Mozambiquepa Dream Undone:

Mozambique Bertil Egero, 1987-09-01 Transforming Mozambique M. Anne Pitcher, 2002-11-14 Many of the economic transformations in Africa have been as dramatic as those in Eastern Europe Yet much of the comparative literature on transitions has overlooked African countries This 2002 study of Mozambique s shift from a command to a market economy draws on a wealth of empirical material including archival sources interviews political posters and corporate advertisements to reveal that the state is a central actor in the reform process despite the claims of neo liberals and their critics Alongside the state social forces from World Bank officials to rural smallholders have also accelerated thwarted or shaped change in Mozambique M Anne Pitcher offers an intriguing analysis of the dynamic interaction between previous and emerging agents ideas and institutions to explain the erosion of socialism and the politics of privatization in a developing country She demonstrates that Mozambique s political economy is a heterogenous blend of ideological and institutional continuities and ruptures

The Morality of Revolution Benedito Luís Machava, 2024-12-10 The Morality of Revolution offers the first historical examination of urban cleanup campaigns and reeducation camps in socialist Mozambique The book presents the camps as the template for independent Mozambique s punitive society under Frelimo Individuals who transgressed the law and socialist normative codes of behavior were targeted by the revolutionary party which obsessively pursued putative wrongdoers in an effort to build a new society from the ruins of Portuguese colonialism Benedito Lu s Machava argues that the socialist experiment while ushering in an era of economic development and social progress sought also to remake the moral fabric of Mozambican society At play was the contradictory combination of high modernist socialist aspirations and conservative anxieties rooted in a moralist reading of society From its inception in 1974 to its demise in the late 1980s the reeducation program was a do it yourself enterprise The Frelimo government unable to finance and support the carceral regime expected its agents and the detainees to carry out the ambitious project on their own Without material and human resources to run the program state officials compelled detainees to build their own detention facilities to grow their own food to enforce their own political education and in many ways to oversee their own incarceration The state s incapacity to translate the salvationist ideas of reeducation into planned action a general feature of the socialist experiment in Mozambique produced spaces of social neglect and castigation that negatively affected both the inmates and the personnel tasked with disciplining and reeducating them

The Taming of Fate Macamo, Elisio S., 2017-07-05 This book is about how extreme situations appearing to have a destructive potential can actually be used to produce meaningful individual and social lives It is about the taming of fate This notion means and accounts for the ability of individuals and communities to rebuild their lives against all odds The book is based on case studies that draw from theoretical insights derived from the sociology of disasters It addresses some limitations of the sociology of risk chief among which is the rejection of the relevance of the notion of risk to the study of technologically non advanced societies The book argues that this rejection has deprived the study of the human condition of an important analytical asset The book claims that risk is a property of social action which can best be understood through the analytical scrutiny of its role in the historical constitution of social relations A

West, 2005-09-05 On the Mueda plateau in northern Mozambique sorcerers are said to feed on their victims sometimes making lions or transforming into lions to literally devour their flesh When the ruling FRELIMO party subscribed to socialism it condemned sorcery beliefs and counter sorcery practices as false consciousness but since undertaking neoliberal reform the party still in power after three electoral cycles has tolerated tradition leaving villagers to interpret and engage with events in the idiom of sorcery Now when the lions prowl plateau villages suspected sorcerers are often lynched In this historical ethnography of sorcery Harry G West draws on a decade of fieldwork and combines the perspectives of anthropology and political science to reveal how Muedans expect responsible authorities to monitor the invisible realm of sorcery and to overturn or as Muedans call it kupilikula sorcerers destructive attacks by practicing a constructive form of counter sorcery themselves Kupilikula argues that where neoliberal policies have fostered social division rather than security and prosperity Muedans have in fact used sorcery discourse to assess and sometimes overturn reforms advancing alternative visions of a world transformed

Paving the Way Ronald J. Fisher, 2005-01-04 This first of a kind collection brings together in one volume the strongest available evidence of successful transfer effects from unofficial third party work to official peacemaking Using comparative case analysis from several real world interventions Paving the Way offers insights into the conditions and qualities of successful programs of interactive conflict resolution from experts in the field Editor Ronald J Fisher has assembled a collection of seminal case studies that illustrate interactive approaches to conflict resolution from the Malaysia Indonesia conflict in the 1960s to the Peru Equador peace process of the late 1990s Integrating theory research and practice the cases posit that interactive conflict resolution can make a significant and sometimes essential contribution to the resolution of protracted and violent identity conflicts The methods and solutions offered in Paving the Way will serve as best practices for those in the field and as training tools and resources for scholars and policymakers

Apartheid's Contras William Minter, 1994 It also outlines a new kind of Third World warfare neither classic guerrilla warfare nor straightforward external aggression instead one comprising elements of civil war but dominated by the initiatives of external powers

