Moving Beyond Sectarianism Religion Conflict And Reconciliation In Northe:

Anti-Sectarianism and Reconciliation in Northern Ireland Cillian McGrattan, 2024-08-12 This book addresses the limitations of dominant ways of thinking about and doing politics in Northern Ireland Arguing for the foregrounding of anti sectarianism as a way of displacing the divisive dynamics of religion and nationalism it provides a new lens for studying Northern Ireland Drawing upon a close reading of the political philosophy of Jacques Ranci re the book aligns anti sectarianism to the ways that people refuse affiliation with the traditional ethnic values and practices It describes this refusal as dis identification and reveals how dissensus acts as an alternative to the displacing of equality Returning equality and equality claims making to a clear position of visibility the book provides a radical rethinking of Northern Ireland a quarter century beyond the 1998 peace accord It will appeal to all those interested in politics and peacebuilding studies

Religious Leaders and Conflict Transformation Nukhet A. Sandal, 2017-02-16 Religious dimension of contemporary conflicts and the rise of faith based movements worldwide require policymakers to identify the channels through which religious leaders can play a constructive role While religious fundamentalisms are in the news every day we do not hear about the potential and actual role of religious actors in creating a peaceful and just society Countering this trend Sandal draws attention to how religious actors helped prepare the ground for stabilizing political initiatives ranging from abolition of apartheid South Africa to the signing of the Lome Peace Agreement Sierra Leone Taking Northern Ireland as a basis and using declarations and speeches of more than forty years this book builds a new perspective that recognizes the religious actors agency showing how religious actors can have an impact on public opinion and policymaking in today s world The Catholic Church and the Northern Ireland Troubles, 1968-1998 Margaret M. Scull, 2019-09-11 Until surprisingly recently the history of the Irish Catholic Church during the Northern Irish Troubles was written by Irish priests and bishops and was commemorative rather than analytical This study uses the Troubles as a case study to evaluate the role of the Catholic Church in mediating conflict During the Troubles these priests and bishops often worked behind the scenes acting as go betweens for the British government and republican paramilitaries to bring about a peaceful solution However this study also looks more broadly at the actions of the American Irish and English Catholic Churches as well as that of the Vatican to uncover the full impact of the Church on the conflict This critical analysis of previously neglected state Irish and English Catholic Church archival material changes our perspective on the role of a religious institution in a modern conflict

