interesting meditation on the varying identities and rights claimed by residents of borderlands the limits placed on the

Places is a transnational history of the birth life and death of a modern borderland and of frontier peoples changing relationships to nations states and territorial belonging The cross border region between Germany and Habsburg Austria and after 1918 between Germany and Czechoslovakia became an international showcase for modern state building nationalist agitation and local pragmatism after World War I in the 1930s and again after 1945 Caitlin Murdock uses wide ranging archival and published sources from Germany and the Czech Republic to tell a truly transnational story of how state regional and local historical actors created and eventually destroyed a cross border region Changing Places demonstrates the persistence of national fluidity ambiguity and ambivalence in Germany long after unification and even under fascism It shows how the 1938 Nazi annexation of the Czechoslovak Sudetenland became imaginable to local actors and political leaders alike At the same time it illustrates that the Czech German nationalist conflict and Hitler s Anschluss are only a small part of the larger more complex borderland story that continues to shape local identities and international politics today Caitlin E
