Europe in transition and the Korean peninsula Dalchoong Kim, 1991 South Korean Engagement Policies and North Korea Key-young Son, 2006-11-22 A fresh historical and theoretical exploration of the much debated but still elusive question of the Korean divide In contrast to much of the literature on the divide which deals with state building on the two sides of the Demilitarized Zone this book sheds light on the slow but steady process of homogenization between the two estranged peoples as accelerated after the end of the Cold War and especially after the inauguration of President Kim Dae jung in 1998 Providing immense empirical detail as well as theoretical debate on the ideas in policy shaping in South Korea the book presents a rich history of enemies and covers issues including an overview of the structural shift and the rise and fall of identity groups in South Korea history of enemy making and peace building North Korea s external relations with the US Japan and Europe Hyundai s groundbreaking cross border tourism and other economic cooperation projects the lingering nuclear weapons crises By focusing on the question of identities the book presents a new approach on one of the most important legacies of the Cold War and threat to peace in the contemporary world the divided Korean peninsula As such it fills a major gap in the literature utilizing new theoretical and empirical frameworks to deal with the Korean division and its future implications in East Asia

Towards a Northeast Asian Security Community Bernhard Seliger, Werner Pascha, 2011-06-25 The Northeast Asian security environment is closely linked to Korea's growth perspectives for the future The spectacular rise of the South Korean economy in the past half century also known as Miracle on the Han River has been duly highlighted as one of the most successful cases of economic development worldwide However among the factors curbing South Korea's growth perspectives has been from the very beginning of its rise the coexistence of the difficult neighbour to the North Democratic People's Republic of Korea While in the cold war this coexistence has been taken as inevitable after the end of the cold war there were hopes to overcome this obstacle to further growth either through collapse or enhanced cooperation with the North neither of which became reality North Korea's unprecedented aggressiveness and development of long range ballistic missiles and nuclear devices made this threat truly an international question with multilateral talks coming into existence as ad hoc measures to cope with the nuclear crisis. It was then that the idea of a Northeast Asian Security Community was born. The contributions in this book discuss how a peaceful solution of the security problems could not only enhance stability of Korea's economy and reduce the defense burden considerably (the so-called peace dividend) but would facilitate regional investments, safer and regional solutions for common economic problems. When discussing the possibilities of a security framework or in an institutionalized form (security community in Northeast Asia), the authors in this volume are realistic as to not fall into the trap of wishful thinking, which so often has characterized approaches to North Korea, resulting in disappointment. The past two years again saw the rising of tensions in Northeast Asia, and the masterful way in which even an impoverished and isolated country can play its cards. While it seems a new ice age between the two Koreas is possible, nevertheless, and maybe even more than ever, the search for a stable security framework for Northeast Asia as a precondition for peaceful economic cooperation and development will go on. The chapters in this volume contribute to the ongoing debate to secure peace and development in Northeast Asia, making this book of interest to both academics and policy makers alike.

The Changing Military Balance in the Koreas and Northeast Asia Anthony H. Cordesman, Aaron Lin, 2015-07-07. The tensions between the Koreas and the potential involvement of China, Japan, Russia, and the United States in a Korean conflict create a nearly open-ended spectrum of possible conflicts. These conflicts could range from posturing and threats to a major conventional conflict on the Korean peninsula with intervention by outside powers to the extreme of nuclear conflict. The Korean balance is also affected by the uncertain mix of cooperation and competition between the United States and China, particularly with the U.S. pivot toward Asia and the steady modernization of Chinese forces. This new volume, up to date through Spring 2015, provides a detailed examination of the military forces in Northeast Asia: North and South Korea, China, Russia, Japan, and the United States, setting those forces in the larger geostrategic context.

North Korea in Transition Kyung-Ae Park, Scott Snyder, 2012-10-05. Following the death of Kim Jong Il, North Korea has entered a period of profound transformation laden with uncertainty. This authoritative book brings together the world's leading North Korea experts to analyze both the challenges and prospects the country is facing. Drawing on the contributors' expertise across a range of disciplines, the book examines North Korea's political, economic, social, and foreign policy concerns. Considering the implications for Pyongyang's transition, it focuses especially on the transformation of ideology, the Worker's Party of Korea, the military effects of the Arab Spring, the emerging merchant class, cultural infiltration from the South, Western aid, and global economic integration. The contributors also assess the impact of North Korea's new policies on China, South Korea, the United States, and the rest of the world. Comprehensive and deeply knowledgeable, their analysis is especially crucial given the power consolidation efforts of the new leadership underway in Pyongyang and the implications for both domestic and international politics.

Contributions by Nicholas Anderson, Charles Armstrong, Bradley Babson, Victor Cha, Bruce Cumings, Nicholas Eberstadt, Ken Gause, David Kang, Andrei Lankov, Woo Young Lee, Liu Ming Haksun Paik, Kyung Ae Park, Terence Roehrig, Jungmin Seo, and Scott Snyder.
