Third Millennium David Walsh,1999-09-14 This provocative meditation on the turn of the millennium explores the significance that a celebration of Christ s birth can have beyond the Christian community Writing from the perspective of Christian philosophy David Walsh ponders the emergence of modern civilization from the medieval Christian past concluding that Christian theology grounds the dominant ideas of modern society He professes the importance and promise of Christianity while rejecting the Gnosticism advocated by Harold Bloom and others that places the divine within the self Affirming Christ s place at the heart of civilization Walsh argues that the Christian faith has relevance beyond its own boundaries for all traditions that find their common ground in reason This contemplative book asserts that the Christian millennial jubilee has meaning for all and that it points the way toward the fullness of life in this world as well as in eternity

Gardens and the Passion for the Infinite Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka,2013-06-29 What essentially is a garden Is it a small plot of land that we put aside to cultivate our favourite vegetables or to grow flowers for our personal enjoyment Or is it a symbol a mirror a reflection of our human passions Within the context of phenomenology onto-poiesis of life we find the significance of the garden inscribed within the web of the Human Condition creatively unfurling its form from the vital basis to its loftiest swings of the period The aesthetic synthesis of our passions is carried by the logoic promise of life its infinite renewal and infinite response The topic of the present volume is the mysterious ways in which Imaginatio Creatrix plays within the human ingrownness in natural life transposing dreams nostalgias and enchantments Jung's Red Book for Our Time: Searching for Soul In the 21st Century Murray Stein,2022-12-10 Do we like Jung need to leave the spirit of the time and follow the spirit of the depths to call out my soul where are you through the windows of our now post modern homes We live in a digital world of incredible virtual inter connectedness but at the same time fragmented and divided on many levels including the psychological The pace of life is rapid and ever accelerating The spirit of the time is flux It twitters There is no sense of coherence in the whole The guidance of a transcendent North Star is invisible to the naked eye of consciousness Our

The Missiological Spirit Amos Yong, 2014-11-10 The field of the theology of mission has developed variously across Christian traditions in the last century. Pentecostal scholars and missiologists also have made their share of contributions to this area. This book brings the insights of pentecostal theologian Amos Yong to the discussion. It delineates the major features of what will be argued as central to a viable vision and praxis for Christian mission in a postmodern, post Christendom, post Enlightenment, post Western and postcolonial world. What emerges will be a distinctively pentecostally and evangelically informed missiological theology, one rooted in the Christian salvation history narrative of Incarnation and Pentecost that is yet open to the world in its many and various cultural, ethnic, religious and disciplinary discourses and realities. The argument unfolds through dialogical engagements with the work of others, concrete case studies and systematic theological reflection. Yong's pneumatological and missiological imagination proffers a model for Christian theology of mission suitable for the twenty-first century global and pluralistic context, even as it exemplifies how a missiological understanding of theology itself unfolds amidst engagements with contemporary ecclesial practices and academic theological impulses.