The Winds of History Andreas Zeman, 2023-10-24 Based on extensive archival research in six countries and intensive fieldwork the book analyzes the history of the village of Nkhlongue on the eastern Mozambican shores of Lake Malawi from the time of its formation in the 19th century to the present day The study uses Nkhlongue as a microhistorical lens to examine such diverse topics as the slave trade the spread of Islam colonization subsistence production counter insurgency decolonization civil war ecotourism and matriliney Thereby the book attempts to reflect as much as possible on the generalizability and global comparability of local findings by framing analyses in historiographical discussions that aim to go beyond the regional or national level Although the chapters of the book deal with very different topics they are united by a common interest in the social history of rural Africa in the longue dur e Contrary to persistent clich s of rural inertia in Africa the book as a whole underscores the profound changeability of social conditions and relations in Nkhlongue over the years and highlights how people s room for maneuver kept changing as a result of the Winds of History the frequent and often violent ruptures brought to the village from outside

The Globalization Syndrome James H. Mittelman, 2000-02-28 Here James Mittelman explains the systemic dynamics and myriad consequences of globalization focusing on the interplay between globalizing market forces in some instances guided by the state and the needs of society Mittelman finds that globalization is hardly a unified phenomenon but rather a syndrome of processes and activities a set of ideas and a policy framework More specifically globalization is propelled by a changing division of labor and power manifested in a new regionalism and challenged by fledgling resistance movements The author argues that a more complete understanding of globalization requires an appreciation of its cultural dimensions From this perspective he considers the voices of those affected by this trend including those who resist it and particularly those who are hurt by it The Globalization Syndrome is among the first books to present a holistic and multilevel analysis of globalization connecting the economic to the political and cultural joining agents and multiple structures and interrelating different local regional and global arenas Mittelman's findings are drawn mainly from the non Western worlds He provides a cross regional analysis of Eastern Asia an epicenter of globalization and Southern Africa a key node in the most marginalized continent The evidence shows that while offering many benefits to some globalization has become an uneasy correlation of deep tensions giving rise to a range of alternative scenarios

Communities at the Margin Alan Jeeves, Owen J. M. Kalinga, 2002 The practice of social history is particularly advanced by the publication of collective volumes each consisting of fairly diverse studies An outstanding feature of these publications is the comprehensive introductions

Africa South of the Sahara 2003 Europa Publications, 2002-10-31 A one volume library of essential and comprehensive data on all the countries of sub Saharan Africa including essays on regional issues statistical surveys and directories of invaluable contact names and addresses

The Origins of War in Mozambique Funada-Classen Sayaka, 2012-04 The book focuses on an area called Ma a not because I believe Ma a represents the whole of Mozambique as such but because highlighting a specific area and people helps to understand the Mozambican history more deeply and comprehensively In any case it would be impossible to study the experience of all Mozambicans I am not attempting to write a history textbook of Mozambique or a glorious history of the liberation struggle but rather trying to fill a gap in the descriptions of contemporary Mozambican history by delving into matters that have not been written about before

The Politics of Africa's Economic Recovery Richard Sandbrook, 1993-04 The waning of the Cold War means that major political powers no longer feel compelled to support African authoritarianism Revised official consensus holds that in Africa as elsewhere political reform must accompany economic adjustment According to this view African recovery requires a reduction in the size and economic role of monopolistic and inefficient states and their transformation into accountable liberal democracies Is this a desirable and practicable political programme Certainly all over Africa the number of liberal democracies is growing But can they survive and are they compatible with renewed economic growth Richard Sandbrook answers these questions and assesses the feasibility of the new political programme in reinforcing Africa's economic recovery He argues that the programme has merit in the short term but in the longer term a more self reliant state directed approach should be adopted to ensure prosperity and durable democracy in the region Contesting Global Order James H. Mittelman, 2011-02-25 Contesting Global Order traces dominant values and patterns on a world level over the last half century Including a framing introduction written for the volume this book presents James H Mittelman s most influential essays It offers cross regional analysis drawing on his fieldwork in nine countries in Africa and Asia This research explores mechanisms by which prevailing knowledge about global order is implicated in its deep tensions chiefly the impetus for development and global governance embodies aspirations for attaining wellbeing and upholding human dignity yet market and state driven globalization embraces basic ideas inscribed in power thus increasing vulnerability and making the world more insecure Rather than exalt one element in this quandary over another Mittelman shows how different aspects of the relationship collide Examining cases of specific localities international organizations and social movements this grounded study unveils evolving structures that shape our times It projects scenarios for future global order and how to make it work for the have nots Mittelman consistently forges a critical perspective throughout this collection His reflections cut against conventions in international studies and more generally global order This volume will be of great interest to all students and practitioners of development global governance and globalization Labour Export Policy in the Development of Southern Africa Bill Paton, 1994-12-19 The book s broad theme is that the evolution of the power to control labour flows among different territorial jurisdictions was of major importance in the formation of a system of states Labour export policy in eight countries in Southern Africa is examined over roughly the century 1890 1990 in Botswana Lesotho Malawi Mozambique Swaziland Tanzania Zambia and Zimbabwe The proportion of the total population absent working in another country is graphed for each and combined over the same period
