Moving Home Lets Play:

Let's Play Two Ron Rapoport, 2019-03-26 The definitive and revealing biography of Chicago Cubs legend Ernie Banks one of America's most iconic beloved and misunderstood baseball players by acclaimed journalist Ron Rapoport Ernie Banks the first ballot Hall of Famer and All Century Team shortstop played in fourteen All Star Games won two MVPs and twice led the Major Leagues in home runs and runs batted in He outslugged Willie Mays Hank Aaron and Mickey Mantle when they were in their prime but while they made repeated World Series appearances in the 1950s and 60s Banks spent his entire career with the woebegone Chicago Cubs who didn't win a pennant in his adult lifetime Today Banks is remembered best for his signature phrase Let's play two which has entered the American lexicon and exemplifies the enthusiasm that endeared him to fans everywhere But Banks's public display of good cheer was a mask that hid a deeply conflicted melancholy and often quite lonely man Despite the poverty and racism he endured as a young man he was among the star players of baseball's early days of integration who were reluctant to speak out about Civil Rights Being known as one of the greatest players never to reach the World Series also took its toll At one point Banks even saw a psychiatrist to see if that would help It didn't Yet Banks smiled through it all enduring the scorn of Cubs manager Leo Durocher as an aging superstar and never uttering a single complaint Let's Play Two is based on numerous conversations with Banks and on interviews with more than a hundred of his family members teammates friends and associates as well as oral histories court records and thousands of other documents and sources Together they explain how Banks was so different from the caricature he created for the public The book tells of Banks's early life in segregated Dallas his years in the Negro Leagues and his difficult life after retirement and features compelling portraits of Buck O'Neil Philip K Wrigley the Bleacher Bums the doomed pennant race of 1969 and much more from a long lost baseball era

C'Mon, Let's Play! Dee G. Suberla, 2020-12-08 Dee confesses to us that she has numb spots in her brain that have always played a key role in her life even to this day She shares her approach to making some life changing choices on how she became a hippie in the late 60s and early 70s to her decision to retire early from her corporate job and how she moved through breast cancer After recovery all she could think about was that song Is That All There Is Dee finally took action and discovered a massive amount of existing information on how to achieve your dreams and find peace in this wild ride called life Her use of self-deprecating humor combined with the fact that she was born to play helps the reader try some of these methods to change their lives It takes work to make a real change but it doesn't have to feel like work so C'mon Let's Play

Assessment in Residential Care for Children and Youth Roy Rodenhiser, 2013-09-13 Residential treatment for children and youth RTCY programs not only need to be explored for the efficacy of the programs but also in the actual assessment of various aspects of those programs. Assessment in Residential Care for Children and Youth provides practical information on the placement of children in residential care programs, the efficacy of those programs, staff issues, and outcomes for youths in the programs. Respected authorities examine issues on assessment upon entering residential care, treatment issues during care, and programmatic concerns from a larger systems perspective. Unlike other resources on this topic, this book uniquely focuses solely on assessment. The book comprehensively offers strategies and practical assessment tools addressing the full spectrum of issues from the child's or youth's entrance in residential care to their exit, such as placement, treatment, and outcomes. This valuable text is extensively referenced and includes helpful figures and tables to clearly present data. Topics discussed include assessment processes and tools to enhance therapeutic childcare interventions, the unique needs of GBL youth in residential care settings, a strengths-based assessment tool developed specifically for use in juvenile justice programs, staff satisfaction rates as compared to client satisfaction, development of the Staff Implementation Observation Form that assesses staff competence, delivering an intervention to youth in group home care with behavioral disorders, differences in two residential care giving models in providing continuity of care for youth in residential placement, an assessment technique that uses the point of view of children. This book is a valuable resource for Residential Administrators, program directors and coordinators, counselors, and staff who have a role in assessing residential treatment programs for children and youth at any level. This book was published as a special issue of Residential Treatment for Children and Youth.
