Magic Middletown Dwight W. Hoover, 1986-01-01 Rooting for the Home Team Daniel A. Nathan, 2013-05-01 Rooting for the Home Team examines how various American communities create and maintain a sense of collective identity through sports Looking at large cities such as Chicago Baltimore and Los Angeles as well as small rural towns suburbs and college towns the contributors consider the idea that rooting for local athletes and home teams often symbolizes a community's preferred understanding of itself and that doing so is an expression of connectedness public pride and pleasure and personal identity Some of the wide ranging essays point out that financial interests also play a significant role in encouraging fan bases and modern media have made every seasonal sport into yearlong obsessions Celebrities show up for big games politicians throw out first pitches and taxpayers pay plenty for new stadiums and arenas The essays in Rooting for the Home Team cover a range of professional and amateur athletics including teams in basketball football baseball and even the phenomenon of no glove softball Contributors are Amy Bass Susan Cahn Mark Dyreson Michael Ezra Elliott J Gorn Christopher Lamberti Allison Lauterbach Catherine M Lewis Shelley Lucas Daniel A Nathan Michael Oriard Carlo Rotella Jaime Schultz Mike Tanier David K Wiggins and David W Zang

Marketplace of the Gods Larry Witham, 2010-05-05 Two centuries after Adam Smith illuminated the workings of the marketplace a new movement among economists and social scientists is expanding his insights into a groundbreaking economics of religion Using cutting edge ideas from the behavioral sciences and a deep knowledge of religious history this new approach is making sense not only of past beliefs but of religion today In Marketplace of the Gods award winning journalist Larry Witham tells the inside story of this expanding economic approach to religion the puzzles it tries to solve the controversies it has stirred and the people who are making it happen He shows that the economic approach while evoking images of stock markets or accounting ledgers actually begins with a simple idea about human beings as rational actors judging costs and benefits in life Every life has limits so human experience is a series of trade offs balancing resources to make choices for the best possible benefits As the economics of religion shows this model can be applied to the rich story of the human race and its gods Beginning with the individual the choices in religion shape households groups movements and entire religious economies of nations On the one hand this mixing of the profane and the sacred the economic and the religious is an exciting exchange of ideas between economics sociology psychology history and theology On the other it has spurred a lively protest Indeed for some the economic approach seems to transform our good angels into grubby consumers As Witham shows however the economic approach to religion has insights for everyone believers and skeptics alike He illuminates this approach in a volume rich with ideas history contemporary events and the insights of some of our sharpest modern day thinkers
