Sacred Water Leslie Marmon Silko, 1994-09      Sacred Water Leslie Marmon Silko, 1993 An autobiographical narrative with emphasis on the importance of water      Picturing Identity Hertha D. Sweet Wong, 2018-05-02 In this book Hertha D Sweet Wong examines the intersection of writing and visual art in the autobiographical work of twentieth and twenty first century American writers and artists who employ a mix of written and visual forms of self narration Combining approaches from autobiography studies and visual studies Wong argues that in grappling with the breakdown of stable definitions of identity and unmediated representation these writers artists experiment with hybrid autobiography in image and text to break free of inherited visual verbal regimes and revise painful histories These works provide an interart focus for examining the possibilities of self representation and self narration the boundaries of life writing and the relationship between image and text Wong considers eight writers artists including comic book author Art Spiegelman Faith Ringgold known for her story quilts and celebrated Indigenous writer Leslie Marmon Silko Wong shows how her subjects formulate webs of intersubjectivity shaped by historical trauma geography race and gender as they envision new possibilities of selfhood and fresh modes of self narration in word and image      That Dream Shall Have a Name David L. Moore, 2020-04-01 The founding idea of America has been based largely on the expected sweeping away of Native Americans to make room for EuroAmericans and their cultures In this authoritative study David L Moore examines the works of five well known Native American writers and their efforts beginning in the colonial period to redefine an America and American identity that includes Native Americans That Dream Shall Have a Name focuses on the writing of Pequot Methodist minister William Apess in the 1830s on Northern Paiute activist Sarah Winnemucca in the 1880s on Salish M tis novelist historian and activist D Arcy McNickle in the 1930s and on Laguna poet and novelist Leslie Marmon Silko and on Spokane poet novelist humorist and filmmaker Sherman Alexie both in the latter twentieth and early twenty first centuries Moore studies these five writers stories about the conflicted topics of sovereignty community identity and authenticity always tinged with irony and often with humor He shows how Native Americans have tried from the beginning to shape an American narrative closer to its own ideals one that does not include the death and destruction of their peoples This compelling work offers keen insights into the relationships between Native and American identity and politics in a way that is both accessible to newcomers and compelling to those already familiar with these fields of study      Conversations with Leslie Marmon Silko Leslie Marmon Silko, 2000 Contains sixteen interviews that provide insight into the thinking and writing of twentieth century Native American author Leslie Marmon Silko      A Planetary Lens Audrey Goodman, 2021-10 Thomas J Lyon Book Award from the Western Literature Association A Planetary Lens delves into the history of the photo book the materiality of the photographic image on the page and the cultural significance of landscape to reassess the value of print to locate the sites where stories resonate and to listen to western women's voices From foundational California photographers Anne Brigman and Alma Lavenson to contemporary Native poets and writers Leslie Marmon Silko and Joy Harjo women artists have used photographs to generate stories and to map routes across time and place A Planetary Lens illuminates the richness and theoretical sophistication of such composite texts Looking beyond the ideologies of wilderness migration and progress that have shaped settler and popular conceptions of the region A Planetary Lens shows how many artists gather and assemble images and texts to reimagine landscape identity and history in the U S West Based on extensive research into the production publication and circulation of women's photo texts A Planetary Lens offers a fresh perspective on the entangled and gendered histories of western American photography and literature and new models for envisioning regional relations Leslie Marmon Silko Mary Ellen Snodgrass,2014-01-10 This companion appropriate for the lay reader and researcher alike provides analysis of characters plots humor symbols philosophies and classic themes from the writings and tellings of Leslie Marmon Silko the celebrated novelist poet memoirist and Native American wisewoman The text opens with an annotated chronology of Silko's multiracial heritage life and works followed by a family tree of the Leslie Marmon families that clarifies relationships of the people who fill her autobiographical musings In the main text 87 A to Z entries combine literary and cultural commentary with generous citations from primary and secondary sources and comparisons to classic and popular literature Back matter includes a glossary of Pueblo terms and a list of 43 questions for research writing projects and discussion This much needed text will aid both scholars and casual readers interested in the work and career of the first internationally acclaimed native woman author in the United States Modernism's Other Work Lisa Siraganian,2015 Modernism's Other Work challenges our view of relationships between aesthetic autonomy and the world of daily life a conjuncture that Lisa Siraganian demonstrates has often been misunderstood in critical studies of modernism Connecting poetry to the visual arts and politics the author provides new ways to think about modernist art's relationship Indigenuity Caroline Wigginton,2022-10-06 For hundreds of years American artisanship and American authorship were entangled practices rather than distinct disciplines Books like other objects were multisensory items all North American communities and cultures including Native and settler colonial ones regularly made and used All cultures and communities narrated and documented their histories and imaginations through a variety of media All created objects for domestic sacred curative and collective purposes In this innovative work at the intersection of Indigenous studies literary studies book history and material culture studies Caroline Wigginton tells a story of the interweavings of Native craftwork and American literatures from their ancient roots to the present Focused primarily on North America especially the colonized lands and waters now claimed by the United States this book argues for the foundational but often hidden aesthetic orientation of American literary history toward Native craftwork Wigginton knits this narrative to another of Indigenous aesthetic repatriation through the making and using of books and works of material expression Ultimately she reveals that Native craftwork is by turns the warp and weft of diaspora and exile      The Oxford Handbook of Indigenous American Literature James Howard Cox, Daniel Heath Justice, 2014

Over the course of the last twenty years Native American and Indigenous American literary studies has experienced a dramatic shift from a critical focus on identity and authenticity to the intellectual cultural political historical and tribal nation contexts from which these Indigenous literatures emerge. The Oxford Handbook of Indigenous American Literature reflects on these changes and provides a complete overview of the current state of the field. The Handbook's forty-three essays organized into four sections cover oral traditions poetry drama non-fiction fiction and other forms of Indigenous American writing from the seventeenth through the twenty-first century. Part I attends to literary histories across a range of communities providing for example analyses of Inuit Chicana o Anishinaabe and M'tis literary practices. Part II draws on earlier disciplinary and historical contexts to focus on specific genres as authors discuss Indigenous non-fiction emergent trans Indigenous autobiography Mexicanoh and Spanish poetry Native drama in the U.S. and Canada and even a new Indigenous children's literature canon. The third section delves into contemporary modes of critical inquiry to expound on politics of place comparative Indigenism trans Indigenism Native rhetoric and the power of Indigenous writing to communities of readers. A final section thoroughly explores the geographical breadth and expanded definition of Indigenous American through detailed accounts of literature from Indian Territory the Red Atlantic the far North Yucatán Amerika Samoa and Francophone Quebec. Together the volume is the most comprehensive and expansive critical handbook of Indigenous American literatures published to date. It is the first to fully take into account the last twenty years of recovery and scholarship and the first to most significantly address the diverse range of texts secondary archives writing traditions literary histories geographic and political contexts and critical discourses in the field.
