes in the sources and mechanisms of obtaining finance
