Excerpt CHAPTER LX GOLDEN TOKENS Mount Beauty was now surmounted. Its toj j o t acclivity was behind me. This demand the present volume is intended to meet giving as it does the public and private career of Mr Davis and we respectfully offer it as an unprecedented record entirely authentic and beyond refutation. Many wonder ful events connected with his psychological development are published for the first time in this work and the secret of his extraordinary gift is explained and established in a new and most satisfactory manner. We offer it also with the belief that its pages are fraught with pure sentiments which may be advantageously read by parents and children teachers and pupils reformers and philosophers. Indeed with all due deference to the views of able critics and scholars whose judgments upon this work are yet to be pronounced we are free to express our opinion that every class of readers will rise from its perusal not merely de lighted with the simple pathos and dramatic romance which pervade every page but with clearer views and nobler purposes.
