Moving On Nelson, 1983 Moving On D. C. Heath Canada, Limited, Houghton Mifflin Company (School Division), 1983

Moving On Mildred Hart Bailey, Sandra F. Maccarone, D.C. Heath and Company, 1983 Playing the Race Card Linda Williams, 2020-10-06 The black man suffering at the hands of whites the white woman sexually threatened by the black man Both images have long been burned into the American conscience through popular entertainment and today they exert a powerful and disturbing influence on Americans understanding of race So argues Linda Williams in this boldly inquisitive book where she probes the bitterly divisive racial sentiments aroused by such recent events as O J Simpson s criminal trial Williams the author of Hard Core explores how these images took root beginning with melodramatic theater where suffering characters acquire virtue through victimization The racial sympathies and hostilities that surfaced during the trial of the police in the beating of Rodney King and in the O J Simpson murder trial are grounded in the melodramatic forms of Uncle Tom s Cabin and The Birth of a Nation Williams finds that Stowe s beaten black man and Griffith s endangered white woman appear repeatedly throughout popular entertainment promoting interracial understanding at one moment interracial hate at another The black and white racial melodrama has galvanized emotions and fueled the importance of new media forms such as serious integrated musicals of stage and film including The Jazz Singer and Show Boat It also helped create a major event out of the movie Gone With the Wind while enabling television to assume new moral purpose with the broadcast of Roots Williams demonstrates how such developments converged to make the televised race trial a form of national entertainment When prosecutor Christopher Darden accused Simpson s defense team of playing the race card which ultimately trumped his own team s gender card he feared that the jury s sympathy for a targeted black man would be at the expense of the abused white wife The jury s verdict Williams concludes was determined not so much by facts as by the cultural forces of racial melodrama long in the making Revealing melodrama to be a key element in American culture Williams argues that the race images it has promoted are deeply ingrained in our minds and that there can be no honest discussion about race until Americans recognize this predicament Modern American Reading Practices P. Being Moved by Moving Words Joseph

Bessler, 2025-02-14 There are many fine philosophical and theological engagements with the works of John Caputo He is one of our most serious philosophical theologians But he's also hilariously funny To read Caputo is to encounter someone who wants to move you to grasp your attention your humor your creativity because what he's looking for is not another philosophical couch potato He's looking for someone who's open to being moved to put down the book even his book especially his book and risk reaching out to help another one who is other one at the margins of this culture He's interested in the kind of courage that there is far too little of and conventional religion he suggests has more than its share of the blame The more familiar one becomes with his work the more one wonders why Caputo in all his emphasis upon hermeneutics and responsiveness to the call of the other seemed not to see or perhaps want to claim the many rhetorical gifts in his possession the many rhetorical gifts at work in his writing Even as Caputo is a master of all things hermeneutical he claims ignorance on all things rhetorical viewing the word itself through an old lens of adding mere ornamentation what he calls rouge to beautify the basic claim Bringing the last forty years of work in rhetorical studies to bear on Caputo's texts the author has written this book in hopes of convincing Caputo and his many students that he made whether he sees it or not what can only be called the Rhetorical Turn in philosophy and theology Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, 1975 Improvised Continent Richard Cándida Smith, 2017-09-28 In Improvised Continent Richard Cándida Smith synthesizes over seventy years of Pan American cultural activity in the United States and shows how Latin American artists and writers challenged U.S. citizens about their place in the world and about the kind of global relations the country's interests could allow Scientific American Reader to Accompany Hockenbury/Hockenbury Scientific American, 2000-06-30 Drawn from Scientific American and handpicked by the Hockenburys this reader is a collection of 9 articles that pertain to topics covered in the textbook A brief preface and series of discussion questions written by Don and Sandra Hockenbury accompany each article The American Reader Joseph Richardson, 1810 The Reader's Digest DeWitt Wallace, Lila Acheson Wallace, 1927 (Re-)Framing the Arab/Muslim Silke Schmidt, 2014-10-15 Media depictions of Arabs and Muslims continue to be framed by images of camels belly dancers and dagger wearing terrorists But do only Hollywood movies and TV news have the power to frame public discourse This interdisciplinary study transfers media framing theory to literary studies to show how life writing re frames Orientalist stereotypes The innovative analysis of the post 9/11 autobiographies West of Kabul East of New York Letters from Cairo and Howling in Mesopotamia makes a powerful claim to approach literature based on a theory of production and reception thus enhancing the multidisciplinary potential of framing theory Cobb's New North American Reader, Or, Fifth Reading Book Lyman Cobb, 1853
