The Dream of Arcady Lucinda Hardwick MacKethan, 1999-03-01 This is a well organized gracefully written account of a significant aspect of Southern fiction and it contains information and incisive commentary that one can find nowhere else Thomas Daniel Young Many southern writers imagined the South as a qualified dream of Arcady They retained the glow of the golden land as a device to expose or rebuke to confront or escape the complexities of the actual times in which they lived The Dream of Arcady examines the work of post Civil War southern writers who criticize the myth of the South as pastoral paradise Sooner or later in all their idealized worlds the idyllic vision fades in an inescapable moment of awakening This moment which is central to MacKethan s study produces an atmosphere pastoral in mood and implications Her perspective analysis juxtaposes the responses of Sidney Lanier Joel Chandler Harris and Thomas Nelson Page who contributed to yet hope to transcend sectionalism with the ambivalent views of black writers Charles Chesnutt and Jean Toomer Considering the writings of the Agrarians William Faulkner and Eudora Welty MacKethan then concludes her study by questioning whether the Arcadian dream still serves the artist of our era as a frame for artistic and ideological purposes

Return Migrants in Hong Kong, Singapore and Israel Kwok-bun Chan, Wai-wan Vivien Chan, 2021-01-07 This insightful volume explores the experiences of ethnic migrants returning to Hong Kong Singapore and Israel Return migrants who were exposed to the western culture and society undergo personal transformations that significantly impact their views on values such as gender individualism democracy tradition and individual autonomy To evaluate how well these individuals are able to reintegrate back into their native countries the authors conducted a thorough comparative study between returnees in the three research sites through in depth interviews ethnographic fieldwork and analyses of government policies Among the topics discussed Family as a strategic middle ground between the individual and society The social psychology of coping and adaptation Public outer historical and macro forces that shape returnees experiences Comparisons and contrasts between two primarily Chinese societies along with one racially and culturally different Western society Cost and benefit analyses of decision making in migration Return Migrants in Hong Kong Singapore and Israel is a compelling new perspective on the migrant experience drawn from in depth research on returnees across three countries and a variety of circumstances

Hybrid Hong Kong Kwok-bun Chan, 2013-09-13 Hybrid Hong Kong attempts to attract and excite the intellectual cultural economic and political elites as well as the intelligent laymen of Hong Kong hopefully enough for them to take a closer look at their society while engendering a public discourse on the city s identity its past present and future Hong Kong is at its crossroads With a colonial past and having been handed over and back to China in 1997 the city has since been going through a process of re sinification and re integration not entirely wanted into the Pearl River Delta region of mainland China all of which have far reaching consequences for identity politics culture loyalty and attachment and everyday livelihood The hybridity concept offers an in between space and time to narrate describe and make sense of the many layers of entanglement of cultural anthropological economic and political forces that impinge impact sometimes confuse even disturb the everyday lives of the Hongkongers who have decided to call the city home The book probes a range of sites and locales of a Hongkonger s natural habitat including film and television ethnicity popular music videos gay identities fashion art theatre Cantopop electronic dance music museum visual arts the Muslim youth food and cuisine and Chinese and western medicines Based on ethnography fieldwork and participant observation Hybrid Hong Kong intends to display and explain hybridity as it is performed in the public as well as private spheres of city life This book was originally published as a special issue of Visual Anthropology

Race and Nature from

Transcendentalism to the Harlem Renaissance P. Outka, 2016-04-30 Drawing on theories of sublimity trauma and ecocriticism this book examines how the often sharp division between European American and African American experiences of the natural world developed in American culture and history and how those natural experiences in turn shaped the construction of race