Handbook of Restorative Justice Dennis Sullivan, Larry Tifft, 2007-05-07 Handbook of Restorative Justice is a collection of original cutting edge essays that offer an insightful and critical assessment of the theory principles and practices of restorative justice around the globe This much awaited volume is a response to the cry of students scholars and practitioners of restorative justice for a comprehensive resource about a practice that is radically transforming the way the human community responds to loss trauma and harm Its diverse essays not only explore the various methods of responding nonviolently to harms done by persons groups global corporations and nation states but also examine the dimensions of restorative justice in relation to criminology victimology traumatology and feminist studies In addition They contain prescriptions for how communities might re structure their family school and workplace life according to restorative values This Handbook is an essential tool for every serious student of criminal social and restorative justice Track III Actions Helena Desivilya Syna, Geoffrey Corry, 2023-01-30 Since the end of the Cold War in the early 90s a multi track approach to peacemaking has been developed by academics and practitioners to bring political and civil society leaders together from across the divide of contested societies to find ways out of the conflict Much of the focus up to now has been given to the strategic contribution of Track II conflict analysis and problem solving workshops This book puts the spotlight on the role that grassroots leaders and citizens can play at Track III level in the community in building and strengthening a bottom up approach to conflict transformation following protracted conflicts In Part 1 the focus is on the post conflict situation of Northern Ireland twenty years after the Belfast Good Friday Agreement Part 2 portrays scholarly and practitioners perspectives and actions in communities and organizations designed to build partnerships in order to counteract the legacies of active protracted conflict Plots the role of Track III approaches within a multi track peacemaking pyramid in the protracted conflict and post conflict phases of conflict transformation Provides case studies on how to engage community leaders in thinking together how to work with deep seated legacies of protracted conflicts Explores the contribution of bottom up models to build intergroup partnerships within and between local communities Focuses on the interface between research and practice Peace and Reconciliation Pauline Kollontai, 2016-05-13 Establishing a shared identity is an important part of any process of peace and reconciliation This book discusses issues and theories of identity formation that can be implemented for peace and reconciliation from the perspectives of theology and religious studies whilst interacting with politics socio cultural studies and economics By focusing on the theme of peace and reconciliation and employing an interdisciplinary approach this volume will make a significant contribution to the discussion of the situation of the Korean peninsula and wider global contexts The volume explores theoretical issues such as political and economic implications of reconciliation interfaith and biblical perspectives and the role of religion in peace making Furthermore the contributors examine practical implications of the theme in the contexts of Germany Northern Ireland South Africa India East Asia Bosnia Herzegovina and the Korean peninsula The book offers invaluable insights for policy makers academics and lay leaders besides being an important tool for researchers and students of theology religion sociology politics and history A New History of Ireland Volume VII J. R. Hill, 2003-12-04 A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to the present day Volume VII covers a period of major significance in Ireland's history It outlines the division of Ireland and the eventual establishment of the Irish Republic It provides comprehensive coverage of political developments north and south as well as offering chapters on the economy literature in English and Irish the Irish language the visual arts emigration and immigration and the history of women The contributors to this volume all specialists in their field provide the most comprehensive treatment of these developments of any single volume survey of twentieth century Ireland      From Suffering to Solidarity Andrew P Klager,2016-04-28 As experiences of suffering continue to influence the responses of identity groups in the midst of violent conflict a way to harness their narratives stories memories and myths in transformative and non violent ways is needed From Suffering to Solidarity explores the historical seeds of Mennonite peacebuilding approaches and their application in violent conflicts around the world The authors in this book first draw out the experiences of Anabaptists and Mennonites from the sixteenth century originsthrough to the present that have shaped their approaches to conflict transformation and inspired new generations of Mennonites to engage in relief development and peacebuilding to alleviate the suffering of others whose experiences today reflect those of their ancestors Authors then explore the various peacebuilding approaches methods and initiatives that have emerged from this Mennonite narrative and its preservation and dissemination in subsequent generations Finally the book examines how this combined historical sensitivity and resulting peacebuilding theory and practice have been applied in violent conflicts around the world noting both successes and challenges Ultimately From Suffering to Solidarity attempts to answer a question How can a robust historical infrastructure be used to inspire empathetic solidarity with the Other and shape nonviolent ways of transforming conflict to thrust a stick in the spokes of the cycle of violence      Safeguarding the Stranger Jayme R. Reaves,2016-07-13 What are the resources and teachings in Judaism Christianity and Islam that take hospitality and its call to provide protective hospitality seriously enough to inform shared action and belief on behalf of the threatened other This book argues that protective hospitality and its faith based foundations as seen in the Abrahamic traditions of Judaism Christianity and Islam merit greater theological attention and that the practice of protective hospitality in Christianity can be enhanced by better understandings of Judaism s and Islam s practices of hospitality namely their codes and etiquettes related to honor Safeguarding the Stranger draws especially on two currents in contemporary Christian theologies 1 a contextual and political theological approach informed by liberation and feminist theologies and 2 a cooperative and complementary theological approach informed by interreligious Abrahamic and hospitable approaches to dialogue This book is unique in that it seeks to contribute to academic debates within theology and religious dialogue as well as to discussions within the fields of peace studies and conflict resolution on the positive role that religions might play in contexts of conflict      Devolution and Pluralism in Education in Northern Ireland Caitlin Donnelly,Penny McKeown,Robert Osborne,2006-03-17 This is the second of two anthologies designed to accompany the Open University course From Enlightenment to Romanticism an interdisciplinary exploration of the changes and transitions in European culture between 1780 and 1830 The collection of extracts in this anthology provides primary and secondary sources on changing landscapes new forms of knowledge new conceptions of art and the artist and the exotic and Oriental Each selection is accompanied by a detailed introduction explaining the context and significance of the sources Extracts in the anthology stimulate questions rather than provide reassuring answers and offer vital insights to the major events movements and personalities of the time

Liberalism and War Andrew J. Williams, 2024-12-27 In this book leading scholar Andrew J Williams examines contemporary liberal thinking on the ending of wars and puts it into its historical context Using a vast range of archival material he examines the main strategies used by liberal states to consolidate their gains in the aftermath of war and prevent conflict re occurring Considering historical wars from the nineteenth century to the withdrawal from Afghanistan in 2021 and the war in Ukraine since 2022 Williams explores the continuities and changes within western liberalism in response to war and the encouragement of peace These include in recent times the emergence of neoliberalism a growing revulsion against humanitarian intervention and the evolution of legal attempts to control illiberal regimes He shows how liberalism and the articulation of international norms and institutions sprang out of historical traditions linked to colonialism but also out of a desire to promote liberty and justice He examines the attitudes and practices that have distorted liberalism s essentially emancipatory nature into one that has encouraged hubris in foreign policy and an increasingly divisive set of economic political and social policies He suggests that a new liberal impulse to encourage the spread of democracy and international justice is possible one that returns to a more realistic approach to intervention in international conflicts The book will appeal to scholars and students of war conflict and political theory interested in the historical perceptions at the heart of many of the mistakes made by liberalism in the ending of wars It will also give hope to those who still believe that liberalism can be the organising feature of a just and equitable world order

