of mathematics education as it appeared to the contributors in 1995. Inevitably there were certain omissions; some developments were only starting to emerge and some literatures were only sketchy and speculative. However, that Handbook has had to be reprinted three times so it clearly fulfilled a need and I personally hope that it lived up to what I wrote in its Introduction. The Handbook thus attempts not merely to present a description of the international state of the field but also to offer synthetic and reflective overviews on the different directions being taken by the field, on the gaps existing in our present knowledge on the current problems being faced and on the future possibilities for development. Bishop et al (1996). Since that time there has been even more activity in our field and now seems a good time to take stock again to reflect on what has happened since 1995 and to create a second Handbook with the same overall goals.

The Minimum Core for Numeracy: Audit and Test Mark Patmore, Sarah Woodhouse, 2009-07-29. This book supports trainee teachers in the Lifelong Learning Sector in the assessment of their numeracy knowledge. A self-audit section is included to help trainees understand their level of competence and confidence in numeracy and will help them identify any gaps in their knowledge and skills. This is followed by exercises and activities to support and enhance learning. The book covers all the content of the LLUK standards for the minimum core for numeracy. Coverage and assessment of the minimum core have to be embedded in all Certificate and Diploma courses leading to QTLS and ATLS status.