When God Took Sides Marianne Elliott, 2009-09-24 The struggle between Catholic and Protestant has shaped Irish history since the Reformation with tragic consequences up to the present day But how do Catholics and Protestants in Ireland see each other And how do they view their own communities and what these communities stand for Tracing the history of religious identities in Ireland over the last three centuries Marianne Elliott argues that these two questions are inextricably linked and that the identity of both Catholics and Protestants is shaped by the way that each community views the other Cutting through the layers of myths lies and half truths that make up the vision that Catholics and Protestants have of each other she looks at how mutual religious stereotypes were developed over the centuries how they were perpetuated and entrenched and how they have defined modern identities and shaped Ireland s historical destiny from the independence struggle and partition to the Troubles of the last four decades

The Real Peace Process Siobhan Garrigan, 2016-04-01 The Good Friday Agreement resulted in the cessation of paramilitary violence in Northern Ireland However prejudice and animosity between Protestants and Catholics remains The Real Peace Process draws on extensive fieldwork in Protestant and Catholic churches across Ireland to analyse how Christian worship can become caught up in sectarianism The book examines the need for a peace process that changes hearts and minds and not merely civic structures of their inhabitants Aspects of everyday worship ranging from the spatial and symbolic to the verbal musical and interpersonal are explored as the means by which sectarianism can be challenged and transformed Irish Quaker Hybrid Identities Maria Kennedy,2019-09-02 Dr Kennedy's work is a sociological study of Quakers that investigates the impact that sectarianism has had on identity construction within the Religious Society of Friends in Ireland The research highlights individual Friends complex and hybrid cultural national and theological identities mirrored by the Society's corporate identity This monograph focuses specifically on examples of political and theological hybridity These hybrid identities resulted in tensions which impact on relationships between Friends and the wider organisation How Friends negotiate and accommodate these diverse identities is explored It is argued that Irish Quakers prioritise relational unity and have developed a distinctive approach to complex identity management Kennedy asserts that in the two Irish states Quaker represents a meta identity that is counter cultural in its non sectarianism although this is more problematic within the organisation Furthermore by modelling an alternative non sectarian identity Quakers in Ireland contribute to building capacity for transformation from oppositional binary identities to more fluid and inclusive ones

Encountering Cruelty: The Fracture of the Human Heart Michael Trice,2011-04-21 Drawing on Nietzsche's challenge to the western tradition this book is a theological exploration of cruelty in its personal communal and institutional encounters in human life Cruelty undermines care trust respect and justice and its study opens a window into the theological possibility of reconciliation today Joining in with the Spirit Kirsteen Kim,2013-01-08 Presents an introduction to mission studies the history theology and issues of mission This book also offers a theological framework for mission which applies both globally and locally to help the reader discern the movement of the Spirit of Christ among the many other spirits of this world

Fringe Nations in World Soccer Kausik Bandyopadhyay,Sabyasachi Mallick,2013-09-13 Soccer is the most popular mass spectator sport in the world gaining huge media coverage and reaching all levels of society in countries all around the world More than just entertainment soccer has proved to be a reflection of national cultural community and ethnic identity as well as an indication of the development and international status of post colonial nation states For those nations still at the fringes of the modern global game soccer represents a vision of potential commercialisation capable of generating foreign reserves and bringing in considerable economic power This book explores aspects of the development of soccer in countries which have recently been marginalised in world soccer or have only erratic success on the international stage These fringe nations include a greater part of Africa the USA Australia Israel India Nepal Bhutan Burma Indonesia Thailand Maldives and Sri Lanka and while these countries are rarely noticed by the global football media they nonetheless have great potential to excel and many have a rich soccer heritage that still holds a place of central importance in the every day life of the people This book was previously published as a special issue of Soccer and Society Researching the Troubles Owen Hargie,David Dickson,2003 This volume highlights how for over 30 years the seemingly irreconcilable divisions between the Protestant and Catholic communities in Northern Ireland has spawned a great deal of horrific violence and a total of over 3 700 deaths with the toll of injuries much higher Given this scale of human suffering this collection of essays attempts to understand how and why such conflict occurs and seeks to formulate ways in which it can be overcome It brings together a number of prestigious research projects into cross community conflict and reconciliation funded by the Central Community Relations Unit CCRU in Northern Ireland These have been conducted from within a range of social science disciplines including communication politics psychology and sociology Breaching Derry's Walls Jon Van Til,2008 Breaching Derry s Walls is the first book to examine the island based society of Ireland from the point of view of its Northwest quadrant In particular Derry a city long known as a center for culture plays a central role in Professor Jon Van Til s research Dividing his sections historically pertaining to societies and conflicts Professor Van Til draws upon his personal experience as a Fulbright scholar to provide a fresh and original way of conceptualizing Ireland and all its facets Appealing to students and conflict specialists this book implements a new vantage point for understanding the Northern Ireland region
